NOTIFICATION—No. 995A.—D.

The 30th September 1897.—The following rules for the examination for admission to the Executive Branch of the Provincial Civil Service and to the Subordinate Civil Service, to be held in 1898, are published for general information:—

1. An examination of candidates for appointment as Deputy Collectors and Magistrates and as Sub-Deputy Collectors will be held in Calcutta in March 1898, on dates to be notified hereafter.

2. All candidates for examination shall apply in writing to the Under-Secretary in the Appointment Department not later than the 1st of February 1898. The application shall be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 20 and by certificates to the following effect:—

(1) That on the date fixed for the examination the candidate's age will not exceed 25 years. This certificate should be supported by the candidate's horoscope, or, if the horoscope cannot, for sufficient reason, be produced, by other sufficient evidence, such as the sworn affidavit of a near relation. This condition of age may be relaxed, on sufficient grounds being shown, in favor of persons already in the Government service, who may be considered suitable candidates for these appointments.

(2) That he is of good moral character.

(3) That he has passed the B.A. examination of the Calcutta University, or that he has received an education not below the standard of such examination.

(4) That he is of active habits and able to ride. The certificate must be signed by a District Officer (or, in his absence from head-quarters, by the Joint-Magistrate in charge), or by the Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner of Police, Calcutta. The certificates of the preceding year will in no case be accepted, and fresh certificates must be produced.

Each candidate shall also submit a statement showing the landed property owned by him, or in which he may have any interest, or which may be held by and managed by his wife or by any other member of his family, living with or any way dependent on him.

The Lieutenant-Governor may, at his discretion, call for such additional proof as he may think fit in reference to any of the above points.

3. No candidate, who is already serving under another Government, will be allowed to compete, unless he obtains the previous permission of that Government.

4. The subjects of examination and the marks to be awarded will, until further orders, be as follows:—

(a) English.—The examination will be so arranged as to test a candidate's ability to write correct and idiomatic English, and will include précis-writing and letter-drafting. In awarding marks in these papers, great weight will be attached to good and legible handwriting.

(b) Vernacular.—Candidates will be examined in one of the following languages at their option:—Bengali, Urdu, Hindi and Uriya. The examination will include—

(1) Translation into English of proceedings, petitions, reports, &c., written in manuscript.

(2) Translation from English into the vernacular selected.

(c) Law—

(1) Regulation I of 1793 and Field's Introduction to the Regulations, Act VIII of 1885; Regulation VII of 1822; Act I of 1894.

(2) The Penal Code; the Code of Criminal Procedure; the Code of Civil Procedure; the Evidence Act.

(d) Surveying.—Survey and Mensuration.

The marks will be given on the following scale:—

English	...	...	...	300
Vernacular	...	...	...	100
Law	...	...	...	300
Surveying	...	...	...	100
		Total	...	800

5. A medical certificate in the form annexed will be required from each selected candidate after the examination and before he joins service as a probationer. The certificate will be granted by a Presidency Surgeon, viz., the professor of Midwifery, Medical College, Calcutta, on the requisition of the Under-Secretary to Government, to whom applications should be made. In the event of the opinion of the medical officer being unfavourable to the candidate, an appeal will lie to the Medical Board, and the decision of the Board will be final.

6. It is at present proposed to select three candidates for Deputy Collectorships and four for Sub-Deputy Collectorships. These will at first be appointed as probationers on a subsistence allowance of Rs. 50 and Rs. 30 a month, respectively. Two of the probationers for Deputy Collectorships will be appointed from the first two candidates on the list in order of merit; and one will be selected by the Lieutenant-Governor from among those who have obtained a minimum of one-third of the total marks. From the remainder of those qualified by obtaining one-third of the marks, the Lieutenant-Governor will select four more candidates as probationers for Sub-Deputy Collectorships.

7. No probationer will be appointed to officiate as a Deputy Collector and Magistrate or as a Sub-Deputy Collector, unless he has given satisfactory proof, during his period of probation, of physical and mental capacity and of general good conduct. He must, before appointment, afford such further evidence of his ability to ride as may be required.

NOTIFICATIONS OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE.

NOTICE.

THE following instructions, which have been framed by the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, under the orders of the Governor-General in Council, for the guidance of Collectors of Customs, in deciding the duty to be levied on imported spirits said to have been rendered unfit for human consumption, for which the reduced rate of duty is claimed under Schedule III (1) of the Tariff Act, are published for general information:—

1. When a sample of spirit, imported by sea and said to have been rendered unfit for human consumption, has been sent to the Chemical Examiner for report in accordance with rule 1 of the rules made under section 155 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, the report shall state the composition of the spirit, the nature of the ingredient used for methylation, and the proportion which such material bears by volume to the spirit methylated; and shall include a note intimating whether, in the opinion of the Chemical Examiner, the spirit has or has not been rendered effectually and permanently unfit for hu man consumption.

2. If the ingredient used for methylation is reported to be caoutchoucine, and if it has been mixed with the spirit in the proportion of not less than one part by volume of the caoutchoucine to 99 parts by volume of the spirit calculated at the strength of 30 per cent. over proof, the Collector shall ordinarily pass the spirit so methylated at the reduced rate of duty.

3. If the ingredient used for methylation is reported to be wood naptha, the Collector may in his discretion specially pass the spirit at the reduced rate of duty if he is satisfied that it is required for a purpose for which caoutchoucined spirits are not suited, and that it will be used after admission in such a way that there will be no danger of its passing into consumption as potable spirit.

4. In all other cases the Collector shall refuse to pass the spirit at the reduced rate of duty.

All Civil, Naval, and Military Officers, Members of the Consular body, Gentlemen whose names are borne on the Government House List, or who have already been presented at the Court of St. James, and Native Officers of the Native Regiments of the Garrison are invited to attend.

Gentlemen who propose to attend the Levée are requested to send their cards to the Aide-de-Camp in Waiting not later than Saturday, the 4th December 1897, after which date no cards will be received, and to bring with them to the Levée two cards with their names clearly written on them—one to be given on entering Government House, and the other to the Aide-de-Camp in Waiting at the time of presentation.

Gentlemen who propose to present others must send in in writing for approval the names of such Gentlemen to the Aide-de-Camp in Waiting not later than Saturday, the 4th December, when, if they are approved, presentation cards will be forwarded.

Gentlemen who present others must themselves attend the Levée.

Gentlemen wearing uniform will appear in full dress.

Gentlemen not entitled to wear uniform will appear in evening dress.

Clergymen being University Graduates and other gentlemen entitled to wear robes or gowns on account of judicial or academical office or status should appear in such robes or gowns.

The carriages of Gentlemen having the Private Entree will enter by the South-West Gate, and set down at the South Entrance of Government House.

All other carriages will enter by the North-East Gate, set down under the Grand Stairs, and pass out by the North-West Gate.

The 1st October 1897.

No. 12907 M.—Their Excellencies the Viceroy and the Countess of Elgin will hold a Drawing Room at Government House, Calcutta, on Saturday, the 18th December 1897, at 9-30 P.M.

Ladies whose names are borne on the Government House List, or who have already been presented at the Court of St. James, proposing to attend the Drawing Room are requested to send their cards to the Aide-de-Camp in Waiting not later than Wednesday, the 8th December 1897, after which date no cards will be received, and to bring with them to the Drawing Room two cards with their names clearly written on them—one to be given on entering Government House, and the other to the Aide-de-Camp in waiting at the time of presentation.

Ladies who propose to present others must send in writing for approval the names of such ladies to the Aide-de-Camp in waiting, not later than Wednesday, the 8th December, when, if they are approved, presentation cards will be forwarded.

Ladies who present others must themselves attend the Drawing Room.

Ladies attending the Drawing Room will appear in full dress, but need not wear trains or feathers.

Only Gentlemen having the Private Entree themselves, and accompanying Ladies to the Private Entree, will be admitted to the Throne Room.

Gentlemen accompanying Ladies by the Public Entree will leave them at the Entrance to the Eastern Gallery and rejoin them in the Ball Room.

The carriages of those who have the Private Entree will enter by the South-West Gate, and set down at the South Entrance of Government House.

All other carriages will enter by the North-East Gate, set down under the Grand Stairs and pass out by the North-West Gate.

By Command,
A. DURAND, Colonel,

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

The first five volumes and Vol. VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is Rs. 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made); packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, Rs. 2-6 per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross-references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product, even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal 8vo. pages; Vol. II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Vol. III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G.; Vol. IV latter half of G to middle of L; and Vol. V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI); but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a Glossary of the Vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

AUSTRALIA, EAST COAST—WOLLONGONG HARBOUR.

Amended colours of lights.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 529 of 1897) that the light shown from the extremity of Wollongong breakwater is a fixed white light, and not fixed red as shown in the Admiralty publications.

Approximate position, lat. 34° 25′ 20″ S., long. 150° 56′ 0″ E.

Also, that the light, shown from lower part of the north-east side of the light-house when it is dangerous for vessels to enter the harbour, is a green light and not a red light.

BAY OF BENGAL—CHITTAGONG COAST.

Chittagong river—Depth of water in the river channels.

THE Port Officer, Chittagong, has given notice that the following depth of water was found in the river channels by soundings taken on 28th ultimo and reduced to zero:—

	Ft.	In.
Track No. 1.—Outer bar:—
Middle and Upper black buoys in one	12	6
Track No. 2.—Inner bar:—
Disc on Diamond	11	3
Track No. 3—
Tripod on cross and ball	20	0
Track No. 4—
Triangle on tripod, cask and ball	22	0
Track No. 5.—Guptakhally crossing:—

N.B.—Soundings show the Outer and Inner bars to be lumpy. Vessels inward bound should not remain in No. 2 Track after getting tripod on with cross and ball (No. 3 Track), as the sands off the Guptakhally side, opposite the two Juldia black buoys, are extending further to the southward.

PACIFIC OCEAN—NEW HEBRIDES ISLANDS.

Tongoa island—Active volcanic shoal on Laika bank.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 505 of 1897) of the existence of a volcanic shoal which had been in a state of eruption, throwing up red hot stones and smoke, for a period of three weeks previous to the 18th June 1897 :—

This shoal, consisting of sand and a few lava stones on top, was awash on 21st June, and appeared to be steep-to on its southern and western sides, with shoal water extending for about a mile east-south-eastward from it.

It is situated on the northern part of Laika bank, northward of Tongoa island, with Tevala island summit (324) bearing N. 36° E., distant 9 cables; and Boiling point S. 46° E.

Approximate position: lat. 16° 49′ 50″ S., long. 168° 32′ 15″ E.

The symbol for a rock awash at low water springs, with the words "Active Volcano, 1897," written against it, have been placed in the above position on the Admiralty Chart; and the words "Reported dangerous" have been written under Laika bank.

CHINA, EAST COAST—LIAU RIVER.

Light-vessel lights, wrecks, buoy and beacon.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners No. 154, dated 8th August 1896, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 506 of 1897) that:—

1. The light vessel at the entrance of Liau river, exhibited, at the above date, a red light placed vertically over a white light, at each yardarm.

   Approximate position: lat. 40° 34′ N., long. 122° 0½′ E.

2. The sunken wreck, shown in a position bearing south, distant $7\frac{1}{10}$ miles, from the light-vessel, has disappeared, and has been expunged from the charts.
3. A sunken wreck, no part of which shows above water, lies in a depth of 6 fathoms, in a position with the light-vessel bearing N. E. by E. ½ E., distant 2½ miles; and Tower hill S. S. E. ½ E.
4. The entrance buoy (black, &c.) has been moved to the southward, and is now moored in a depth of 16 feet at low water ordinary springs with the light-vessel bearing W. ¾ N., distant $2\frac{7}{10}$ miles.
5. The Pilot beacon (pole and cage), previously standing on the northern part of the East bank, has disappreared.

Dangers eastward of Sir James Hall group.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 512 of 1897) of the existence of the undermentioned dangers :—

1. A rock, which dries at low water, was seen about three-quarters of a mile northward of Three rocks, westward of Kerrin Do.

   Approximate position: lat. 37° 49½′ N., long. 124° 56¾′ E.

2. Rocks which dry at low water, extend nearly one mile, N. W. by W. ½ W., from the point on the mainland, in approximately lat. 37° 59′ 10″ N., long. 125° 3′ 20″ E.
3. A rock, about a quarter of a cable in extent, which dries at low water neaps, is situated about half a mile north-eastward of the above point.

Alterations in buoys marking telegraph cable.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 471 of 1897) that the undermentioned alterations have been made in the buoys making the direction of the telegraph cable in Kingscote harbour, Nepean bay:—

1. A new perch buoy, painted green, has been moored in Kingscote harbour in approximately lat. 35° 40′ 0″ S., long. 137° 39′ 50″ E.
2. The red perch buoy, previously moored at the southern extremity of the dry spit southward of Beatrice island, has been withdrawn.
3. The colour of the bell buoy, moored in approximately lat. 35° 41½ S., long. 137° 42½′ E., has been altered from red to green.

NOTE.—Vessels should anchor well northward or southward of the line joining these buoys and the beacons at Kingscote.

Alterations in Storm Signals.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 476 of 1897) that the Storm Signals shown from the mast in front of the Police barracks at Kau lung have been altered to be in accordance with those shown in the United Kingdom (except 3), as follows:—

1. NORTHERLY GALES:—A cone, point upwards, indicates that strong winds are probable from the northward or eastward.
2. SOUTHERLY GALES:—A cone, point downwards, indicates that strong winds are probable from the southward or westward.
3. VERY HEAVY GALES:—A drum may be hoisted, in addition to the cone, when a heavy gale, possibly reaching typhoon force, is probable; the cone indicating the direction from which it is approaching.

   A gun, situated close to the mast, is fired whenever the drum is hoisted.
4. NIGHT SIGNALS:—By night, signals 1 and 2 only are given, by means of three lights (all white, or all some other colour) placed triangularly; the single light upwards for signal 1 and downwards for signal 2.

Sendai bay—Dangers in approach to Matsushima bay.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 495 of 1897) that, in a recent survey of the Ishihama entrance to Matsushima bay, many new dangers have been found:—

1. One, in lat. 38° 16′ 15″ N., long. 141° 9′ 50″ E., is a rock with less than 6 feet water on it.
2. Jinotaka ne, formerly known as Naka ne, in lat. 38° 17′ 50″ N., long. 141° 9′ 15″ E., has a depth of 1¼ fathoms on it.
3. Okinotaka ne, a new rock which with Jinotaka ne forms Naka ne, has a least depth of 2¾ fathoms on it with 4¾ fathoms to the south-eastward.

FIRST FORECAST OF BHADOI CROP, 1897.

THE following is published for general information.

M. FINUCANE,

The 5th October 1897. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First Report on the Bhadoi Crops in Bengal, 1897.

Explanatory.—The classification of crops adopted in the present Report is the same as was followed in the Final Report on the bhadoi crops, in Bengal, 1896.

The crops, of which estimates of area and outturn are furnished in this Note, are:—

(1) Bhadoi food-crops comprising bhadoi paddy, jowar, bajra, mandua, maize, other bhadoi cereals and pulses and other bhadoi food-crops, such as, vegetables, and (2) bhadoi non-food crops, viz., jute, cotton, indigo, til, sunn hemp and others Among the bhadoi food-crops, the most important are bhadoi paddy, Indian-corn and millets; these, with other bhadoi food-crops, make up four-fifths of the total area under all bhadoi crops. Bhadoi paddy is chiefly grown in Bengal and Orissa, and maize and millets predominate in Bihar and Chota Nagpur. Bhadoi paddy occupies about 45 per cent. of the total bhadoi area. Of bhadoi non-food-crops, the chief are jute, indigo and cotton; about these crops, it is not necessary to make any special remarks here, as estimates of their area and outturn are published in special Notes.

2. Conditions of rainfall necessary for good bhadoi crops.—The prospects of the bhadoi crops are dependent upon the rainfall from April to September, and especially upon the rainfall from the middle of May onwards. The ante-monsoon showers of April are very necessary to prepare the land for the cultivation of the bhadoi crops. Rain is required at this time at frequent intervals, but should not be copious and continuous. The bhadoi paddy crop is generally sown in May. Heavy rain at this time and in the month following is, therefore, injurious to the sowing and successful germination on the crop. Scattered showers, with intervals of sunshine, of the other hand, are very useful, inasmuch as they permit of weeding operations being carried out successfully, and enable the plants to put forth a vigorous growth. The next important stage in the growth of the bhadoi rice crop is when it begins to flower in the month of August. Rain, though not on an excessive scale, is necessary now to develop and bring the crop to maturity. Indian corn and most of the millets are generally sown about a month later than bhadoi paddy. Heavy rain, therefore, in June and July retard the sowing and germination of these crops. Showers at intervals in July and August are very favourable to their growth.

3. Character of the bhadoi season of 1897.—In April, South-West Bengal, Bihar and Chota Nagpur received more than the usual amount of rain. In East and North Bengal, there was a large defect. In Orissa, the fall was practically normal. In May, the rainfall was considerably below the normal in all Divisions except North Bengal, where it was a little above the normal. In June, the rainfall was very deficient in North Bengal; it was in excess in Bihar and near to the normal in other parts of these Provinces. A feature of this month was the very heavy fall which occurred on the 24th to 26th over parts of Bihar. A break in the rains commenced on the 29th of June, and continued almost up to the end of the first week of July. After this, the rainfall was well distributed throughout the month. The total rainfall of the Province in July was, however, below the normal, except in Orissa. The distribution of rainfall in August was unusually uniform and without break over the whole Province. In East Bengal, there was, on an average, an excess of 3·44 inches of rain; but in all the other Divisions, the difference from the normal was, on an average, less than an inch. During the first week of September, general rain fell, the fall being heavy in the north and north-east of the Province. During the second week, rainfall was also general. In parts of North Bihar, the rain was heavy, and the rivers rose and caused some damage to the crops. Some injury from insect pests is reported from Jessore. On the whole, the season has been favourable to the growth of all kinds of bhadoi crops.

4. Area cultivated.—The total area cultivated with bhadoi crops of all kinds during the current season appears from the appended District Returns to amount to 16,187,000 acres, against 15,971,100 acres estimated to have been cultivated with all kinds of bhadoi crops during the year 1896. The whole increase in area, cultivated with bhadoi crops (1·3 per cent.), is only nominal. There is a marked decrease, however, amounting to 6 per cent. in comparison with last year's figures, in the area cultivated this year under bhadoi non-food crops, due to the increased cultivation of bhadoi paddy. Owing to the scarcity of food-grains, cultivators have extended their cultivation of food crops, especially rice.

5. Character of the crop.—From the estimates of outturn returned by District Officers, as given in the appended statement, it will be seen that, taking all the bhadoi crops together, one out of the 45 districts of these Provinces, viz., Burdwan, returns a 19½ anna crop; 12 districts, viz., Birbhum, Darjeeling, Backerganj, Tippera, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Bhagalpur, Cuttack, Balasore, Hazaribagh, Lohardaga and Singhbhum return crops varying from 16 annas to 18 annas; 31 districts return crops varying from 12 to less than 16 annas, and one district, viz., Patna, returns a 9-anna crop, a result reported to be due to damage by floods and excessive rain at weeding time. On comparing these figures with the estimates of outturn of the crop of 1896, as shown in column 8 of the appended statement, it will be further seen that one district, viz., Gaya, reports a crop equal to that of 1896; one district, viz., Patna, reports a worse crop, and all the remaining 43 districts report better crops. The jute crop of this year is good, and the indigo crop poor, on account of lack of moisture at the beginning of the season.

It is certain, that the bhadoi crops of this year, taken as a whole, are very much better than those of last year; and it is believed that, for the Province generally, and taken as a whole, they are as good as the best that have been reaped in recent years. The arithmetical mean of the district estimates, calculated for the Province with reference to areas, is 15 annas; but, after allowing for the tendency of reporting officers to under-estimate, the estimate made in this Department of the bhadoi crops of 1897, taken as a whole, is 16½ annas.

Assistant Director of the Dept. of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal.

Singhbhum.—Rainfall at Chaibassa ·01, Chakradharpur ·17, Kalikapur ·16, Ghatsila ·10.

General Summary.—There was general, and in many places heavy, rain towards the end of the week. This rain will benefit the winter rice and will facilitate preparation of lands for the rabi crops. The bhadoi harvest is still proceeding, and the outturn for the Province generally is estimated at 16½ annas. In Patna the outturn has been nine annas only, owing to damage by floods and to excessive rain at weeding time. Jute is being steeped and washed, and will yield a good outturn. The indigo crop is reported to have been poor. Sugarcane promises well. The price of common rice is reported to have fallen at Motihari from 10½ to 13 seers and at Ranchi from 8½ to 10 seers per rupee: elsewhere there was no important change in prices. Relief works still remain open in Manbhum and Champaran; and the price of grain on which the famine wage is based is in Manbhum (rice) 8½ seers and in Champaran (Indian-corn) 19$\frac{7}{8}$ seers. The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

RULES FOR THE APPOINTMENT OF SUB-INSPECTORS OF POLICE.

THE next divisional examination of candidates to fill vacancies in the rank of Sub-Inspector of Police will be held on the 6th and 7th December 1897 at the following centres:—at Calcutta (Senate House) for the Presidency, Rajshahi and Burdwan Divisions; at Bankipore for the Patna, Bhagalpur and Chota Nagpur Divisions; at Dacca for the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions; and at Cuttack for the Orissa Division. The following classes of candidates will be admissible to the examination:—

(a) Persons who have passed the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta, Allahabad or Punjab University, provided they are not less than 21 nor more than 25 years of age on the 30th June.

(b) Persons now serving as head-constables and writer-constables in the Police, who have obtained the permission of the District Magistrate to appear at the examination, provided that they are not more than 30 years of age, and are of not less than two years' standing in the Department. This permission will only be given to persons who satisfy the conditions laid down in Rule 2.

2. No person will be deemed qualified who does not satisfy the following conditions:—

I.—That he has no disease, constitutional affection or bodily infirmity, unfitting him, or likely to unfit him, for police duties, and that he is up to the physical standard prescribed by Government circular No. 4436J., dated the 9th July 1892.

NOTE.—"Stuttering or stammering" is a constitutional defect, and represents a physical disqualification.

II.—That he is of good moral character.

III.—That he belongs to a respectable family.

IV.—That he produces a certificate of ability to ride signed by a district officer.

3. Applications for permission to appear at the examination must be submitted, not later than one month before the date fixed, to the Magistrate of the district in which the candidate resides, stating the place at which he desires to appear for examination. Each application from class (a) candidates must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 5. All candidates will be required to satisfy the conditions specified in Rule 2 above. The certificate of health should be signed either by the Civil Surgeon of the district in which the candidate ordinarily resides or in Calcutta by one of the Professors of the Calcutta Medical College. Forms of application are available in the offices of District Superintendents of Police.

The Magistrate should require a personal identification of each candidate by some known person, whose name should be recorded, and satisfy himself that the certificates of respectability and moral character refer to the individual applying for permission to appear at the examination, and send him to the District Superintendent for a certificate as to physical fitness. This certificate should contain the applicant's descriptive roll, thumb impression, signature and address for purposes of identification. The District Superintendent will then obtain a health certificate, the fee for which will in all cases be Rs. 4, from the Civil Surgeon, and after seeing that all the certificates are in order send the applicant with his certificates to the Magistrate, who will, after subjecting the candidate to an examination in riding and noting the fact, grant a written permission to appear at the examination.

As these certificates form the verification rolls of candidates, they should be very carefully examined and enquiries made when necessary. A note should be taken of the names of candidates whose certificates do not cover the period immediately preceding the examination.

The above papers with the examination fee will be forwarded without delay by the Magistrate of the district in which the candidate resides to the Magistrate of the centre at which the candidate wishes to be examined.

The Examination Committee before the examination will compare the descriptions, thumb impressions (duplicate impressions being taken for the purpose, if necessary), and signatures and satisfy itself about the identity of the person appearing.

At the examination a candidate will be required to sign the papers in every subject, writing his father's name and his own address on them to avoid confusion arising out of a similarity of names.

After the result of the examination is known, the certificates of passed candidates will be forwarded to the Principal of the Police Training School, Bhagalpur, and will then be treated as verification rolls.

The certificates of unsuccessful candidates will be returned, if asked for, within two months, or destroyed at the end of that period.

4. The subjects of examination will be as follows:—

I.—Dictation, Letter-drafting, Précis-writing, and a short translation from Bengali Uriya or Hindi into English. Europeans and Eurasians will be allowed to, choose one out of these three languages to be examined in. No candidate failing to obtain half marks in this paper will be considered qualified for appointment.

II.—Paper on general knowledge. The questions will be set so as to test the general information and intelligence of candidates.

III.—Mathematics, including Euclid, Books I—IV, Arithmetic and Algebra, and account-keeping.

IV.—Law, including the Penal Code, the Criminal Procedure Code, and the evidence Act.

N.B.—Class (b) candidates will be exempted from passing in Euclid and Algebra, alternative questions in Arithmetic being given.

5. The marks will be given on the following scale:—

1.	Dictation and language	...	...	... 200
2.	General knowledge	...	...	... 200
3.	Mathematics	...	...	... 200
4.	Law	...	...	... 200

6. The number of candidates to be selected by the examiners for each Range will be notified in the Calcutta Gazette on or before the 3rd November 1897. This number will be determined by the Inspector-General of Police with reference to the number of vacancies existing or estimated as likely to occur within the course of the following year.

7. After the results of the examination have been ascertained, a list will be prepared of the candidates selected for appointment. Those who have not obtained half marks in dictation and language, and one-third marks in the aggregate of the remaining papers, may be struck out as ineligible for appointment. Of the remaining candidates, a list will then be composed as follows:—(a) one-half of the candidates who stand highest on the list in order of merit: (b) one-half of candidates selected from among those candidates who have obtained not less than one-third of the marks. At least two-thirds of the appointments will, if qualified candidates are available, be given to outsiders.

8. Natives of Bengal Proper will be eligible for appointments in all districts where Bengali is the vernacular of the district. Natives of Bihar will be eligible for appointments in districts where Hindi is the vernacular, and natives of Orissa for appointments in districts where Uriya is the vernacular. Selected candidates will be liable to be transferred to any district.

9. Selected candidates on appointment will undergo a three-months' course of instruction at the Bhagalpur Police Training School. This course will include drill, elementary surveying, anthropometry, and instruction in prosecuting cases in Magistrates' Courts. At the end of the three months all probationers obtaining a certificate of proficiency will be posted to districts and receive appointments in due course as 5th grade Sub-Inspectors. During the period of probation candidates will receive Rs 20 a month as salary; on being passed out of the Training School, they will receive Rs. 30 a month as salary. Candidates who fail to display due diligence during their period of probation will be liable to lose their appointment.

10. The position of selected candidates in the Range lists from which promotions are made will be determined by the places obtained by candidates at the Final Examination held at the conclusion of the Training School Term.

11. Candidates resident in any of the districts of the Patna, Bhagalpur and Chota Nagpur Divisions, who take up Hindi at this examination, will be considered to be natives of Bihar. Candidates competing at Cuttack who take up Uriya will be considered natives of Orissa.

12. Information as to the hour and place of examination can be obtained 15 days before the examination by applying to the District Magistrates of the 24-Parganas, Dacca, Patna and Cuttack.

C. W. BOLTON,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTE.—The question papers set at the examinations held in 1893-94, 1895, and 1896 can be obtained on application to the officer in charge, Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, Writers' Buildings, Calcutta, at five annas a copy, and annas fifteen for the three complete sets, in addition to postage.

NOTIFICATIONS OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE.

NOTICE.

THE following instructions, which have been framed by the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, under the orders of the Governor-General in Council, for the guidance of Collectors of Customs, in deciding the duty to be levied on imported spirits said to have been rendered unfit for human consumption, for which the reduced rate of duty is claimed under Schedule III (1) of the Tariff Act, are published for general information:—

1. When a sample of spirit, imported by sea and said to have been rendered unfit for human consumption, has been sent to the Chemical Examiner for report in accordance with rule 1 of the rules made under section 155 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, the report shall state the composition of the spirit, the nature of the ingredient used for methylation, and the proportion which such material bears by volume to the spirit methylated; and shall include a note intimating whether, in the opinion of the Chemical Examiner, the spirit has or has not been rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption.

2. If the ingredient used for methylation is reported to be caoutchoucine, and if it has been mixed with the spirit in the proportion of not less than one part by volume of the caoutchoucine to 99 parts by volume of the spirit calculated at the strength of 30 per cent. over proof, the Collector shall ordinarily pass the spirit so methylated at the reduced rate of duty.

3. If the ingredient used for methylation is reported to be wood naptha, the Collector may in his discretion specially pass the spirit at the reduced rate of duty if he is satisfied that it is required for a purpose for which caoutchoucined spirits are not suited, and that it will be used after admission in such a way that there will be no danger of its passing into consumption as potable spirit.

4. In all other cases the Collector shall refuse to pass the spirit at the reduced rate of duty.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L.P.,

H. LUSON,
Offg. Secretary.

No. 1000G.

Advertisement of Sale of Government Estates.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Noakhali, will be put up to sale at the Noakhali Collectorate on the 9th November 1897, corresponding with the 24th Kartic 1304 B.S.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietors of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity. A deduction of 25 per cent. from the existing rents will be granted to the purchasers for collection expenses.

2nd.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid at once.

4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1889 the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows for current issues as well as for back numbers of the Reports from 1876 :—

BAY OF BENGAL—MADRAS COAST.

A dereliot abandoned and on fire.

THE Master of the Clan Macnab reports that at noon of the 6th October he spoke to the Master of the British steamer Ceres, who wished it to be reported that he had received 17 men from a wreck and would probably land them at Madras.

He has further reported that at 1 P.M. on the same date, when in Lat. 18° 4′ N., Long. 85° 48′ E., he passed close to the dismasted and rudderless brig Krishnamurty, abandoned and on fire. It is supposed to be the wreck from which the Ceres had received the crew. Weather fine, slight S.-E. swell. No wreckage in the vicinity,

AUSTRALIA, EAST COAST—INNER ROUTE.

Shoals northward of Claremont light vessel.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 550 of 1897) of the existence of the undermentioned shoals:—

1. A coral patch, with a depth of 5 fathoms on it, situated in a position with Ellis island beacon (as shown on Chart No. 2921) bearing N. 12° W., distant about $3\frac{6}{10}$ miles; and cape Sidmouth northern extreme N. 84° W.

   Approximate position, lat. 13° 25′ 50″ S., long. 143° 41′ 20″ E.

2. A coral patch, with a depth of $4\frac{3}{4}$ fathoms on it, is situated N. 29° W., distant 2 cables; and another patch, with a depth of 5 fathoms on it, N. 15° E., distant 2 cables respectively, from patch (1).

NOTE.—The vicinity of these shoals, around which depths of 7 to 11 fathoms were found, with uneven bottom, has not been closely examined, and there may be less water than that given. Mariners are therefore cautioned to adhere to the course recommended on the chart in this locality.

BAY OF BENGAL—CHITTAGONG COAST.

Chittagong river—Depth of water in the river channels.

THE Port Officer, Chittagong, has given notice that the following depth of water was found in the river channels by soundings taken on 28th ultimo and reduced to zero:—

	Ft.	In.
Track No. 1.—Outer bar:—
Middle and Upper black buoys in one	12	6
Track No. 2.—Inner bar:—
Disc on Diamond	11	3
Track No. 3—
Tripod on cross and ball	20	0
Track No. 4—
Triangle on tripod, cask and ball	22	0

N.B.—Soundings show the Outer and Inner bars to be lumpy. Vessels inward bound should not remain in No. 2 Track after getting tripod on with cross and ball (No. 3 Track), as the sands off the Guptakhally side, opposite the two Juldia black buoys, are extending further to the southward.

PACIFIC OCEAN.

Amended position of Stewart islands.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 504 of 1897) that information has been received from Captain G. N. A. Pollard, H.M.S. Wallaroo, dated 27th June 1897, that he has determined the position of the north point of the island situated in the middle of the Stewart islands, hitherto shown in approximately lat. 8° 22½′ S., long. 162° 58′ E., to be in approximately lat. 8° 21′ 30″ S., long. 162° 42′ 30″ E.

The whole of the Stewart islands group should be relatively shifted on the Charts to agree with the above position.

PACIFIC OCEAN—New Hebrides islands.

Tongoa island—Active volcanic shoal on Laika bank.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 505 of 1897) of the existence of a volcanic shoal which had been in a state of eruption, throwing up red hot stones and smoke, for a period of three weeks previous to the 18th June 1897 :—

This shoal, consisting of sand and a few lava stones on top, was awash on 21st June, and appeared to be steep-to on its southern and western sides, with shoal water extending for about a mile east-south-eastward from it.

It is situated on the northern part of Laika bank, northward of Tongoa island, with Tevala island summit (324) bearing N. 36° E., distant 9 cables; and Boiling point S. 46° E.

Approximate position: lat. 16° 49′ 50″ S., long. 168° 32′ 15″ E.

The symbol for a rock awash at low water springs, with the words "Active Volcano, 1897," written against it, have been placed in the above position on the Admiralty Chart; and the words "Reported dangerous" have been written under Laika bank.

Jan. 11th	100	12mo dy	1st...	1,500	ditto ...	0 8 0	.....	Is a social caricature, written with considerable power, intended to hold up to ridicule three classes of people, viz., (1) men of small means and education, who forgetting their proper position in life, pose as social and political reformers of their country, and often use their professions as a cloak to dishonesty and selfishness; (2) women who have lost their heads through reading romances and who in their anxiety to play the heroine, neglect their household duties and grossly misbehave themselves; and (3) a section of the Brahmos who, as the author thinks, in utter forgetfulness of the high principles of their religion, commit acts of gross impropriety in their moral and social relations. In the play, Baburáma stands for the first of these types, his wife Kisorí for the second, and the Brahmo couple Bámádás and Hidimbá for the third. The affectation of Anglicism by Bengalis is held up to scorn, and the opinion, alleged to have been expressed by Lord Salisbury, viz., that in a country like India, where there are no wars, famine is needed to keep down the population, is ridiculed in the course of a song. The characters of Bámádás and Hidimbá stand out in bold relief, and seem to have been suggested by incidents in real life.	4531
Jan. 25th	181	16mo df	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	1 0 0	The Author, Rungpur.	The story of Rana Ráo taken from Tod's Rajasthán. Rana Ráo, chief of Maudowar, sought the hand of Jayantí, daughter of Harba Singh, chief of Godvár. Now, as Harba was his cousin, the proposed marriage was contrary to Hindu law. So the girl Jayantí was married to Raghudeva, second son of Ráná Laksha of Mewar. Thus foiled, Rana Ráo sought vengeance on Raghudeva. At this juncture, the old Ráná abdicated in favor of his youngest son Mukula, then a mere child and Rana Ráo, who was the child's maternal grandfather, took charge of the state. This was resented by Raghudeva, and he came to Chitor to assert his birth-right to the throne. But shortly after his arrival there he was poisoned by Rana Ráo, who, in his turn, fell by the hand of Chand Rao, eldest son of the old Rána. The book is written in blank verse.	4532

1897.	Pages.					Rs. A. P.
Jan. 9th	33	12mo dy	1st...	1,000	Printed.	0 2 0	.....	A low, vulgar farce depicting the heterodoxy and irreligion, supposed to prevail in Hindu society in this Kali era. Plague and Famine are represented as the two agencies employed by Kali (the presiding god of the era of the same name) to effect the subversion of religion and morality in India, and they receive much valuable aid from a third, viz., Anáchár (heterodox-practices), which is specially intended to win over the inmates of the zenana to the 'new path,' that is, Western manners and customs. The alleged reckless burning of the bedding and furniture of the people by plague officials is referred to in the play, and a native youth is represented as threatening to knock out the brains of a European doctor, who wanted to arrest a party of Bengali women for the purpose of examining whether they had got the plague or not. The representation of the gods of the Hindu Trinity in the play is most unseemly and quite in keeping with the low, vulgar tone of the book.	4533

Dandi was aided by Kurus and Pándavas, while Krishna was aided by gods: the issue of the war was in favour of the king. Krishna is called in the play Yádava-kalanka, or a disgrace to the Yádava race, possibly on account of his desire to take other people's property by force.	4535

Apl. 5th	55	12mo dy	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	0 6 0	Ravíndra Náth Tagore, 6, Dváraká Náth Thakur's Lane, Calcutta.	A story of everyday life given in the form of a drama. An old bachelor, named Vaikuntha was inordinately fond of his manuscript on music. It was his pleasure to read it out to any body whom he could get hold of for the purpose. He had a younger brother named Avinás, who, too, was unmarried. An old school-fellow of his, named Kedár, had a beautiful sister-in-law to dispose of, and he went to Vaikuntha to see whether he could get his consent to the match between Avinás and his sister-in-law. He knew Vaikuntha's weakness, and by subjecting himself to the inconvenience of being read to from his manuscript, easily obtained his good opinion, and succeeded in marrying his sister-in-law to Avinás. After the marriage, he with a number of relatives, came to reside at the old bachelor's and tried to oust him from his house. But his design was discovered in time by Avinás who forced him to leave the house.	4538

Mar. 24th	35	12mo dy	1st...	1,004	ditto ...	0 4 0	The Friends' National Club, 27, Sukea's Street, Calcutta.	A social farce, full of reference to contemporary events, such as the plague, the famine, the Hitavádi libel case, the stoppage of licenses for firearms in the Barisal district, &c. It aims at ridiculing people, apparently Brahmos, who are supposed to pose as guardians of taste, to address each other as brother and sister, and whose women are alleged to long for liberty, free-love, college education, and such like things and cannot stand anything smelling of idolatry. A party of heavenly nymphs start on a tour through India to ascertain how things are faring there. They meet with Kali (the presiding deity of the present era of irreligion) in the act of taking an account of their doings from his numerous agents, such as Plague, Famine, Avidyá (nescience) Lecherousness, Suicide, Official Oppression, &c., and of congratulating himself on the prospect of restraining Hindus from using the sacred formulæ of their religion such as om tat sat (apparently an allusion to the Hitavádi libel case), and thereby ruining Hinduism. Later on, they meet with Mother India and hear her appealing piteously to the Queen Empress to save her sons from starvation: they then vanish after expressing their sympathy with her in her distress. The district of Mymensing is referred to in the play as being infested with lecherous people, who frequently commit outrages on the female population there with the connivance of the police. There is an extremely obscene passage at page 31 of this book. The author is one of those who are mortified by the result of the Hitavádi trial, and appears under the pseudonym Sarpálankár Thakur.	4540

Mar. 25th	262	12mo dy.	4th revised	500	Printed	.....	The Author.	An interesting and well written historical novel, based on the incidents in the life of Sivaji, beginning with his first brush with the Moguls and ending with his formal declaration of war against them under the emperor Aurangzeb. The characters of Sivaji, Raghu Nathji Havildar and Chandra Ráo Jumládár are among the best drawn in the book. The present edition is, as the writer says, thoroughly revised and recast.	4541
April 1st	234	16mo d c	1st	1,000	ditto ...	1 4 0	.....	A faithful picture of Bengali middle class life delineated with considerable skill. A Brahman youth, named Devendra, after finishing his university education, takes up his quarters in a village named Palás-Vana with the object of passing his days in study and religious contemplation. Here he eventually marries a girl, named Yogamáyá, daughter of a highly respected Brahman resident of the place, and lives a life of peace and contentment. His college friend Satyendra also goes to Palás-Vana for a change and stays with him. He is suffering from a serious illness and his life is despaired of. But with his marriage with his affianced bride Susama, sets in a change for the better and he recovers within a short time. The two friends then live a happy life and devote themselves to the cause of education and philanthropy. Susamá's self-denial in marrying a lover on the point of death is worthy of the best traditions of classic India. The purity, simplicity and felicity of Hindu domestic life have been delineated in the book with a skill and fidelity that do credit to the author. The book is written in pure and chaste Bengali.	4542

Feb. 6th	84	12mo dy	1st...	1,000	Printed.	0 8 0	The Author, 126, Syambázár Street, Calcutta.	A story of love and adventure, in the course of which the lover Prabodha marries Matiyá, whom he rescued from the hands of cannibals in an island in the Mediterranean Prabodha and Matiyá were a good deal thrown together in infancy when they resided with their fathers in Manipur. But as Matiyá was a Brahman's daughter and Prabodha a Káyastha by caste, their union in marriage was out of the question. The young people, however, loved each other dearly, and after years of separation, which brought strange vicissitudes to each, they met together, embraced Christianity and became husband and wife.	4562

1897.	Pages.					Rs. A. P.
Feb. 15th	16	8vo cr.	1st...	1,000	Printed.	.....	Vihárí Lál Mitra, Bágbázár, Calcutta.	Thoughts on social topics, being an appeal to the people of Bengal to strive after uniformity in matters of food, dress, caste and creed, without which they, as the author thinks, will never be a great nation. An abstract creed like Brahmoism can never take the place of a national religion. Saivaism is better suited in that respect, and the leaders of the people should see whether they could adopt it. Widow marriage is no doubt a good thing, but it cannot exist side by side with infant marriage; you must have one of the two and not both. Religious hypocrisy, with the prevailing rage for new doctrines and new incarnations, should be eschewed at any cost, as having a tendency to disperse the energy of the race. Government should be moved to enact a law of primogeniture here in order that the disintegration of big estates by partition may be prevented. The above ideas are mixed up with a good deal of useless garbage, and expressed at times with a reckless disregard of decency and decorum. There is an extremely obscene passage at page 44.	4660

Jan. 24th	128	8vo cr.	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	0 8 0	The Author, 210/1/1, Cornwallis Street, Calcutta.	A collection of religious and devotional poems intended to inculcate the love of God. Many of these poems seem to be prompted by a genuine earnestness of heart and characterised by a spirit of unfeigned devotion to God. They are free from sectarian bias and their versification is sweet and flowing.	4697
May 18th	260	8vo cr	3rd...	1,000	ditto ...	1 4 0	The Author, 210/1/1, Cornwallis Street, Calcutta	The poem is divided into four parts dealing respectively with (1) Appeals to the readers' patriotic feelings, (2) Social subjects, such as child-marriage, enforced widowhood, &c., (3) Love and (4) Puranic, historical and miscellaneous topics. The piece entitled 'Kalir Rájasúya' (the Rájasúya Sacrifice of the Kali era), describing the Imperial Assemblage at Delhi on the occasion of the assumption by Her Majesty of the title Empress of India, contains a few stanzas, wherein the Queen-Empress is piteously entreated to abolish the distinction between the black and the white in India, to put down the oppression of Indians by Britain's sons, not to send out wicked men to rule India and not to condemn as disloyal the poet's appeals to his countrymen, conceived in bitter anguish of heart and inspired by a memory of India's past glory and greatness. Many of the pieces in this book are written with considerable power and are instinct with genuine feeling.	4698

A dacoit leader, named Manohar, was in the habit of enticing travellers into his house and then directing his daughter Ratnakalá to murder them at night. Vidyádhar, the hero of the poem, also fell into the snare, but escaped with his life through the favor of the god Satyapir. The girl, who was to have murdered him, was captivated by his good looks, and they both fled from the house and escaped together after various adventures.	4702

April 6th	68	16mo d f	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	0 6 0	The Author, Bhájanghat, Nadia.	Are, as the title indicates, two distinct works in one cover, of which the former is written in prose and the latter in poetry The first one consists of a series of discourses inspired by objects and incidents of every-day life, breathing a spirit of piety and spirituality. The second one purports to give expression to the Vaishnava idea of worshipping God, through the sentiment of Mádhuryya as reflected in the love between husband and wife. The verses, however, are at places obscure and unintelligible.	4743

January.	35	8vo dy	1st...	100	ditto ...	.....	James R. Wallace, M. D., 50, Park Street, Calcutta.	A reprint of a series of articles from the Indian Medical Record, pointing out the principal defects and shortcomings of the Health Department of the Calcutta Municipality. According to the writer, the reclamation of the Salt-Water Lakes is a far better mode of disposing of the town refuse than costly incinerators, which with their noxious fumes engender deadly diseases, in the neighbourhood in which they are erected. The duties of an efficient Health Officer should, in his opinion, consist in energetically supervising the conservancy of the town rather than in performing scientific experiments in a bacteriological laboratory.	4058

„ 23rd	48	12mo dy	1st...	500	ditto ...	0 4 0	Mukherji & Co., 67, Nimtalá Ghát Street, Calcutta.	A short dissertation on the causes of drought, famine, pestilence and other visitations of a similar nature according to the Hindu sástras. The author has quoted a number of slokas from Hindu Astrology and the Puranas to show that these visitations are due solely to the action of adverse planets. The remedy lies, according to the author, in the Hindus implicitly following the dictates of the Sástras in the matter of eating and drinking and in the faithful observance by them of the ritual and practices of their religion. They should specially guard themselves against a too free intercourse with aliens in race and religion, whose vices are sure to taint them in time, and to bring down upon them the wrath of gods and heavenly bodies. The work concludes with a philosophical discourse on the influence of association on character.	4064

1897. Jan. 2nd	74	8vo dy	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	1 0 0	Nanda Lal Sarkár, M A., B.L.	Gives a short history of the Indian National Congress movement from its first inception, together with its aims and objects, the method of its work and its aspirations. The writer discusses some of the most important political questions which have been dealt with in the successive sessions of the Congress, and endeavours to prove that representative institutions were well-known in ancient India, and that the Indians of to-day are fully qualified and fit to perform the functions required of a self-governing people. The real reason, the author holds, for not granting representative government to the country is the baseless apprehension in the minds of Englishmen that by granting increased political power to the people, England would lose much of her present power and hold over India, and might possibly lose her altogether. The writer takes great pains to show that this suspicion of the loyalty of a people, who have done nothing to incur it, is utterly unjustifiable and wholly unworthy of a great and powerful Government.	4077

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1896-97.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—AGRICULTURE.

RESOLUTION—No. 842T.R.

READ—

(1) Letter No. 878A., dated the 14th August 1897, from the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, Land Revenue Department, submitting the Report of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture for the year 1896-97.

(2) The Report itself.

(3) Read also the Resolution of Government on the Report for the year 1895-96.

THE Officiating Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice that the Annual Report of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal, for the year 1896-97 reached Government with the Board's remarks a day before the due date, i.e., the 15th August 1897. The report is for the first time submitted in the form prescribed by the Government of India in the Eighth Resolution of the Revenue and Agricultural Department, dated the 20th March 1897, on the proceedings of the Agricultural Conferences of 1893 and 1895-96, and includes also for the first time a report on the subject of Land Records establishment. Mr. P. C. Lyon was in charge of the Department from the 18th February to the 22nd November 1896, when Mr. Macpherson resumed charge on his return from furlough. The report is submitted by Mr. Allen, who was in temporary charge from the 23rd June 1897.

2. Chapter II of the Report: Land Record Establishment.—Three offices for the registration of mutations under the Land Records Maintenance Act III (B.C.) of 1895 were opened during the year in the area recently cadastrally surveyed in North Bihar, at Hajipur and Mahnar, in Muzaffarpur, and Bettiah in Champaran. The following table shows the amount of work done during the year in the two offices in the district of Muzaffarpur:—

Number of applications received for registration of mutations—			Number of refusals.	Number pending.	Number disposed of.
From the parties direct under section 6.	From the Sub-Registrar of Assurances under Rule 5.	Total.			Succession.	Transfer.	Total.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
3,518	719	4,237	284	1,565	226	2,212	2,438

The District Registrar of Champaran was unable to submit his report on the working of the Bettiah office during the year for incorporation in the Director's report, but the following figures supplied by the Settlement Officer of North Bihar show the number of mutations registered in that office:—

Succession.	Transfers—			Total number of mutations registered.
	On application made by the parties direct under section 6.	On applications received from the Sub-Registrar of Assurances under Rule 5.	Total.
68	701	524	1,225	1,293

3. The smallness of the number of mutations by succession as compared with the number of mutations in consequence of transfers by sale, and the paucity of the total number of mutations recorded as compared with the total number of tenancies, show that registration of changes under the Act is far from perfect. This is what was anticipated; but still, as the Board of Revenue remark, the Act has worked as satisfactorily as could have been expected, and, in spite of local distress, the number of applications for registration has been large, and the people have shown eagerness to have the transfer of rights duly recorded.

Mr. Hare, late Collector of Muzaffarpur, makes the following remarks on the working of the Act:—

"The Land Records Maintenance Act worked in this subdivision (Hajipur) as satisfactorily as could be expected. Though the Act was actually brought into force some four months after the commencement of the year under report, with an insufficient supply of the registers of mutations, and notwithstanding the prevalence of famine, there was a remarkably large presentation of notices by the parties. The people certainly appear to be eager to have the transfers of their rights acquired duly recorded in the Government papers in the same way as their deeds are registered. The Act, therefore, cannot but be popular among all classes, as it opens to them ways to make pucka their rights acquired from time to time."

The Lieutenant-Governor desires that the Director should endeavour in his future reports to analyse the figures of registration of mutations more minutely than has been done in the present report, by giving percentages of mutations actually registered on the number of holdings, and the number which might reasonably have been expected to be registered on account of successions, transfers by sale or gift, &c., so as to give a clearer idea of the working of the system. A further improvement may also be effected by specifying the nature of the transfers made, i.e., whether they were of entire holdings or only of parts of holdings, the price paid per acre in cases of transfer by sale, the number of mistakes detected in the original records, and so forth. It is reported that mutation work was hampered by certain defects in the rules framed under the law, as well as in the form of the mutation register prescribed by Government. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that a special report may be submitted to Government by the Director after communication with the Inspector-General of Registration through the Board, pointing out any practical difficulties experienced in the working of the Act, and submitting definite proposals for their removal. The number of registrations of mutations effected is, as already remarked, larger than the Lieutenant-Governor had anticipated, and it has now become a matter worthy of careful consideration whether, by the introduction of some modifications in the rules and by the attachment of amins (to be paid from the surplus proceeds of fees) to the Registration offices, a really efficient method of keeping the records corrected up to date cannot be devised under the Act as it stands and without any further legislation. Besides the areas described in paragraph 2, the Land Records Maintenance Act has been introduced only into the Sujamutha pargana, in the district of Midnapore, to which it was extended with effect from 1st January 1897, and the writing of the mutation register had not been commenced before the close of the year.

4. The report gives a full and interesting account of the arrangements made for the maintenance or revision of settlement records in the Khurda, Angul and Banki Government estates, the Kujang and Kanika Wards' Estates, all in Orissa, and in the Backergunge and Western Duars Government Estates and the Burdwan Raj, Dakhin Shahbazpur and Maldwar Wards' Estates; but the subject might be more completely illustrated by an analysis of the figures in future reports in the manner indicated in the preceding paragraph. The figures of mutations recorded in the Burdwan, Maldwar and Dakhin Shahbazpur Wards' estates show that arrangements for maintenance of records exist in these estates only on paper, and that the great majority of mutations are not recorded at all. The Director should call the attention of the Collectors and Managers concerned to this matter, and should insist on the rules and orders for the maintenance of records in these and other estates being carried out in practice. In the Burdwan estates only 13 mutations were recorded in 14,527 tenancies during the year, or less than 1 in 1,000 (which is an absurd figure), while in the Kanika estates 1,520 mutations were recorded in 30,980 tenancies.

5. Maintenance of boundary marks.—The information which has now been furnished for the first time on the subject of the maintenance of boundary marks is useful, though necessarily incomplete. As the Board point out the subject should be more fully dealt with by District Officers and Commissioners in their Annual Land Revenue Administration Reports. The subject of legislation to provide for the maintenance of permanent survey marks is under the consideration of Government in connection with the amendment of the Bengal Tenancy Act.

6. Chapter IV of the Report: Scientific and National Enquiry under Imperial Control.—A monograph on the races of wheat grown in Bengal by Surgeon-Major D. Prain was published during the year as a bulletin of the Agricultural Department, and similar monographs on the races of rape and mustard have since been received. Dr. Prain has also prepared a note on rusts in wheat which has been published by the Botanical Survey Department. The enquiries which had been instituted into the causes of betelnut plague in the districts of Backergunge and Noakhali during the year 1895-96 were continued during the year under report by Dr. G. Watt, Economic Reporter to the Government of India, who visited the affected areas with Mr. N. G. Mukherji; they reported that the disease had subsided. But it is possible that there may be a recrudescence of the disease, and the Collectors of betelnut-growing districts were supplied with copies of Mr. Mukherji's report, which embodied the result of the tour, and were directed to give a wide circulation to Dr. Watt's recommendations. The disease is still under investigation by Dr. Watt and Brigade-Surgeon-Lieutenant-Colonel D. D. Cunningham. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with approval that the Department of Agriculture is working in the matter of scientific enquiry in concert with such experts, in their several lines, as Surgeon-Major Prain, Dr. G. Watt and Brigade-Surgeon-Lieutenant-Colonel D. D. Cunningham, and His Honour hopes that valuable results may in time ensue from their united labours.

7. Dr. Leather's tour in Bengal and his analyses of soils, water, &c.—During the year under report Dr. J. W. Leather, PH.D., Agricultural Chemist to the Government of India, visited the Dumraon and Burdwan farms, and made a number of analyses and experiments with sugarcane and analysed several samples of manures sent to him from those farms. He also analysed samples of soils and well-water from certain tracts in North Bihar, which were sent to him, when it was found that the rains had failed to give sufficient moisture for the cultivation of the rabi crops in the usual manner; the raiyats and some indigo planters objected to the use in certain soils of well-water for the purpose of irrigation, as containing large quantities of sodium salts, but Dr. Leather pronounced that it might with perfect safety be so used. It may be well to test the correctness of this opinion, if possible, by experiment. Dr. Leather also wrote notes on the methods of jute steeping and extraction of the fibre after visiting during the rainy season of 1895-96 some of the jute-producing districts in Northern and Eastern Bengal. These notes have since been published, but no change in the existing methods of separating the fibre has been suggested. Extended enquiries were made by Dr. Watt with regard to the cultivation of rhea fibre in Bengal.

8. Working of the Bengal Civil Veterinary Department.—In a separate Resolution, No. 2252Agri., dated the 27th July 1897, the Lieutenant-Governor has reviewed the Annual Progress Report of the Civil Veterinary Department in Bengal for the year 1896-97, and it is unnecessary therefore to refer again to that subject here.

9. Chapter V of the Report: Scientific and Local Enquiry under Provincial Direction.—It had been intended that an analysis of the district of Shahabad similar to those already prepared for Burdwan, Dacca, Cuttack and Lohardaga should be prepared during the cold weather of 1896-97; but owing to the pressure of work connected with the famine, the Director and his two assistants were unable to direct their attention to this important subject. The statistics and notes on the outturn and areas of crops furnished by the Department were found most useful by Government and local officers in gauging the areas affected by distress and the intensity of it, and helped them materially to form, at the early stages of the famine, estimates and forecasts which events have since proved to have been almost absolutely correct.

10. Experimental farms and manure and crop experiments.—As in the previous years, agricultural experiments were carried on during the year under report at the Sibpur, Burdwan and Dumraon farms under the supervision of the Department of Agriculture, as well as in Government, Wards' and private estates. Experiments were made at the Sibpur farm to determine the comparative values of crude saltpetre and castor-cake as manures for cabbages. The result showed the decided superiority of the former. Experiments were also made in the Burdwan and Dumraon farms, which proved that cowdung was the best manure for the cultivation of jute and wheat. The cultivation of Naini Tal potatoes was attempted during the year with varying success in various places throughout the province. Experiments made in the Burdwan farm to test the comparative merits of trench-planting and the ordinary method of sowing sugarcane showed that the former gave the best results; and that method now finds favour with the raiyats of Burdwan. During the year considerable quantities of Naini Tal potatoes for seed and of castor-cake for manure were sold to the raiyats of the neighbourhood of the Burdwan farm with satisfactory results. A large number (167,200) of cuttings of imported varieties of sugarcane was also sold to the raiyats of the neighbourhood of the Dumraon farm. The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to notice the growth among native landholders of a tendency to co-operate with the officers of the Department in the introduction of improved methods of agricultural operations and in trying new staples. At the initiative of the Department, potato cultivation was introduced some years back in the Jalpaiguri Duars, and it is now reported by the Commissioner that this "crop is finding much favour with the raiyats and both the soil and climate are admirably adapted to its cultivation." Sir Alexander Mackenzie in a Resolution, dated the 9th October 1896, directed that special attention should be given to the introduction of agricultural improvements in Government and Wards' Estates; the present report shows that some effort has been made in the direction indicated, but Mr. Stevens trusts that future years will see increased exertions in this matter with results beneficial to the agricultural community at large.

11. Enquiries into the causes of agricultural deterioration.—In May 1896 Mr. N. G. Mukherji was deputed by the Director of the Agricultural Department to inspect the cultivation of long-stemmed paddy in a tract of low-lying country in the Contai subdivision of the district of Midnapore, known as the Argoal Circuit, which has been for a series of years suffering persistent agricultural deterioration in consequence of defective drainage. Mr. Mukherji's prediction that the experiment would not be attended with success was borne out by the result. The reclamation of the tract in question is now under the consideration of this Government in the Public Works Department. Useful enquiries were also made during the year by Mr. B. C. Basu, one of the Director's Assistants, into the causes of distress in the districts of Nadia, Jessore and Khulna, and his report on the last-named district showed that the affected area has suffered from incursions of salt water in years of short rainfall, a danger against which the existing system of embankments does not afford a sufficient protection.

12. Silk experiments.—Mr. N. G. Mukherji having returned to the regular line of Government service from the special duty in connection with the conduct of silk experiments in Bengal, on which he had been for some years employed, a new scheme was laid down by this Government in October 1896 for the continuance of those experiments until properly managed nurseries shall have been established in every silk centre in this province. According to this scheme, the District Officers are placed in immediate charge of the nurseries in their districts, subject to the superintendence of the Director. The professional control of the nurseries will be carried on by Mr. Mukherji in Murshidabad (to which district he was posted during the year as a Deputy Collector) and elsewhere by the Director's Assistants. It was arranged that three new nurseries should be opened every year, managed by the Department for a year (with an overseer or assistant overseer in charge), and then handed over to a cocoon-rearer trained during the year.

13. Ten seed-rearing nurseries were under the cognizance of the Agricultural Department at the close of the year under report, against nine in the previous year. The total quantity of cocoons raised during the year was 7,329 kahans, against 6,451½ kahans during the previous year, whilst the quantity sold to cultivators was 1,056 kahans, or 3,200 ounces, against 1,331 kahans or 4,000 ounces during 1895-96. Mr. Mukherji attributes this falling off in the sale to the failure of the Central Nursery at Chaltia in Murshidabad to supply seed to the out-stations, and to the excessively dry character of the last cold weather, which checked the growth of mulberry, and thus put a stop to cocoon-rearing in many places.

14. Chapter VI. Agricultural Education.—The Agricultural Conference held in Calcutta in 1896 recommended (1) that the course of study in primary and middle schools should be so revised as to include a graduated series of lessons in agriculture and in other subjects of Elementary Science, (2) that agricultural classes should be opened in connection with the Sibpur Engineering College and, (3) that a certain number of appointments in the Public Service should be reserved for those who have received an agricultural education. Sir Alexander Mackenzie accepted these recommendations. The sanction of the Government of India has recently been received to the opening of the agricultural classes at Sibpur, and the details of the scheme which will soon be published for giving effect to all these recommendations of the Conference are now being worked out.

15. Chapter VII of the Report: Publication of Agricultural information.—The Agricultural Department prepared and published during the year the general forecasts of rabi, bhadoi, winter rice, wheat, jute and oilseed crops; also reports on cotton and indigo crops, tables of agricultural statistics for 1895-96, and a list of agricultural implements tested or in use, besides two Bulletins and a Monograph on "Dyes and Dyeing" by Mr. N. N. Banerjee, Assistant Director.

16. Chapter VIII of the Report: Emigration to Burma.—The arrangements made some years ago by this Government with the British India Steam Navigation Company for the conveyance by their steamers from Calcutta to Rangoon of "State emigrants" from the congested tracts in Bihar, Chota Nagpur and Orissa, continued in force during the year under report, the number of emigrants conveyed being 241, against 136 in 1895-96 and 304 in 1894-95. This Government has recently requested the Government of Burma to furnish it with any information that may be available, to throw light on the causes which check the flow of emigration.

17. Agricultural Exhibitions.—Agricultural exhibitions were held during the year at Barhampur in Shahabad, Sonepur in Saran, Kalimpong in Darjeeling, Alipur and Falakata in Jalpaiguri, Rukindipur in Bogra, Cossipur near Calcutta, Hat-Chapra in Nadia, and Suri in Birbhum. All these, with the exception of the exhibition at Cossipur, were assisted by Government with grants of money, which were chiefly spent in prizes.

18. Cost of Agricultural Experiments.—The total expenditure of the Department on agricultural enquiry and improvement (excluding the pay of the superior establishment and the expenditure on silk experiments and the cost of the Civil Veterinary Department) was Rs. 10,354, against Rs. 9,287 in the preceding year. The expenditure is small and, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, is more than justified by the information collected and practical results achieved.

19. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are tendered to Mr. Macpherson and Mr. Lyon for the zeal and care with which they supervised the work of the multifarious branches of the Department, and to Mr. Allen for his interesting report. Mr. Stevens cordially agrees with the Director in the commendation bestowed on his Assistants, Mr. Bhupal Chandra Basu and Mr. Nagendra Nath Banerjee.

ORDER.—Ordered that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and that a copy of it together with the Report and the forwarding letter of the Board of Revenue, be submitted to the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department, and a copy forwarded also to the Board of Revenue.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

M. FINUCANE,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

FINAL REPORT ON THE JUTE CROP, 1897.

THE following is published for general information.

REV. DEPT., The 6th October 1897.

M. FINUCANE, Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Report on the jute crop for season 1897.

Explanatory.—Under orders of the Government of Bengal, conveyed to this Department, with their letter No. 865Mis., dated 21st February 1893, the 1st of September has hitherto been the date for issuing the final forecast of the jute crop in Bengal. The date of publication has, however, this year been postponed a month in order to meet the wishes of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. The present report shows the estimate of the crop made by District Officers in the middle of September. Returns have been obtained from 26 districts of these Provinces, in which jute is grown on a large scale, viz., from Burdwan, Midnapore, Hooghly, all the districts of the Presidency, Rajshahi and Dacca Divisions, Tippera, Noakhali, Bhagalpur, Purnea, Malda, Cuttack and Balasore; but it is to be noted that jute is grown to a small extent in other districts of these Provinces also. It is to be remembered, moreover, that, in all cases, the areas returned are mere estimates, and are not based on field measurements. The total area under jute cultivation, as shown in column 2 of the appended statement, must not therefore be taken to represent exactly the total jute area in these Provinces, though the estimate may not be far from the truth.

2. Character of the season.—The character of the early part of the current jute season was described in the preliminary forecast of the jute crop issued on the 29th June 1897. Rain was scanty in January and February in the jute-growing districts. In March, sufficient rain fell in all jute districts, except Khulna, Backergunge and Noakhali. In April, the rainfall was very near the normal in the Presidency and Burdwan divisions, but deficient generally in the important jute-growing districts of East and North Bengal. In May, the rainfall was about the normal in North Bengal, and in Burdwan, Dacca and Mymensingh, and more or less deficient in other jute-growing districts. In June, the rainfall was deficient in North Bengal and in Dacca and Mymensingh; elsewhere it was abundant. In July, the rainfall was less than the normal in all the jute-growing districts, except the 24-Parganas, Jessore, Jalpaiguri, Purnea, Cuttack and Balasore; but the rain appears to have been well distributed, and the crops did not suffer much from the deficiency. The distribution of rain in August, was particularly uniform and near to the normal throughout the jute growing districts. In the 1st and 2nd weeks of September general rain fell throughout these Provinces. On the whole, the season has been favourable, and there has been, and is generally, enough water for steeping the jute crop.

3. Area cultivated.—The total area sown in jute in Bengal is estimated by District Officers in returns appended to this note to amount to 2,147,900 acres, against 2,196,600 acres estimated to have been sown last year. The decrease of 48,700 acres (or 2·21 per cent.) is due, as stated in the first forecast, to the expectation which was formed early in the year, but which fortunately does not appear, in fact, to have been realised, that water would be deficient for steeping jute; also to the extension in the cultivation of paddy, which, on account of the high price of rice, was sown in preference to jute by many cultivators. The first estimates of areas, sown with jute this year, have been modified by the District Officers of Midnapur, Nadia, Rangpur, Pabna, Cuttack and Balasore. The total area under jute this year is now estimated to be less by 40,200 acres than the area estimated in the first forecast for this year. The decrease of estimate is most noticeable in the districts of Rangpur and Pabna.

4. Character of the crop.—Taking the eleven most important jute growing districts into consideration, it will be seen from the appended statement that Tippera, Pabna, Dinajpur, Bogra, Faridpur and Purnea return average crops of 16 annas; Dacca, Rajshahi and Jalpaiguri report 15-anna crops, and Mymensingh and Rangpur report 14-anna crops. One of these eleven districts, viz., Rajshahi reports a crop equal to that of last year, and the others report better crops. The crop in Rajshahi is reported to have been injured to some extent by insect pests. The crops on the low-lying lands of Mymensingh were submerged by floods. Taking next the less important jute-growing districts, it will be seen that Burdwan and Darjeeling plains return crops above the average; Hooghly, Jessore, Backergunge and Cuttack return average crops; Midnapur, 24-Parganas, Nadia, Khulna, Bhagalpur and Balasore report crops varying from 13 to less than 16 annas; and Murshidabad, Noakhali and Malda return 9 to 12-anna crops. The arithemetical mean outturn for the Province obtained from the district reports, calculated with reference to the areas cultivated, stands at 14·9 annas, or practically 15 annas. After allowing for a tendency on the part of reporting officers to under-estimate the outturn, the crop of 1897 was estimated by this Department in the first forecast as likely to give an average outturn of 16 annas. Since the issue of this forecast, the season has been very good, and the prospects of the crop are said to have improved in many districts. There is every reason therefore to believe that the present year's crop is as good as the crops of 1894 and 1895, though over a reduced area.

The jute crop of 1897 is estimated by this Department, therefore, as averaging 17 annas over the total area cultivated.

5. Gross outturn of the crop.—Under orders of the Government of India, No. 7, dated 24th February 1896, an estimate of the yield of jute in bales is required to be given in the final forecast of the jute crop. In column 9 of the appended statement, it will be seen that the estimated yield of the current year's crop, obtained by multiplying the estimated area by the standard outturn of 1,200 lbs., and again for each district by the District Officer's estimate in annas of the yield for the year, amounts to 60 lakhs of bales. Assuming, however, that the crop is a 17-anna crop, this Department estimates the gross outturn at 68½ lakhs of bales or a crop similar to that of 1894 and 1895, for which the original estimates were 61½ and 64¼ lakhs respectively, but for which revised estimates of 71 and 73 lakhs have been recently made. It is suggested that 69 and 71½ lakhs should be accepted as the outturn of the crops of 1894 and 1895 (viz., 2,236,500 acres $\times \frac{16\frac{2}{5}}{16}$ annas $\times$ 3 bales and 2,242,700 acres $\times$ $\frac{17}{16}$ annas $\times$ 3 bales). These estimates may or may not be correct. Even if correct, their correctness may be due to cancelling out of errors of excess on the one side against errors of unduly low estimate on the other side. It is possible that surplus stock of both years may have been left over at the end of the years. In estimating the gross yields above stated, 1,200 lbs. per acre has been taken as in former years (not 1,230 lbs. as in the first forecast of this year) as the average rate of production per acre for every jute-growing district in Bengal The Bengal Chamber of Commerce considers this estimate too high; and the Chamber is very possibly right in this criticism. But the Chamber does not give any reasons for the criticism, or suggests any other average rate of outturn as more nearly correct. This Department has nothing more trustworthy to substitute in its place. Fifteen maunds (1,230 lbs.) per acre was the estimate of average yield made by the Jute Commission of 1873 after minute and careful enquiry, and no more accurate estimate has since been made. Experimental cuttings and weighments of jute were begun by District Officers under the instructions of this Department in 1895 with a view to check the standard outturn of 1,200 lbs., which has been accepted in this Department in recent years. The result of these cuttings is not inconsistent with the estimate of average outturn at 1,200 lbs. to the acre. It is, however, open to those interested in the jute trade to take any other estimate of outturn which they may consider more reliable and to multiply by it the area shown in this return as under jute or any other area which they may think proper to take.

The Bengal Chamber of Commerce has expressed a wish that no estimate should be made by this Department of the exportable surplus of jute out of the present crop. It is observed, however, that the jute forecasts published by this Department were originally undertaken at the instance of the Dundee Chamber of Commerce, and it is not clear that it is to the interest of the Dundee mill owners, and of buyers in countries outside India, that no attempt should be made in this Department's Notes to estimate the amount of jute available for export, provided that it be clearly understood, that on account of the uncertainty of all the factors in the estimate, nothing like statistical accuracy is claimed. It seems to be desirable also to state the factors which determine the amount of jute available for export so far as those factors are known to this Department. Merchants and others interested in the jute trade are at liberty to accept the factors or not, as they think proper and to make their own deductions, if they please, on the basis of the district figures which are published in extenso for their benefit. The important factors which determine the amount available for export are the gross outturn of the jute harvest of the particular year; the amount of jute locally consumed in the districts for house construction, for tethering cattle, for local manufacture of gunny cloth, and for other minor uses; the amount consumed by mills in this country; the quantity of jute remaining over from the previous year; the imports into Bengal from other provinces, and the exports from Bengal into other provinces of India. It has already been explained that the estimate of gross outturn is at best only an approximation to the truth. The amount consumed in the districts has for many years been estimated by this Department at 10 to 15 lakhs of bales. The jute commission of 1873 estimated annual local consumption of raw jute in the jute districts at "half a maund to each household." This estimate of local consumption in the districts is necessarily rough for want of trustworthy information, and it has been challenged as excessive. The estimate must, therefore, be taken with reserve; and it is open to persons interested in the jute trade to make their own calculations under this head. In 1893 the Bengal Chamber of Commerce estimated local consumption at two lakhs of bales only; in 1896 the Chamber estimated local consumption at five lakhs. Enquiries have been instituted by this Department in this matter, and it is possible that more reliable information may be forthcoming for the jute forecasts of future years. With regard to the consumption of jute by country mills, it has been stated in the first forecast, that the Indian Jute Manufacturers' Association estimate the consumption, during the season 1897-98 at $21\frac{3}{4}$ lakhs of bales against $15\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs of bales, which was the average annual consumption of the three years ending 31st July 1896, and $18\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs of bales in 1896-97.

Regarding the quantity of jute left over from last year's stock, it may be observed again as in the first forecast that enquiries made by local officers showed that very little jute was left from last year's stock.

The imports into Bengal from other provinces and the exports from Bengal into other provinces are insignificant. The largest amount comes from Assam. The average imports from Assam of the ten years, 1886—1896, amounted to about $\frac{1}{2}$ lakh of bales.

Without making any pretensions to statistical accuracy, it is estimated in this Department, after assuming the exhaustment of the old stocks of the crop of 1896, and after allowing for the increased demand of the mills in this country, that about 35 lakhs of bales of jute will be available from the crop of 1897 for export.

6 Conclusion.—It is much regretted that a clerical error was made in the first forecast, in which the local consumption of raw jute in the districts was stated to be 10 to 15 lakhs of maunds, instead of 10 to 15 lakhs of bales. The earliest opportunity was taken, however, to rectify the error. Exception has been taken to the revision of the estimates of gross yield of the jute crops of 1894 and 1895, as given in the first forecast for the current year. It may be here explained that the revised estimates were obtained by multiplying the total area reported by District Officers to have been sown in those years by the average rate of outturn per acre taken at 1,230lbs. and again by multiplying the product by the ratio which the crops of those years were estimated, so far as regards yield to the acre, to have borne to an average crop. The previous estimates of total yield of the crops of 1894 and 1895 were discarded, as they appeared to have been prepared on a less correct basis of yield to the acre. It has been repeatedly explained in the crop forecasts published by this Department, that the figures of area and outturn are mere estimates, and are based neither on field survey and village returns, nor on accurate knowledge of the average rates of outturn per acre nor on exact knowledge of the character of particular harvests. The district estimates of area and outturn, such as they are, are published in extenso, along with such interpretations of them as this Department considers under all the circumstances to be suitable.

The Department is always ready to listen to reasonable criticism of its forecasts, to accept any practical and well based suggestions for their improvement, and to acknowledge errors which are made in spite of the care and attention which are given to the subject.

The increase in the outturn is due to timely rainfall.
Jessore	27,900	41,000	32,400	− 31·95	− 13·88	16	12	83,700	92,200	72,300	−9·21	+15·76	Seasonable rainfall since the sowing has rendered this year's outturn better than that of the last year.

The outturn now estimated will, however, be less if the crop is damaged by insects. In some places, it is reported to be damaged by insects to some extent.

Dinajpur ...	90,600	92,600	102,700	—9·83	—13·26	16	10	270,000	186,700	236,100	—44·61	—8·90	The decrease in columns 3, 4, 10 and 11, compared with the figures shown in the preceding year's report is due to the transfer of thana Mohadebpur to Rajshahi. The Subdivisional Officer of Thakurgaon estimates the outturn at 8 annas for his Subdivision. The crop is grown chiefly in the north and, therefore, though the outturn will be rather less than 16 annas elsewhere, on the whole a full average crop may be expected. The heavy rains early in September have given ample water for steeping.
Jalpaiguri ...	77,400	65,400	63,600	+19·54	+21·69	15	11½	217,000	141,000	183,300	+54·33	+37·56	The increase in area is due to the fact that there being a failure of crops last year, some of the ryots have cultivated a larger area with jute this year to make up the loss. The outturn is reported to be 15 annas in Alipur Subdivision, 16 annas in Mainaguri tahsil, 16 annas in Baikantapur Estates, 13 annas in Chakhlajat Estates. The Manager of the latter Estates reports that the steeping operations have been retarded owing to deficient rainfall.
Darjeeling (Plains).	2,500	2,500	2,500	—1·00	—1·00	1	10	7,70	4,600	6,000	+07·39	+28·33	Owing to the scarcity of food crops the area under jute has decreased with an increase in the cultivation of bhadoi. The increase in the outturn is due to seasonable rainfall. The area cropped in 1896, as well as the average area of three preceding years, was returned by the Deputy Commissioner as 13,800 acres. The estimate of normal area being revised by the Deputy Commissioner in the first forecast and reduced to 2,500 acres, a similar reduction has been made in the Director's office in the estimates of area shown in columns 3 and 4.

Rainfall on the whole has been favourable. The crop is said to have been slightly damaged by earthquake, which has also interfered with the probable supply of water for steeping it in Gaibanda Subdivision. Smaller area sown is general and is due to higher prices of rice, which has been more extensively cultivated.	The Collector has reduced his estimate in column 2 by 30,300 acres. The area as shown in the preliminary forecast was 270,300 acres.

The area shown in column 2 also differs from that shown in column 5 of the preliminary forecast as a further area of 350 acres has since been found to have been brought under cultivation. The current year's outturn, as estimated in the first forecast, was 14 annas. The plants were then very young, and more recent information leads to estimate the outturn at 16 annas.
Balasore ...	2,600	2,600	2,600	+7·69	+7·69	15	12	7,800	6,800	5,700	+34·48	+36·84	The increase in area and outturn, as compared with those of the previous year, is due to seasonable rainfall. The area under the current year's crop was shown as 2,700 in the preliminary forecast, but the area now shown is 2,600 acres as found after careful enquiry.	The Collector calculated the outturn in columns 9 and 10, on the basis of 500 lbs. as the rate of yield per acre. The all round rate, 1,200 lbs. per acre has been applied by this office in the case of this district.

LIBERALITY OF CERTAIN LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE RAJSHAHI DISTRICT.

No. 662P.D., dated Darjeeling, the 9th October 1897.

From—C. W. Bolton, Esq., c.s.i., Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal,
To—The Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 834Mct., dated the 8th ultimo, in which your report, for the information of Government, that in commemoration of the celebration of the completion of the sixtieth year of the reign of Her Majesty the Queen, Empress of India, the ladies and gentlemen of the district of Rajshahi mentioned below have promised subscriptions for the establishment of an industrial school in the town of Rampur Boalia with special arrangements for imparting instruction in scientific sericulture, and that Raja Promoda Nath Roy, of Dighapatia, has made over by a deed of gift for the site of the proposed school land measuring about 3 bighas, the market value of which is estimated at Rs. 5,000. The following are the amounts promised and the amounts already paid up to date. The subscribers have, it is stated, offered to pay up the balances as soon as the construction of the school building is taken in hand and the work of the school commences:—

		Amount promised.	Amount already paid.
		Rs.	Rs.
1.	Srimati Hemanta Kumari Debi, of Putia ...	6,000	2,000
2.	,, Mon Mohini Debi, of Putia	5,000	300
3.	Babu Kedar Prasanna Lahiri, of Kasimpur ...	15,000	5,000
4.	,, Bhuban Mohan Moitra, of Kalam ...	3,000	1,000
5.	Srimati Syama Sundari Chaudhurani and Srimati Uma Sundari Chaudhurani, of Dubalhati ...	2,000	1,000
6.	Maharaja Jagadindra Nath Roy, of Nator ...	500	250
7.	Babu Romoni Kanta Roy, of Changaon ...	500	200
	Total ...	32,000	9,750

2. You also report that, in addition to the sum of Rs. 3,000 which Babu Bhuban Mohan Moitra will subscribe for the industrial school, he has also promised to give Rs. 2,000 for the improvement of the water-supply in the town of Rampur Boalia, and that of this latter amount, Rs. 1,000 have already been paid by him.

3. I am to request that you will be good enough to convey to the ladies and gentlemen whose subscriptions you have brought to notice the thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor for their liberality and loyal and public spirit. This letter will be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

FIRST FORECAST OF THE WINTER RICE CROP IN BENGAL, 1897.

THE following is published for general information.

M. FINUCANE,
The 12th October 1897. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First Forecast of the Winter Rice Crop in Bengal, 1897.

1. Explanatory.—The District Officers' Returns, appended to this Note, state the condition of the crop in the middle of September.

2. Character of the season.—The rainfall of the months, April to September 1897, was described in this Department's Note on the bhadoi crops, dated 26th September 1897. The ante-monsoon showers were somewhat deficient throughout the Province. In June, the rainfall was very deficient in North Bengal; it was in excess in Bihar, on account of the very heavy fall which occurred towards the end of the month, and was normal in the other parts of the Province. In July, the rainfall was below the normal, except in Orissa. In August, the rainfall was unusually uniform and well distributed. Throughout September, general rain has fallen, especially in the northern and eastern districts. On the whole, the season has been favourable. The early showers were sufficient to enable the lands to be prepared, and although transplanting was somewhat delayed in North Bengal and in North Bihar by short rainfall at the beginning of July, the subsequent abundant showers made up for this deficiency.

3. Area cultivated.—The area cultivated with winter paddy this year is estimated to be 31,703,700 acres, against 29,282,000 acres estimated for 1896. This is an increase of 8 per cent., and it is due chiefly to more seasonable rainfall. The increase of area under rice is general throughout the Province, except in Chota Nagpur, but is especially marked in Burdwan and Hooghly, in all the districts of the Bhagalpur and Presidency Divisions, in Rajshahi, Jalpaiguri, Rangpur, Bogra, Mymensingh, Tippera, Shahabad, Champaran, Cuttack, and Balasore.

4. Outturn.—Eleven districts, viz., Burdwan, Midnapore, Khulna, Darjeeling, Faridpur, Backergunge, Tippera, Saran, Malda, Cuttack, and Manbhum, return a crop over 16 annas, or better than average; twelve districts, viz., Birbhum, Murshidabad, Chittagong, Gaya, Shahabad, Bhagalpur, Balasore, Angul and Khondmals, Hazaribagh, Lohardaga, Palamau, and Singhbhum return a 16-anna crop; nineteen districts, viz., Bankura, Hooghly, 24-Parganas, Jessore, Jalpaiguri, Rangpur, Bogra, Pabna, Dacca, Mymensingh, Noakhali, Patna, Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Monghyr, Purnea, the Sonthal Parganas, and Puri, return a crop under 16 annas, but not less than 14 annas; two districts, viz., Nadia and Rajshahi, return 13⅘ annas crops; and Dinajpur, which reports the poorest outturn in the Province, shows 12 annas. For every district in the Province, an outturn, much better than that of last year, is estimated, and in many districts, twice as good an outturn as that of last year, and even more, is estimated. The arithmetical mean of the district estimates in annas, calculated with reference to area, is 15 annas for the Province, but this appears to be too low, looking to the very favourable character of the season and prospects; and the estimate which is put forward by this Department is 17 annas.

Sadar	568,960	304,000	166,400	130,000	160,400	2	16	Owing to unusual drought last year, the beds of some bils, which became dry, were sown this year with winter rice, and there has been seasonable rainfall in July and August, hence the increase in area in the Sadar subdivision. In Bangaon subdivision, the decrease of 30,000 acres in comparison with its normal area is owing to low bil lands having been full of water and unfit for cultivation. The last year's outturn was extremely worse than normal for drought in October and November. This year the outturn is expected to be almost an average one, owing to seasonable rainfall since July last.

Patna ...	Whole district ...	929,280	660,000	432,300	225,000	400,000	12	14	Owing to continued drought in July, and also partly in August, the transplanting commenced very late and consequently the normal area under this crop is not likely to be all brought under cultivation this year. As regards the Sadar, the area cultivated this year is shown to be the same as last year, the advantage of rainfall at the time of sowing being equal. The outturn depends upon rainfall in October and upon flood. The flood is higher than last year, and the river is still rising. The outturn is thus shown to be 16 annas at present. The Subdivisional Officer of Sirajganj attributes the increase of area in column 7 to seasonable rainfall at the time of sowing. The prevailing scarcity is also assigned to be a cause for the cultivators' bringing a larger area under the cultivation of this crop. It is also reported that the outturn would be below the average, as the growth of the young plants was affected for want of rainfall.

Mymensingh.	Sadar	1,183,360	697,000	282,200	225,800	236,000	6	12	The increase of area sown with winter rice crop is due to the fact that, owing to the better distribution of rain during the sowing season, the cultivators were able to sow a larger area than that in the previous year, and that certain lands, which in previous years had been sown with jute, have in this year been sown with paddy. This explains the cause of increase in the normal area under this crop. The outturn is expected to be greater than that of last year, owing to the better distribution of rain during the time of transplantation.

Saran ...	Sadar	658,560	561,500	144,000	144,000	144,000	1	16	Owing to seasonable rainfall during the sowing season, the outturn is expected to be a little above the average.

	District Total ...	2,259,840	1,428,000	509,000	425,000	484,000	3½	15	The area on which a rice crop is being raised this year is less than the normal, as about 20,000 acres of land that usually grows winter rice has this year been put down in bhadoi crops for reasons explained in the bhadoi crop forecast, and a further area of about 5,000 acres in the north of Bettiah subdivision has not been planted out for want of timely rain. The latter cause also reduces the expected outturn in that Subdivision, as transplantation, which was extremely late, was going on up to the 12th September 1897.
Muzaffarpur.	Sadar	780,800	643,400	240,300	240,300	240,300	3	16	The rainy season has been very favourable this year, as compared with the last year, and hence better outturn. In the Sitamarhi subdivision there was not sufficient rain at the beginning of the rains, and hence the outturn will probably be less than the normal.

THE PRELIMINARY FORECAST OF THE INDIGO CROPS OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1896-97.

THE following is published for general information.

REV. DEPT., M. FINUCANE,

The 12th October 1897. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First Note on the Indigo Crops of the Lower Provinces of Bengal for the year 1897.

Explanatory.—The present return includes all the districts shown in the report on the indigo crops of the Lower Provinces of Bengal for the year 1896, except Patna, the return for which is stated to be blank, indigo not being cultivated anywhere in that district.

Area under cultivation.—In the report for 1896, the area under the indigo crops for that year was shown to be 530,500 acres. Revised estimates for Jessore, Rangpur, Saran, Champaran, Muzaffarpur and Malda result in a total estimate of the area cultivated with indigo in these Provinces in 1896 as 571,600 acres, while the total estimate of area cultivated with indigo in 1897 is 542,200 acres.

Midnapore, Nadia, Murshidabad, Jessore, Bhagalpur, Purnea, and Malda in Bengal, and Saran, Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga and Monghyr in Bihar return respectively 235,300 acres and 273,300 acres cultivated with indigo in 1897, or together 94 per cent. of the whole of the indigo cultivation in these Provinces.

There appears to have been a considerable decrease of cultivation in Midnapore, Nadia, Jessore, Saran and Muzaffarpur for want of moisture at the sowing time.

Character of the season.—Owing to the deficient rainfall and the early cessation of the monsoon of 1896, moisture was deficient at the time of cultivation and sowing of the indigo crop of 1897. Both in Bengal and Bihar sowings were retarded and the young plants withered in many places. Rain was also insufficient and badly distributed during the growth of the plant. The season has been specially unfavourable in Bihar, where both first and second cuttings have been very poor.

Outturn.—The only important indigo district which shows a 16-anna outturn is Bhagalpur; Monghyr returns a 13-anna crop; no other important indigo district returns a crop exceeding 11 annas; the worst crops are returned by Saran and Muzaffarpur, where the outturn is reported to be only 7 annas and 5½ annas respectively.

Messrs. Moran and Company estimate the outturn as 41,500 maunds only for the "Bihar" districts (under which they group only Saran, Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga and Monghyr) and 17,500 maunds for "Bengal" (under which Messrs. Moran group all the other indigo districts of these Provinces). The average outturn of the last fifteen years has been about 21,000 maunds in "Bengal" and about 64,000 maunds in "Bihar," as shown in the statement appended to this note. It may be estimated, therefore, that the crop has been a 13⅓ annas or $\frac{5}{6}$ths crop in Bengal and a 10⅔ annas or not quite a $\frac{2}{3}$rds crop in Bihar. For the whole Province the crop may be estimated at 11 annas only.

W. C. MACPHERSON,

Director of Land Records and Agriculture,

First forecast of the Indigo Crops of Bengal, 1897.

Division.	District.	Approximate normal area under indigo.	Approximate area sown last year (1896).	Estimated area sown this year 1897.	Taking 16 annas to represent the average outturn per acre, how many annas represented outturn last year (1896)?	Taking 16 annas to represent the average outturn per acre, how many annas will represent this year's outturn (1897)?	Remarks by the District Officers. 		Acres.	Acres.	Acres.	Annas.	Annas.
Burdwan	Burdwan	6,000	5,200	5,700	13½	16	The increase in the area sown this year, as compared with the last year's area, is due to the excellent rainfall at the sowing time; but the crops were partially damaged by floods, hence the outturn is not above the average. In Kalna and Katwa subdivisions, owing to seasonable rainfall, the outturn will be up to the average.
	Bankura	2,200	2,200	2,200	11	12	Owing to favourable weather, the outturn may be estimated at 12 annas this year.
	Midnapore ...	48,100	48,100	40,100	11	10	Owing to continued drought at the sowing time, the area brought under cultivation during this year has been less than the normal area, as well as the area cultivated last year. For the same reason the outturn will be less.	It appears to this Department that the Collector of Midnapore has greatly overestimated his area under indigo—see Messrs. Moran's estimate of outturn for Midnapore.
Presidency ...	Nadia	58,700	57,300	49,700	10	11	The figures in column 3 have been revised after proper enquiry. It is reported by the Subdivisional Officer of Meherpur that the smaller area sown is due to the drought, and that the expected outturn has been underestimated by some of the owners of factories in his subdivision. A better outturn than last year is expected.	The same remark applies to Nadia as to Midnapore, but in less degree.

		Acres.	Acres.	Acres.	Annas.	Annas.
Presidency ...	Murshidabad ...	59,200	51,300	51,400	9	9	The increase in area sown, as compared with that of the previous year, is too little to require any explanation.	The area appears to be in excess—see Messrs. Moran's estimate of outturn.
	Jessore ...	17,700	17,700	13,700	10	10	Decrease in area sown this year is due to a factory having been closed this year and to heavy demands for lands for paddy cultivation on account of the last year's scarcity. Constant and excessive rains during the manufacturing season have damaged the crop, and this is the main cause of this year's short outturn.
Rajshahi ...	Rajshahi ...	9,000	8,000	6,600	12	8	The Managers of the Indigo Concerns have not given any explanation of decrease in the area sown this year, neither have they said anything about the estimated outturn.
	Dinajpur ...	100	100	100	10	12	Indigo is sown only in thanas Parbatipur and Nawabganj. The outturn has been estimated at 12 annas owing to insufficient rain. The area sown in this district is very small.
	Rangpur	7,700	7,000	5,800	9	9	The cultivation of this crop is gradually dying out in this district, it being less lucrative than jute, tobacco, &c.
Dacc ...	Faridpur ...	500	500	500	14	14	The decrease in area in column 3 is due to closing of three factories. In former returns the normal area was shown as 1,000 acres.

Patna	Gaya ...	100	100	100	14	16	Owing to favourable rainfall this year, the whole normal area has been cultivated, and to the same cause is due the average outturn.
	Shahabad ...	7,300	6,900	6,700	7½	11	In supersession of all previous figures, those now shown may be taken as approximately correct. Last year's figures were given without proper enquiry. The area and outturn this year were affected by want of moisture at sowing time.
	Saran ...	37,000	34,000	32,000	11	7	The figures in columns 3 and 4 have been changed after due consideration of the return received from the Indigo Concern. The decrease in the area and outturn of this year is due to the failure of the seed to germinate on many lands for want of sufficient moisture in the early part of the season, and to the poor quantity of the plant for the same reason.
	Champaran ...	75,000	70,000	74,000	13	10	The normal area has been revised, as the results of the cadastral survey are now available and show 75,000 acres instead of 84,000 as the normal area. The outturn is much below the average this year, as great lack of moisture in the lands to begin with and unfavourable weather during manufacture have affected it almost adversely. The second cuttings are extremely poor. The total outturn this year is estimated at 12,600 factory maunds only. Last year's outturn appears to have been under-estimated.
	Muzaffarpur ...	109,300	102,800	88,000	8	64	For want of moisture in the soil due to scanty rainfall last year and about the sowing time a less area than normal and in last year was sown during the year under report. The settlement office records show the area under indigo to be 102,183 acres. Hence the the figures in column 3 of this forecast have, in round numbers, been shown to be 101,300 acres.
	Darbhanga ...	87,300	70,300	70,300	10	10	The Collector should have explained the decrease of cultivation as compared with the normal cultivation.

3. Foreign trade. The total value of the foreign trade during the year is stated to be Rs. 75,39,602, of which Rs. 15,14,962 is under imports. There is a decrease of Rs. 35,05,110 in the value of this trade as compared with that of the previous year.

4. The total value of the coasting trade is given at Rs. 1,42,63,654, against Rs. 1,66,38,770 of the previous year, showing a decrease of Rs. 23,75,116. The decrease is due mainly to the failure of crops in Chitttagong and the adjacent districts; and to the smaller importation of jute from Narayanganj.

Coasting trade.

5. The principal articles of trade are shown in the following statement:—

				1896-97.	1895-96.
Exports	...	Jute	Tons	31,887	45,128

6. The appliances of the port and the light-houses are reported to have been kept in good order during the year. New anchors, mooring chains, and buoys have been received from England, and will be laid in continuation of the present fixed moorings. All the old moorings were lifted and relaid. They are now believed to be thoroughly trustworthy and capable of accommodating the largest class of vessels visiting the port.

Port appliances.

7. The earnings of the steam tug Gekko, maintained by the port, amounted to Rs. 4,037-12, whilst the expenditure on maintaining the vessel, exclusive of Rs. 16,294 for interest and sinking fund, aggregated Rs 19,042. The net loss was, therefore, Rs. 15,005. Against this, however, is to be set off a sum of Rs. 6,000, the estimated value of services performed for the port for which no charge was made. The decrease in the earnings is due to the falling off in the number of sailing vessels visiting the port during the year.

Earnings and expenditure of the steam-tug Gekko.

The proposal of the Commissioners to abolish the two different rates of towage has been approved, and it is hoped that the result will be an increase in the present towage earnings of the tug.

8. The health of the shipping was good as compared with that of the past year. Twenty-one seamen were admitted into hospital in 1896 97, against 38 in 1895-96: there were no deaths; 15 men were cured and 6 discharged after medical treatment.

Health of the shipping.

COLLISION BETWEEN THE SHIP "ERNE" AND THE PILOT BRIG "FAME."

No. 210T.—M.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Darjeeling, the 9th October 1897.

READ—

Government of Bengal, Marine Department, Resolution No. 1519Marine, dated the 18th August 1897, appointing, under section 7 of Act V of 1883, as amended by Act VI of 1891, a Court of Enquiry to investigate into the cause of the collision between the ship Erne and the pilot brig Fame.

Letter No. 3, dated the 1st September 1897, from the Chief Presidency Magistrate, submitting the proceedings and Report of the Court of Enquiry.

RESOLUTION.—On the 8th August 1897 the ship Erne, sailing up to the Sandheads, collided with the pilot brig Fame while at anchor, causing material damage to the latter vessel.

2. In the Resolution No. 1519Marine, dated the 18th August 1897, cited above, this Department appointed a special Court of Enquiry, consisting of the Chief Presidency Magistrate as President, and Captains McAllister and Webster as members, to make an investigation into the cause of the casualty.

The Court has now submitted the proceedings and report.

3. The enquiry was held on the 24th August 1897, and on its conclusion the Court framed a charge against Captain S. R. Hitchin, Master of the British ship Erne, of having committed a wrongful act in not passing the stern of the pilot brig Fame when she was at anchor, and in attempting to cross her bow, thereby causing damage to the said brig and committing an offence under section 9 of Act V of 1883. On the 28th August 1897, the Master was tried on the charge framed above, the Court being assisted by Captains T. S. Bailey and J. Woodward as Assessors.

4. The Court and Assessors are unanimous in their opinion that Captain Hitchin, Master, committed an error of judgment, and thereby caused a collision between his vessel and the pilot brig Fame, but, with the exception of the President, consider that the fault committed was not one meriting a suspension of certificate. The President, disagreeing with the members, is of opinion that the fault was serious and that the Master's certificate should be suspended for three months, a mate's certificate being granted to him for that period.

5. The Lieutenant-Governor, in reviewing the proceedings, regrets that he is unable, under the existing law, to give effect to the opinion of the President of the Court, as the certificate of the Master is one granted by the Board of Trade. Captain Hitchin, the Master of the ship Erne, in his statement before the Court, acknowledges that he supposed the brig was under weigh when she was at anchor, and that he misjudged his distance from her. In extenuation of his fault he urges that he had had a long and trying voyage and that his nerves were affected. The Lieutenant-Governor having carefully considered the entire circumstances, is unable to agree in the opinion of the majority of the Court, and considers that the fault of the Master was of a most serious and dangerous character. The incapacity which Captain Hitchin pleads is no excuse whatever; if he was in such a condition as to be unable to attend to the first principles of seamanship, he should have handed over charge of the vessel to his senior officer.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution, with copy of the proceedings and report of the Court of Enquiry, be forwarded to the Chief Presidency Magistrate, for information, and to the Port Officer, Calcutta, for information and for communication of the orders to the Master of the ship Erne.

Ordered also that a copy of the papers be forwarded to the Board of Trade for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. D. McARTHUR, Col., RE.,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Imports.—During the period under report, the imports of rice amounted to 51,910 cwts., against 29,856 cwts. in the third week of September 1896. The amount imported from Burma was 26,308 cwts., against 2 cwts. in the corresponding period of 1896, and that from the Straits Settlements 14,439 cwts., against nil in the corresponding period of last year. Shipments of rice from Chandbali fell from 25,294 cwts. to 9,680 cwts. The imports of paddy fell from 18,749 cwts. to 4,668 cwts., owing entirely to smaller consignments from Chandbali, and to the cessation of exports from Madras and Balasore.

Exports.—In the following statement the total quantity of each kind of food-grain exported by sea during the week ending 21st September 1897 is compared with that for the corresponding period of 1896 :—

Foreign Ports.

The exports of rice from Calcutta to foreign ports declined from 39,617 cwts. in the third week of September 1896 to 3,804 cwts. in the period under report, owing chiefly to the cessation of exports to Reunion and Ceylon, which received 20,701 cwts. and 15,274 cwts. respectively in the corresponding period of last year. The exports of gram and pulse decreased from 14,782 cwts. to 447 cwts. owing to the absence of shipments to the United Kingdom and other countries.

Indian Ports.

As regards Indian ports, the exports of rice during the third week of September 1897 amounted to only 248 cwts., against 1,900 cwts. in the corresponding period of last year. The exports of gram and pulse declined from 8,187 cwts. to 1,432 cwts, the decrease being due to the absence of consignments to Bombay, which drew 2,494 cwts. in the third week of September 1896, and to a general decline in the quantity sent to other Indian ports.

Detailed statements showing the sources of supply and the places of destination, both as regards Foreign and Indian ports, are given below:—

General Summary.—There was general rain at the beginning of the week, the fall being very heavy in many parts of the Province, especially in the extreme north. The winter rice crop has everywhere been benefited by the rain, and is doing well. The rain has also facilitated the preparation of land for the rabi crops, which is in active progress. The harvesting of the bhadoi crops, including jute, is being rapidly completed. Sugarcane generally promises to be a good crop. The price of common rice is reported to have fallen in several districts. Relief works remain open in Manbhum only, where the average price of common rice upon which the famine wage is calculated, is 8½ seers per rupee. Gratuitous relief is still being given in Manbhum and Khulna and to a small extent in Patna and Hazaribagh.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about equal: and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

PRELIMINARY.

1. THIS license may be cited as the Calcutta Electric Lighting License, 1896.

2. This license is to be read and construed subject, in all respects, to the provisions of the Calcutta Electric Lighting Act, 1895, and the several words, terms and expressions, to which, by that Act, meanings are assigned, shall have, in this license, the same respective meanings, provided that in this license

The expression "the Act" shall mean the said Calcutta Electric Lighting Act, 1895.

The expression "energy" shall mean electrical energy, and, for the purposes of applying the provisions of the Act to this license, electrical energy shall be deemed to be an agency within the meaning of electricity, as defined in the Calcutta Electric Lighting Act, 1895.

The expression "power" shall mean electrical power, or the rate per unit of time at which energy is supplied.

The expression "main" shall mean any electric line, which may be laid down by the undertakers in any street or public place, and through which energy may be supplied, or intended to be supplied, by the undertakers, for the purposes of general supply.

The expression "service line" shall mean any electric line, through which energy may be supplied, or intended to be supplied by the undertakers, to a consumer, either from any main, or directly from the premises of the undertakers.

The expression "distributing main" shall mean the portion of any main which is used for the purpose of giving origin to service lines for the purposes of general supply.

The expression "general supply" shall mean the general supply of energy to ordinary consumers, and, unless otherwise specially agreed with the local authority, to the public lamps, but shall not include the supply of energy to any one or more particular consumers under special agreement.

The expression "area of supply" shall mean the area within which the undertakers are, for the time being, authorized to supply energy under the provisions of this license.

The expressions "first schedule," "second schedule, "third schedule," and "fourth schedule" shall mean the first, second, third, and fourth schedules to this license annexed, respectively.

The expression "deposited map" shall mean the map of the area of supply deposited with the Local Government by the undertakers, together with the license, and signed by A. B.

For the purpose of this license, the word "plan" shall be held to mean a plan drawn to a horizontal scale of at least one inch to 100 ft., and a section drawn to a vertical scale of at least one inch to 10 feet, with such detail, plan, and section as may be necessary.

3. This license shall come into force, and have effect upon the day when the Notification, confirming this license, is published in the Calcutta Gazette, which date is, in this license, referred to as "the commencement of this license," and this license shall continue in force for the full period of 21 years provided by Section III, (ii), of the Calcutta Electric Lighting Act, 1895.

Address and description of the undertakers.

4. The undertakers for the purpose of this license are—Messrs. Kilburn & Co., on behalf of The Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, being a Company to be registered under the English Companies Act, 1862 and 1890, with limited liability, and having its registered office at 28, St. Mary Axe, London, E.C., with a local office and accredited agents at 4, Fairlie Place, Calcutta.

Provided that, if the undertaking, or any part thereof, is at any time purchased by, or transferred to, any other body, or persons, in accordance with the provisions of this license, or of the Act, such body or persons shall, from the date of such purchase or transfer, be the undertakers in relation to such undertaking, or part thereof, for the purposes of this license, in lieu of the undertakers above-mentioned.

The undertakers shall not, at any time, without the previous consent, in writing, of the Local Government, purchase, or acquire the undertaking of, or associate themselves with, any other Company or persons supplying, or intending to supply, energy within the city of Calcutta, and before applying for such consent, the undertakers shall give one month's notice of the application to every local authority, both in the undertakers' area of supply, and also in the area or district in which such other Company, or person supplies, or intends to supply, energy, and every such local authority shall be entitled to be heard with respect to the application.

If the undertakers purchase, or acquire, any undertaking or associate themselves with any other Company, or person, in contravention of the provisions of this clause, the Local Government may revoke this license upon such terms as it may think just.

Area of supply.

5. Subject to the provisions of this license, the area of supply shall be the whole of the area included in the first schedule, which said area is more particularly delineated upon the deposited map, and thereon coloured blue.

6. The undertakers shall not, at any time after the commencement of this license, supply energy, or erect, or lay down, any electric lines, or works, beyond the area of supply, otherwise than under a license granted by the Local Government under the Act.

If the undertakers supply energy, or erect, or lay down, electric lines, or works, in contravention of this section, the Local Government may revoke this license on such terms as it may think just.

Security and Accounts.

7. The undertakers, within a period of six months after the commencement of this license, and before exercising any of the powers by this license conferred on them in relation to the execution of works, shall show, to the satisfaction of the Local Government, that they are in a position fully and efficiently to discharge the duties and obligations imposed upon them by this license throughout the area of supply.

The undertakers shall, within six months after the commencement of this license, or such extended period as may be approved by the Local Government, and before exercising any of the powers conferred on them in relation to the execution of works, deposit, or secure to the satisfaction of the Local Government, a sum equal to 10 per cent. of the probable outlay, subject to a limit of Rs. 20,000 in respect of the area of supply, or such sums, in respect of the several local authorities' districts, which are, wholly or partly, comprised in the area of supply, not exceeding in the aggregate twenty thousand rupees, as the Local Government may direct.

If, within any such period as aforesaid, the undertakers fail to show, to the satisfaction of the Local Government, that they are in such a position, as above-mentioned, or fail to deposit, or secure, such sum, or sums, as aforesaid, this license may be revoked by the Local Government as to the whole, or, with the consent of the undertakers, any part of the area affected thereby, upon such terms as it may think just.

Any sum or sums deposited or secured by the undertakers under the provisions of this section in respect of the area of supply, or of any such district, shall be repaid or released to them, from time to time, in equal moieties, when, and so soon as, it may be certified by an Inspector, to be appointed by the Local Government, that amounts equal to the sums so to be repaid or released have been expended by the undertakers upon works executed for the purposes of the undertaking in such area or district, or that distributing mains have been duly laid down, in accordance with the provisions of this license, in every street, or part of a street, specified in that behalf in the second schedule, and situate in such area or district; or at such earlier dates, and by such instalments as may, from time to time, be approved by the Local Government.

8. The undertakers shall, except with the special approval of the Local Government, to be previously given, at all times keep accounts of the capital employed for the purposes of the undertaking distinct from the accounts kept by them in respect of any other undertaking or business.

Nature and mode of supply.

9. Subject to the provisions of this license and the Act, the undertakers may supply energy within the area of supply for all public and private purposes as defined by the Act, provided as follows :—

(a) Such energy shall be supplied only by means of some system which shall be approved of by the Local Government, and subject to such regulations and conditions for securing the safety of the public, and for insuring a proper and sufficient supply of energy, as the Local Government may, from time to time, impose.

(b) The undertakers shall, in the use of electric power for the working of any tramway under the provisions of this license, employ either insulated metallic returns, or un-insulated metallic returns of low resistance, save in the case of any tramways or tramroads worked by the undertaking in which the motive power may be entirely self-contained.

(c) The undertakers shall take all reasonable precautions in constructing, placing, and maintaining their electric lines and circuits, and other works of all descriptions, and also in working their undertaking so as not injuriously to affect, by fusion, or electrolytic action, any gas or water-pipes, or other metallic pipes, structures, or substances.

(d) The exercise of the powers by this license conferred, with respect to the use of electric power, shall be subject to the regulations set forth in this license, or under the said Act, and to any regulations which may be added thereto, or substituted therefor, respectively, by any order which the Local Government may make, from time to time, as, or when, they may think fit, for regulating the employment of insulated metallic returns of low resistance, for preventing fusion, or injurious electrolytic action of, or on, gas or water-pipes, or other metallic pipes, structures, or substances, and for minimising, as far as is reasonably practicable, injurious interference with the electric wires, lines, and apparatus of other parties, and the currents therein, whether such lines do, or do not, use the earth as a return.

(e) The undertakers using electric power contrary to the provisions of this license, or to any of the regulations set forth in the said Act, or to any regulation added thereto, or substituted therefor, by any order made by the Local Government, under the authority of this license, or of the said Act, shall, for every such offence, be subject to a penalty not exceeding Rs. 100, and also, in the case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding Rs. 50, for every day during which such offence continues after conviction thereof:

Provided, always, that, whether such penalty has been recovered or not, the Local Government, in case, in their opinion the undertakers in the use of electric power under the authority of this license, have made default in complying with the provisions of this license, or of the said Act, or with any of the regulations aforesaid, may, by order, direct the undertakers to cease to use electric power, and thereupon the undertakers shall cease to use electric power, and shall not again use the same, unless with the authority of the Local Government.

(f) The undertakers shall take all reasonable and proper precautions in constructing, placing, and maintaining their electric lines, circuits and other works of any description, and in using their electric lines, circuits and other works, so as not injuriously to interfere with the working of any wire, line, or apparatus from time to time used for the purpose of transmitting electric power, or of telegraphic, telephonic, or electric signalling communication, or the currents in such wire, line, or apparatus:

Provided, always, that the undertakers shall be deemed to take all such reasonable and proper precautions, as aforesaid, if, and so long as, they adopt, and employ at the option of the undertakers, either such insulated returns, or such uninsulated metallic returns of low resistance, and such other means of preventing injurious interference with the electric wires, lines, and apparatus of other parties, and the currents therein, as the Local Government shall direct; and in giving such directions, the Local Government shall have regard to the expense involved, and to the effect thereof upon the commercial prospects of the undertaking.

Provided, also, that at the expiration of two years from the date on which the undertakers commence the public supply of Electric power under the terms of this license, nothing in this sub-clause shall operate to give any right of action in respect of, or to protect any electric wires, lines, or apparatus, or the currents therein, unless, in the construction, erection, maintaining and working of such wires, lines, and apparatus, all reasonable and proper precautions, including the use of an insulated return, have been taken to prevent injurious interference therewith. and with the currents therein, by or from other electric currents.

If any difference arises between the undertakers and any other party with respect to anything in this sub-clause contained, such difference shall, unless the parties otherwise agree, be determined by the Local Government, or at the option of the Local Government, by an arbitrator to be appointed by the Local Government, and the costs of such determination shall be in the discretion of the Local Government, or of the arbitrator, as the case may be.

Works.

Powers for execution of works.

10. Subject to the provisions of this license and the Act, the undertakers may, from time to time, exercise all or any of the powers conferred on them by this license and the Act, and may break up such streets not repairable by the Local Government or by the local authority, and such railways, tramways and bridges, (if any), as are specified in the third schedule, and open and break up any sewers, drains or tunnels, within, or under, such streets, railways, tramways and bridges, so far as such streets, railways, tramways and bridges may, for the time being, be included in the area of supply, and be, or be upon, land dedicated to public use; provided, however, as respects any such railway, that the powers hereby granted shall extend only to such parts thereof as pass across, or along, any highway on the level.

Subject, as aforesaid, the undertakers may also, from time to time, construct distributing boxes in any street for the purpose of supplying energy. Every such distributing box shall be for the exclusive use of the undertakers, and under their sole control, except so far as the Local Government may otherwise order, and shall be used by the undertakers only for the purpose of leading off service lines and other distributing conductors, or for examining, testing, regulating, measuring, converting, directing or controlling the supply of energy, or for examining or testing the condition of the mains or other portions of the works, or for other like purposes connected with the undertaking, and the undertakers may place therein meters, switches, and any other suitable and proper apparatus for any of the above purposes, and may maintain and use the same. All work in connection with such distributing boxes shall be done at such times, and in such manner, as will cause as little obstruction and inconvenience as circumstances permit.

Prohibition of overhead wires.

11. The undertakers shall not, without the express consent of the Local Government, place any electric line above ground, along, over, or across any street.

If the undertakers place any electric lines in contravention of this section, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such offence, and in the case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding fifty rupees for every day after the first day during which such offence continues.

Notice of works, with plan, to be served on the Local Government and local authority.

12. Where the exercise of any of the powers of the undertakers in relation to the execution of any works (including the construction of distributing boxes) will involve the placing of any works in, under, along or across any street or public bridge, repairable by the Local Government or by the local authority, the following provision shall have effect:—

(a) One month before commencing the execution of such works (not being the repairs, renewals or amendments of existing works of which the character and position are not altered), the undertakers shall serve the notice upon the Local Government or the local authority, prescribed by section 7 of the Act, describing the proposed works, together with a plan of the works, showing the mode and position in which such works are intended to be executed, and the manner in which it is intended that such street or bridge, or any sewer, drain or tunnel therein or thereunder, is to be interfered with, and shall, upon being required to do so by the Local Government or the local authority, from time to time, give it, or them, any such further information in relation thereto as it, or they, may desire.

(b) The Local Government or the local authority may, in its, or their, discretion, approve of any such works or plan, subject to such amendments or conditions as may seem fit, or may disapprove the same, and may give notice of such approval or disapproval to the undertakers.

(c) If the Local Government or the local authority fail to give any such notice of approval or disapproval to the undertakers within one month after the service of the notice upon them, it, or they, shall be deemed to have approved such works and plan.

(d) Notwithstanding anything in this license or the Act, the undertakers shall not be entitled to execute any such works as above specified, except so far as the same may be of a description, and in accordance with a plan, which has been approved, or is to be deemed to have been approved by the Local Government and the local authority as above-mentioned, under this license; but where any such works and such plan are so approved, or to be deemed to be approved, the undertakers may cause such works to be executed in accordance with such plan, subject, in all respects, to the provisions of this license and of the Act.

(e) If the undertakers make default in complying with any of the requirements or restrictions of this section, they shall (in addition to any other compensation which they may be liable to make under the provisions of this license or the Act), make full compensation to the Local Government and the local authority for any loss or damage which it, or they, may incur by reason thereof, and in addition thereto they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such default, and, in the case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding fifty rupees for every day after the first day during which such default continues: provided that the undertakers shall not be subject to any such penalties as aforesaid if the Court, having cognizance of the case, shall be of opinion that the case was one of emergency, and that the undertakers complied with the requirements of this section, so far as was reasonable under the circumstances.

For the purposes of this license the word "plan" shall be held to mean a plan drawn to a horizontal scale of at least one inch to 100 feet, and a section drawn to a vertical scale of at least one inch to 10 feet, with such detail, plan, and section as may be necessary.

As to breaking up streets not repairable by Local Government or local authority, railways and tramways.

13. Where the exercise of the powers of the undertakers in relation to the execution of any works will involve the placing of any works in, under, along, or across any street, or part of a street, not repairable by the Local Government or the local authority, or over or under any railway, tramway or canal, the following provisions shall have effect, unless otherwise agreed between the parties interested:—

(a) Fourteen days before commencing the execution of any such works (not being the repairs, renewals or amendments of existing works of which the character and position are not altered), the undertakers shall, in addition to any other notices which they may be required to give under this license or the Act, serve a notice upon the body or person liable to repair such street, or part of a street, or the body or person for the time being entitled to work such railway or tramway, or the owners of such canal, (as the case may be), in this section referred to as the "owners," describing the proposed works, and stating the amount of compensation (if any) proposed to be made in respect thereof, and the manner in which such compensation is proposed to be paid or secured, together with a plan of the works, showing the mode and position in which such works are intended to be executed and placed, and shall, upon being required to do so by any such owners, from time time, give them any such further information in relation thereto as they may desire.

(b) Every such notice shall contain a reference to this section, and direct the attention of the owners to whom it is given to the provisions thereof.

(c) Within one month after the service of any such notice and plan upon any owners, such owners may, if they think fit, serve a requisition upon the undertakers requiring that any question in relation to such works, and any other question arising upon such notice or plan as aforesaid, shall be settled by arbitration; and thereupon such question shall be settled by arbitration accordingly.

(d) In settling any question under this section, an arbitrator shall have regard to any duties or obligations which the owners may be under in respect of such street, railway, tramway, or canal, and may, if he thinks fit, require the undertakers to execute any temporary, or other works, so as to avoid any interference with any traffic, so far as may be possible.

(e) Where no such requisition, as in this section mentioned, is served upon the undertakers, or where after any such requisition has been served upon them, any question required to be settled by arbitration has been so settled, the undertakers may, upon paying or securing any compensation which they may be required to pay or secure in the manner proposed by them, or settled by arbitration as aforesaid, cause to be executed the works specified in such notice and plan as aforesaid, and may, from time to time, repair, renew, and amend the same, (provided that their character and position are not altered), but subject, in all respects, to the provisions of this license and the Act, and only in accordance with the notice and plan so served by them as aforesaid, or such modifications thereof, respectively, as may have been settled by arbitration, as hereinbefore mentioned, or as may be agreed upon between the parties.

(f) If the undertakers make default in complying with any of the requirements or restrictions of this section, they shall (in addition to any other compensation which they may be liable to make under the provisions of this license or the Act) make full compensation to the owners affected thereby for any loss or damage which they may incur by reason thereof, and in addition thereto they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such default, and, in the case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding fifty rupees for every day after the first day during which such default continues: Provided that the undertakers shall not be subject to any such penalities, as aforesaid, if the Court having cognizance of the case shall be of opinion that the case was one of emergency, and that the undertakers complied with the requirements of this section, so far as was reasonable under the circumstances.

14. The undertakers may, from time to time, alter the position of any pipes (not forming part of any main sewer of the local authority), or any wires, being under any street or place authorized to be broken up by them, which may interfere with the exercise of their powers under the Act or this license; and any body or person may, in like manner, alter the position of any electric lines or works of the undertakers, being under any such street or place, as aforesaid, which may interfere with the lawful exercise of any powers vested in such body or person in relation to such street or place, subject to the following provisions, unless otherwise agreed between the parties interested—

(a) Fourteen days before commencing any such alteration, the undertakers, or such body or person (as the case may be), in this section referred to as "the operators," shall serve a notice upon the body or person for the time being entitled to such pipes, wires, electric lines, or works (as the case may be), in this section referred to as "the owners," describing the proposed alteration, and stating the amount of compensation (if any) proposed to be made in respect thereof, and the manner in which such compensation (if any) is proposed to be paid or secured, together with a plan showing the manner in which it is intended that such alterations shall be made, and shall, upon being required to do so by any such owners, from time to time, give them any such further information in relation thereto as they may desire.

(b) Within seven days after the service of any such notice and plan upon any owners, such owners may, if they think fit, serve a requisition upon the operators requiring that any question in relation to such works, or any other question arising upon such notice or plan, as aforesaid, shall be settled by arbitration, and thereupon such question shall be settled by arbitration accordingly.

(c) In settling any question under this section, an arbitrator shall have regard to any duties or obligations which the owners may be under in respect of such pipes, wires, electric lines or works, and may, if he thinks fit, require the operators to execute any temporary or other works, so as to avoid interference with any purpose for which such pipes, wires, electric lines or works are used, so far as may be possible.

(d) Where no such requisition, as in this section mentioned, is served upon the operators, the owners shall be held to have agreed to the notice or plan served on them as aforesaid, and in such case, or where, after any such requisition has been served upon them, any question required to be settled by arbitration has been so settled, the operators, upon paying or securing any compensation which they may be required to pay or secure in the manner proposed by them, or settled by arbitration, as aforesaid, may cause the alterations specified in such notice and plan, as aforesaid, to be made, but subject, in all respects, to the provisions of this license and the Act, and only in accordance with the notice and plan so served by them, as aforesaid, or such modifications thereof, respectively, as may have been settled by arbitration, as hereinbefore mentioned, or as may be agreed upon between the parties.

(e) At any time, before any operators are entitled to commence any such alterations as aforesaid, the owners may serve a statement upon the operators, stating that they desire to execute such alterations themselves, and where any such statement has been served upon the operators, they shall not be entitled to proceed themselves to execute such alteration, except where they have notified to such owners that they require them to execute such alterations, and such owners have refused, or neglected to comply with such notification, as hereinafter provided.

(f) Where any such statement, as last aforesaid, has been served upon the operators, they shall, not more than forty-eight hours, and not less than twenty-four hours, before the execution of such alterations is required to be commenced, serve a notification upon the owners, stating the time when such alterations are required to be commenced, and the manner in which such alterations are required to be made.

(g) Upon receipt of any such notification as last aforesaid, the owners may proceed to execute such alterations as required by the operators, subject to the like restrictions and conditions as the operators would themselves be subject to in executing such alterations, so far as the same may be applicable.

(h) If the owners decline, or, for twenty-four hours after the time when any such alterations are required to be commenced, neglect to comply with such notification, the operators may, themselves, proceed to execute such alterations, in like manner as they might have done if no such statement, as aforesaid, had been served upon them.

(i) Expenses incurred by any owners in complying with any notification of any operators under the last preceding sub-section, shall be repaid to them by such operators, and may be recovered through a Court of competent jurisdiction.

(j) Any owners may, if they think fit, by any statement served by them upon any operators under this section, require the operators to give them such security for the repayment to them of any expenses to be incurred by them in executing any alterations, as above-mentioned, as may be agreed upon between such owners and operators, or, in default of agreement, as may be determined by arbitration; and where any operators have been so required to give security, they shall not be entitled to serve a notification upon the owners requiring them to execute such alterations, until such security has been duly given.

(k) If the operators make default in complying with any of the requirements or restrictions of this section, they shall, (in addition to any other compensation which they may be liable to make under the provisions of this license or the Act), make full compensation to the owners affected thereby for any loss, damage, or penalty which they may incur by reason thereof, and, in addition thereto, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such default, and, in the case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding fifty rupees for every day after the first day during which such default continues: provided that the operators shall not be subject to any such additional penalties, as aforsaid, if the Court having cognizance of the case shall be of opinion that the case was one of emergency, and that the operators complied with the requirements of this section, so far as was reasonable under the circumstances.

Laying of electric lines, &c., near pipes for Gas or Water, and near sewers, drains, &c.

15. Whenever the undertakers require to dig or sink any trench for laying down any new electric lines (other than service lines), or other works, near to which any pipe, sewer, drain, water-course, defence, or work under the jurisdiction or control of the Local Government, or of any local authority, or belonging to any duly authorized Company or any branch, or service pipe for the supply of gas or water, has been lawfully placed, or where any duly authorized Company requires to dig, or sink, any trench for laying down any new mains or pipes other than service pipes, or other apparatus, near to which any lines or works of the undertakers have been lawfully placed, the undertakers, or such duly authorized Company (as the case may be), in this section referred to as the "operators," shall, unless otherwise agreed between the parties interested, give to the Local Government or local authority, or to such duly authorized Company, or to the undertakers (as the case may be), in this section referred to as the "owners," not more than forty-eight hours,' and not less than twenty-four hours' notice before commencing to dig or sink such trench as aforesaid, and such owners shall be entitled, by their officer, to superintend the digging or sinking of such trench; and the operators shall conform with such reasonable requirements as may, from time to time, be made by the owners, or such officer, for the protection of every such sewer, drain, water-course, defence, pipe, electric line, or work, and for securing the same from injury; and they shall also, if required to do so by the owners thereof, repair any damage that may be done thereto.

If the operators make default in complying with any of the requirements or restrictions of this section, they shall make full compensation to all owners affected thereby for any loss or damage which they may incur by reason thereof, and, in addition thereto, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such default, and, in the case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding fifty rupees for every day after the first day during which such default continues: provided that the operators shall not be subject to any such penalty, if the Court having cognizance of the case shall be of opinion that the case was one of emergency, and that the operators complied with the requirements and restrictions of this section, as far as was reasonable under the circumstances, or that the default in question was due to the fact that the operators were ignorant of the position of the sewer, drain, water-course, defence, pipe, electric line or work affected thereby, and that such ignorance was not owing to any negligence on the part of the operators.

16. Seven days before commencing to lay down, or place, any electric line, or to use any electric line in any manner, whereby the work of telegraphic, or telephonic, or electric signalling communication through any wire or line, lawfully laid down, or placed in any position, may be injuriously affected, the undertaker shall, unless otherwise agreed between the parties interested, give to the owner of such wire or line notice in writing, specifying the course, nature, and gauge of such electric line, and the manner in which such electric line is intended to be used, and the amount, and nature of the currents intended to be transmitted thereby, and the extent to, and manner in which (if at all), earth returns are proposed to be used; and any owner entitled to receive such notices, may, from time to time, serve a requisition on the undertakers, requiring them to adopt such precautions as may be therein specified in regard to the laying, placing, or user of such electric line, for the purpose of preventing such injurious affection; and the undertakers shall conform with such reasonable requirements as may be made by such owner for the purpose of preventing the communication through such wire or line from being injuriously affected, as aforesaid.

If any difference arises between any such owner and the undertakers with respect to the reasonablenes of any requirements so made, such difference shall be determined by arbitration.

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall apply to repairs of renewals of any electric line, so long as the course, nature, and gaage of such electric line, and the amount and nature of the current transmitted thereby, are not altered.

If the undertakers make default in complying with any of the requirements or restrictions of this section, they shall make full compensation to the body or person entitled to any such wire or line, for any loss or damage which they may incur by reason thereof, and, in addition thereto, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees for every such default, and, in the case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding twenty rupees for every day after the first day during which such default continues: provided that the undertakers shall not be subject to any such penalties as aforesaid, if the Court having cognizance of the case shall be of opinion that the case was one of emergency, and that the undertakers complied with the requirements and restrictions of this section so far as was reasonable under the circumstances, or that the default in question was due to the fact that the undertakers were ignorant of the position of the wires or lines affected thereby, and that such ignorance was not owing to any negligence on the part of the undertakers.

Compulsory works.

Mains, &c., to be laid down in streets specified in second schedule.

17. The undertakers shall, within a period of two years after the commencement of this license, lay down suitable and sufficient distributing mains for the purposes of general supply throughout every street, or part of a street, specified in that behalf in the second schedule, and shall thereafter maintain the same.

Mains to be laid down in remainder of area of supply.

18. In addition to the mains specified in the last preceding section, the undertakers shall, at any time after the expiration of eighteen months after the commencement of this order, lay down suitable and sufficient distributing mains, for the purposes of general supply, throughout every other street, or part of a street, within the area of supply, upon being required to do so in manner by this license provided.

All such mains as last above-mentioned shall be laid down by the undertakers within six months after any requisition in that behalf served upon them in accordance with the provisions of this license has become binding upon them, or such further time as may, in any case, be approved of by the Local Government.

If undertakers fail to lay down mains, &c., license may be revoked.

19. If the undertakers make default in laying down any mains in accordance with the provisions of this license within the periods prescribed in that behalf, respectively, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees in respect of each such default for each day during which such default continues; and, if the Local Government are of opinion, in any case, that such default is wilful, and unreasonably prolonged, they may themselves, or upon the application of the local authority, revoke this license as to the whole, or, with the consent of the undertakers, any part of the area of supply, or, if the undertakers so desire, may, after having given an opportunity to the local authority to make representations and objections with reference thereto, suffer the same to remain in force as to such area or part thereof, subject to such conditions as they may think fit to impose; and any conditions so imposed shall be binding on, and observed by, the undertakers, and shall be of the like force and effect in every respect as though they were contained in this license.

Manner in which requisition is to be made.

20. Any requisition requiring the undertakers to lay down distributing mains for the purposes of general supply throughout any street, or part of a street, under the last preceding sections, may be made by six or more owners or occupiers of premises along such street, or part of a street, or, where the Local Government or the local authority has the control and management of the public lamps in such street, or part of a street, by the Local Government or the local authority.

Every such requisition shall be signed by the owners and occupiers making such requisition, or by the Local Government or the local authority, (as the case may be), and shall be served upon the undertakers.

Forms of requisition shall be kept by the undertakers at their office, and a copy shall be supplied, free of charge, to any owner or occupier of premises within the area of supply, and to the Local Government and the local authority, on applying for the same; and any requisition so applied shall be deemed valid in point of form.

Provisions on requisition by owners or occupiers.

21. When any such requisition is made by any such owners or occupiers, as aforesaid, the undertakers (if they think fit) may, within fourteen days after the service of the requisition upon them, serve a notice on all the persons by whom such requisition is signed, stating that they decline to be bound by such requisition, unless such persons, or some of them, will bind themselves to take a supply of energy for three years, of such amount in the aggregate (to be specified by the undertakers in such notice) as will at the rates of charge for the time being charged by the undertakers for a supply of energy from distributing mains to ordinary consumers within the area of supply, produce, annually, such reasonable sum as shall be specified by the undertakers in such notice: Provided that, in such notice, the undertakers shall not be required to specify any sum amounting to less than twenty per centum upon the expense of providing, and laying down, the required distributing mains, and any other mains, or additions to existing mains, which may be necessary for the purpose of connecting such distributing mains with the nearest available source of supply.

Where such notice is served, the requisition shall not be binding on the undertakers, unless, within fourteen days after the service of such notice on all the persons signing the requisition has been effected, or, in the case of difference, the delivery of the arbitrator's award, there be tendered to the undertakers an agreement, severally executed by such persons, or some of them, binding them to take, for a period of three years at the least, such specified amounts of energy, respectively, as will, in the aggregate, at the rates of charge above specified, produce an annual sum amounting to not less than twenty per centum upon the expense of providing and laying down such distributing mains, or other mains, as abovementioned, nor unless sufficient security for the payment, to the undertakers, of all moneys which may become due to them from such persons under such agreement, is offered to the undertakers, (if required by them by such notice, as aforesaid), within the period limited for the tender of the agreement as aforesaid.

If any difference arises between the undertakers and any persons signing any such requisition, as to the reasonableness of the amount specified by the undertakers in their notice, or as to the sufficiency of any security offered to them under the section, such difference shall be determined by arbitration.

Provisions on requisition by Local Government or local authority.

22. Where any such requisition is made by the Local Government or the local authority, it shall not be binding on the undertakers unless, at the time when such service is effected, or within fourteen days thereafter, there be tendered to the undertakers, (if required by them), an agreement executed by the Local Government or the local authority, and binding them to take, for a period of three years at the least, a supply of energy for lighting such public lamps in the street, or part of a street, in respect of which such requisition is made, as may be under their management or control.

Map of area of supply to be made.

23. The undertakers shall, forthwith, after commencing to supply energy under this license, cause a map to be made of the area of supply on a horizontal scale of at least one inch to 100 feet, and shall cause to be marked thereon the line of all their then existing mains, service lines, and other underground works and distributiug boxes, and shall, once in every year, cause such map to be corrected and such additions to be made thereto, as will show the line of all their then existing mains, service lines, and other underground works and distributing boxes.

Deposit and inspection of maps.

24. Every map so made, or corrected, for the undertakers, or a copy thereof, with the date expressed thereon of the last time when it was so corrected, shall be kept by the undertakers at their principal office within the area of supply, and a copy of every such map shall, within one month after such map is made or corrected, be served by the undertakers upon the Local Government, and upon the local authority.

Every copy of the said map, as last corrected, which may be served upon the local authority, shall be kept by them at their office, and shall, at all reasonable times, be open to the inspection of all applicants, and such applicants may take copies of the same or any part thereof. The local authority may demand, and take from every such applicant, as aforesaid, such fee, not exceeding one rupee, for each inspection of such map or copy, and such further fee, not exceeding one rupee, for each copy of the same, or any part thereof, taken by such applicant, as they may, from time to time, prescribe.

Penalty on undertakers in respect of maps, &c.

25. If the undertakers fail to comply with any of the requirements of the last preceding sections of this license with respect to maps, they shall, for every such offence, be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, and to a further penalty not exceeding twenty rupees for every day, after the first day, during which such offence continues.

Testing.

Appointment of electric inspectors by Local Government.

26. The Local Government shall, from time to time, appoint, and keep appointed, one or more competent and impartial persons to be electric inspectors for the purpose of inspecting electric lines and works, and of certifying meters under this order.

Remuneration of electric inspectors.

27. The Local Government shall pay to every electric inspector appointed under this license such reasonable remuneration (if any) as they may, from time to time, determine, and such remuneration may be in addition to, or in substitution for, any fees which are directed to be paid to electric inspectors for services rendered by them under this license, as may be settled by the authority by whom such remuneration is determined: provided that, where any such remuneration is settled to be in substitution for such fees as aforesaid, such fees shall, in lieu of being paid to such electric inspector for his own use, be due, and paid to him on behalf, and for the use, of the Local Government, and shall be deposited by them in the public treasury.

Testing of mains.

28. Every electric inspector, if and when required to do so by the authority by whom he is appointed, shall, from time to time, test, for insulation and conductivity, any portion of any main of the undertakers within the area of supply through which energy is, or is intended to be, supplied by them: provided that such testings shall not be made in regard to any particular portion of a main oftener than once in any three months, unless in pursuance of a special order in that behalf made by the Local Government.

Testing of service lines.

29. Every electric inspector, if and when required to do so by any person supplied with energy by the undertakers, shall, from time to time, test, for insulation and conductivity, any service lines by which such energy is supplied, and the efficiency of any joints in such service lines, and make such other tests in relation to such service lines as may from time to time, be approved of by the Local Government.

Mode of testing.

30. Notice shall be given to the undertakers before the commencement of any testing by a electric inspector, and such testing shall be carried out at such suitable hours as, in the opinion of such inspector, will least interfere with the supply of energy by the undertakers, and in such manner as such inspector may think expedient, but, except under the provisions of a special order in that behalf made by the Local Government, he shall not be entitled to have access to, or interfere with, the mains of the undertakers at any points other than those at which the undertakers have reserved for themselves access to the said mains: provided that the undertakers shall not be held responsible for any interruption in the supply of energy which may be occasioned by, or required by such inspector for the purpose of any such testing as aforesaid.

Report of results of testing.

31. Every electric inspector shall, on the day immediately following that on which any testing has been completed by him under this license, make, and deliver, a report of the results of his testing, to the authority or person by whom he was required to make such testing, and to the undertakers, and such report shall be receivable in evidence.

If the undertakers or any authority, company, or person are, or is, dissatisfied with any report of any electric inspector, they may appeal to the Local Government against such report, and thereupon the Local Government shall enquire into, and decide upon, the matter of any such appeal, and their decision shall be final and binding on all parties.

Undertakers to establish testing stations.

32. The undertakers shall, at such places within a reasonable distance from any distributing main, establish, at their own cost, such reasonable number of testing stations as the Local Government shall deem sufficient, for testing the supply of energy by the undertakers through such main, and shall place thereat proper and suitable instruments of a pattern to be approved by the Local Government, and shall connect such stations, by means of proper and sufficient electric lines, with such mains, and supply energy thereto, for the purpose of such testing.

Undertakers to keep instruments on their premises.

33. The undertakers shall set up, and keep upon all premises from which they supply energy by any distributing mains, such suitable and proper instruments of such pattern and construction as may be, from time to time, approved of, or prescribed by, the Local Government, and shall, from time to time, take, and record, and keep recorded, such observations as the Local Government, from time to time, prescribe, and any observations so recorded shall be receivable in evidence.

Readings of instruments to be taken.

34. The undertakers shall keep in efficient working order all instruments which they are required by, or under, this license, to place, set up, or keep at any testing station, or on their own premises, and any electric inspector appointed under this license may, from time to time, examine and record the readings of such instruments at such times, and in such manner as he may be directed by the authority by whom he is appointed, and any readings so recorded shall be receivable in evidence.

Electric inspector may test undertakers instruments.

35. Any electric inspector appointed under this license shall have the right to have access, at all reasonable hours, to the testing places and premises of the undertakers, for the purpose of testing the electric lines and instruments of the undertakers, and ascertaining if the same are in order; and in case the same are not in order, he may require the undertakers forthwith to have the same put in order.

Representation of undertakers at testing.

36. The undertakers may, if they think fit, on each occasion of the testing of any main or service line, or the testing or inspection of any instruments of the undertakers by any electric inspector, be represented by some officer or other agent, but such officer or agent shall not interfere with the testing or inspection.

Expenses of testing.

37. All expenses of testing by an electric inspector, including such reasonable fees to the electric inspector as may, from time to time, be prescribed in that behalf by the local authority, with the approval of the Local Government, shall be paid by the undertakers, unless the report of the electric inspector, or, in the case of an appeal, the decision of the Local Government, shows that the local authority, or any body or person supplied with energy, was guilty of any default or negligence, and in such case the expenses of the testing, including such fees as aforesaid, shall be ascertained by a Court of competent jurisdiction and paid by such local authority, body, or person as the Court shall direct.

Undertakers to give facilities for testing.

38. The undertakers shall afford all facilities for the proper execution of this license with respect to testing and the readings and inspection of instruments, and shall comply with all the requirements of, or under this license in, that behalf; and, in case the undertakers make default in complying with any of the provisions of this section, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, and, in the case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding ten rupees for every day, after the first day, during which such offence continues.

Remedying of defects in main, &c.

39. If, at any time, it appears to the Local Government that any mains, electric lines or works of the undertakers are defective, and not in accordance with the regulations and conditions subject to which the undertakers are, for the time being, authorized to supply energy under this license, the Local Government may, by order in writing, require the undertakers to remedy such defect, so as to comply with such regulations and conditions, within such period as may be therein limited in that behalf, and if the undertakers make default in remedying such defect within the time so limited, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred rupees for every day during which such default continues: provided that if such defect is, in the opinion of the Local Government, dangerous to public safety, they may also, by any such order, as aforesaid, forbid the use of such main, electric line, or work, from such date as may be specified in that behalf, until the defect is remedied; and, if the undertakers make use of any such main, electric line or work, while the use thereof is so forbidden, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one thousand rupees for every day during which such uses continue.

Supply.

Undertakers to furnish sufficient supply of energy to owners and occupiers within the area of supply.

40. The undertakers shall, upon being required to do so by the owners or occupier of any premises situate within fifty yards from any distributing main of the undertakers in which they are, for the time being, required to maintain a supply of energy for the purposes of general supply to private consumers under this license, or any regulations and conditions subject to which they are authorized to supply energy under this license, give, and continue to give, a supply of energy for such premises, in accordance with the provisions of this license, and of all such regulations and conditions, as aforesaid, and they shall furnish, and lay, any electric lines that may be necessary for the purpose of supplying the maximum power with which any such owner or occupier may be entitled to be supplied under this license, subject to the conditions following, (that is to say), the cost of so much of any electric line for the supply of energy to any owner or occupier as may be laid upon such occupier, and of so much of any such electric lines as may be laid for a greater distance than sixty feet from any distributing main of the undertakers, although not on such property, shall be defrayed by such owner or occupier.

41. Every owner or occupier of premises requiring a supply of energy shall

(a) serve a notice upon the undertakers, specifying the premises in respect of which such supply is required, and the maximum power required to be supplied, and the day (not being an earlier day than a reasonable time after the date of the service of such notice) upon which such supply is required to commence. and

(b) enter into a written contract with the undertakers, (if required by them so to do), to continue to receive, and pay for, a supply of energy for a period of at least three years, of such an amount, that the rent payable for the same at the rate of charge for the time being charged by the undertakers for a supply of energy to ordinary consumers within the area of supply, shall not be less than twenty rupees per centum per annum on the outlay incurred by the undertakers in providing any electric lines required to be provided by them for the purpose of such supply, and give to the undertakers, (if required by them so to do), security for the payment to them of all moneys which may, from time to time, become due to them by such owner or occupier in respect of any electric lines to be furnished by the undertakers, and in respect of energy to be supplied by them:

Provided, always, that the undertakers may, after they have given a supply of energy for any premises, by notice in writing require the owner or occupier of such premises, within seven days after the date of the service of such notice, to give to them security for the payment of all moneys which may, from time to time, become due to them in respect of such supply, in case such owner or occupier has not already given such security, or in case any security given has become invalid, or is insufficient; and in case any such owner or occupier fail to comply with the terms of such notice, the undertakers may, if they think fit, discontinue to supply energy for such premises so long as such failure continues:

Provided, also, that if the owner or occupier of any such premises, as aforesaid, uses any form of lamp or burner, or uses the energy supplied to him by the undertakers for any purposes, or deals with it in any manner so as to unduly or improperly interfere with the efficient supply of energy to any other body or person by the undertakers, the undertakers may, if they think fit, discontinue to supply energy to such premises so long as such user continues:

Provided, also, that the undertakers shall not be compelled to give a supply of energy to any premises unless they are reasonably satisfied that the electric lines, fittings, and works therein are in good order and condition, and not calculated to affect, injuriously, the use of energy by the undertakers or by other persons:

Provided, also, that in the event of any alterations of, or additions to, any electric lines, fittings, or works within such premises, as aforesaid, all such alterations or additions shall be notified to the undertakers by the occupiers, before being connected to the source of supply, with a view to their being examined and tested.

If any difference arises between any such owner or occupier and the undertakers as to the reasonableness of the amount of any security required to be given, or as to the sufficiency of any security offered under this section, or as to the improper use of energy, or as to any alleged defect in any lines, fittings or works, such difference shall be determined by arbitration.

42. The maximum power with which any such consumer shall be entitled to be supplied shall be of such amount as he may, from time to time, require to be supplied with, not exceeding what may be reasonably anticipated as the maximum consumption on his premises:

Maximum power.

Provided that, where any consumer has required the undertakers to supply him with a maximum power of any specified amount, he shall not be entitled to alter that maximum, except upon one month's notice to the undertakers; and any expenses incurred by the undertakers, in respect of the service lines by which energy is supplied to the premises of such consumer, or any fittings, or apparatus of the undertakers upon such premises, consequent upon such alteration, shall be paid by him to the undertakers, and may be recovered summarily as a Civil debt.

If any difference arises between any such owner or occupier and the undertakers as to what may be reasonably anticipated as the consumption on his premises, such difference shall be determined by arbitration.

Supply of energy to public lamps.

43. The undertakers, upon receiving reasonable notice from the Local Government or the local authority, requiring them to supply energy to any public lamps within the distance of seventy-five yards from any distributing main of the undertakers in which they are, for the time being, required to maintain a current of energy for the purposes of general supply under this license, or any regulations and conditions subject to which they are authorised to supply energy under this license, shall give, and continue to give, a supply of energy to such lamps in such quantities as the Local Government or the local authority may, from time to time, require to be supplied.

Penalty for failure to supply.

44. Whenever the undertakers make default in supplying energy to any owner or occupier of premises to whom they may be, and are, required to supply energy, under this license, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees in respect of every such default for each day during which any such default occurs.

Whenever the undertakers make default in supplying energy to the public lamps to which they may be, and are, required to supply energy, under this license, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees in respect of every such default for each such lamp, and for each day during which any such default occurs.

Whenever the undertakers make default in supplying energy in accordance with the terms of any regulations and conditions subject to which they are authorized to supply energy under this license, they shall be liable to such penalties as may, by such regulations and conditions, be prescribed in that behalf:

Provided, always, that when such default is due to cyclones, or floods, or storms, or other causes not under the control of, or due to default of, the undertakers, no penalty shall be enforced if the undertakers show due diligence in resuming the supply:

Provided that the penalties to be inflicted on the undertakers under this section shall in no case exceed, in the aggregate, the sum of five hundred rupees in respect of any defaults not being wilful defaults on the part of the undertakers for any one day, and provided, also, that in no case shall any penalty be inflicted in respect of any default if the Court having cognizance of the case shall be of opinion that such default was caused by inevitable accident, or force majeure, or was of so slight, or unimportant a character, as not materially to affect the value of the supply.

Price.

Methods of charging.

45. The undertakers may charge for energy supplied by them to any ordinary consumer (otherwise than by agreement) —

(1) by the actual amount of energy so supplied; or

(2) by the electrical amount contained in such supply; or, unless the Local Government, from time to time, otherwise direct;

(3) by the number of hours during which the supply of energy is actually used by such consumer, and the maximum power with which he is, for the time being, entitled to be supplied;

Provided that, before commencing to supply energy through any distributing main for the purposes of general supply, the undertakers shall give notice to the Local Government, and to the local authority, by what method they propose to charge for energy supplied through such main; and, where the undertakers have given any such notice, they shall not be entitled to change such method of charging, except after one month's notice of such change has been given by them to the Local Government, and the local authority, and to every consumer of energy who is supplied by them from such main:

Provided, also, that when the undertakers have given notice to any consumer of charging him by the number of hours, and the maximum power, in manner above described, such consumer, if he objects to that method of charge, may, by one month's notice in writing, require the undertakers to charge him by the actual quantity of energy supplied to him; and thereafter the undertakers shall not, except with the consumer's consent, charge him by any other method.

Maximum prices.

46. The prices to be charged by the undertakers for energy supplied by them shall not exceed those stated in that behalf in the fourth schedule, in the first, second, and third sections thereof, respectively: Provided that, if the Local Government are of opinion that, or the local authority, or the undertakers shall, at any time after the expiration of seven years after the commencement of this license, make a representation to the Local Government that the prices, or methods of charge stated in the said schedule, ought to be altered, the Local Government, after such enquiry as they may think fit, may make an order varying the prices, or methods of charge, in lieu thereof, and the prices, or methods of charge so varied, or substituted, shall have effect on, and after, such day as may be mentioned in the order, as if they had been stated in the said schedule: Provided, also, that the prices, and methods of charge for the time being in force, may be altered, in like manner, at any time after the expiration of any, or every, period of seven years after the same were last altered.

Other charges by agreement

47. Subject to the provisions of this license and of the principal Act, and the right of the consumer to require that he shall be charged according to some one or other of the methods above-mentioned in cases where he is entitled to require a supply, the undertakers may make any agreement with a consumer as to the price to be charged for energy, and the mode in which such charges are to be ascertained, and may charge accordingly.

Price to public lamps.

48. The price to be charged by the undertakers, and to be paid to them for all energy supplied to the public lamps, and the mode in which such charges shall be ascertained, shall be settled by agreement between the Local Government or local authority and the undertakers, as the case may be, and, in the event of difference, by arbitration, regard being had to the circumstances of the case, and the distributing, or other mains (if any) which may have to be laid for the purpose, and the prices charged to ordinary consumers in the district.

Meters and Apparatus.

Meters to be used except by agreement.

49. The energy supplied by the undertakers to any ordinary consumers under this license, or the electrical quantity contained in such supply (according to the method by which the undertakers elect to charge), in this license referred to as "the value of the supply," shall, except as otherwise agreed between such consumer and the undertakers, be ascertained by means of an appropriate meter, duly certified under the provisions of this license.

50. A meter shall be considered to be duly certified under the provisions of this license if it be certified by an electric inspector, appointed under this license, to be of some construction and pattern, and to have been fixed, and to have been connected with the service lines, in some manner approved of by the Local Government, and to be a correct meter; and every such meter is, in this order, referred to as a "certified meter :" Provided that, where any alteration is made in any certified meter, or where any such meter is unfixed, or disconnected, from the service lines, such meter shall cease to be a certified meter, unless and until it be again certified as a certified meter under the provisions of this license.

Meters to be certified.

51. Every electric inspector, who may be required by the undertakers, or by any consumer, to examine any meter for the purpose of certifying the same as a certified meter, under the provisions of this license, shall be entitled to demand, from the undertakers, or consumer, so requiring him, and to be paid such fees as may, from time to time, be determined, in that behalf, by the Local Government, before commencing such examination ; and every electric inspector shall, upon being required so to do by the undertakers, or any such consumer, as aforesaid, examine any meter situate within the district for which he is appointed, if such fees are offered to him, as aforesaid, and shall certify the same as a certified meter, if he considers it entitled to be so certified.

52. Where the value of the supply is, under this license, required to be ascertained by means of an appropriate meter, the undertakers shall, if required so to do by the consumer, supply him with an appropriate meter ; and shall, if required so to do, fix the same upon the premises of the consumer, and connect the service lines therewith, and procure such meter to be duly certified under the provisions of this license, and, for such purposes, may authorize and empower any officer or person to enter upon such premises, and execute all necessary works, and do all necessary acts: Provided that, previously to supplying any such meter, the undertakers may require such consumer to pay to them a reasonable sum in respect of the price of such meter, or to give security therefor, or may require him to enter into an agreement for the hire of such meter as hereinafter provided, and also to pay to them a reasonable sum in respect of the expenses of fixing such meter, and connecting it with the service lines, and procuring the same to be certified under this license.

Undertakers to supply meters if required to do so.

If any difference arises between the undertakers and any consumer under this section, such difference shall be determined by arbitration.

53. No consumer shall connect any meter used, or to be used, under this license, for ascertaining the value of the supply, with any electric line through which energy is supplied by the undertakers, or disconnect any such meter from any such electric line, unless he has given, to the undertakers, not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing of his intention so to do ; and if any person acts in contravention of this section, he shall be liable, for each offence, to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees.

Meters not to be connected or disconnected without notice.

54. Every consumer of energy supplied by the undertakers shall, at all times, at his own expense, keep all meters belonging to him, whereby the value of the supply is, under this license, to be ascertained, in proper order for correctly registering such value, and, in default of his so doing, the undertakers may cease to supply energy through such meter.

Consumer to keep his meter in proper order.

The undertakers shall have access to, and be at liberty to take off, remove, test, inspect, and replace, any such meter at all reasonable times: Provided that all reasonable expenses of, and incident to, any such taking off, removing, testing, inspecting and replacing, and the procuring such meter to be again duly certified where such re-certifying is thereby rendered necessary, shall, if the meter be found to be not in proper order, be paid by the consumer; but if the same be in proper order, all expenses connected therewith shall be paid by the undertakers.

Power to the undertakers to let meter.

55. The undertakers may let for hire any meter for ascertaining the value of the supply, and any fittings thereto, and any other apparatus required for their undertaking, for such remuneration in money, and on such terms, with respect to the repair of such meter, or apparatus, and fittings, and for securing the safety and return, to the undertakers, of such meter, or apparatus, and fittings, as may be agreed upon between the hirer and the undertakers, or, in case of difference, be decided by the Local Government, and such remuneration shall be recoverable by the undertakers summarily as a civil debt.

Undertakers to keep meter let for hire, in repair.

56. The undertakers shall, unless the agreement of hire otherwise provides, at all times, at their own expense, keep all meters, let for hire by them to any consumer, whereby the value of the supply is ascertained, in proper order for correctly registering such value; and, in default of their so doing, the consumer shall not be liable to pay rent for the same during such time as such default continues. The undertakers shall, for the purposes aforesaid, have access to, and be at liberty to remove, test, inspect, and replace, any such meter at all reasonable times: Provided that the expenses of procuring any such meter to be again duly certified, where such re-certifying is, thereby, rendered necessary, shall be paid by the undertakers.

Differences as to correctness of meter to be settled by inspector, or Local Government officer.

57. If any difference arises between any consumer and the undertakers as to whether any meter, whereby the value of the supply is ascertained, (whether belonging to such consumer or the undertakers) is, or is not, in proper order for correctly registering such value, or as to whether such value has been correctly registered, in any case, by any meter, such difference shall be determined, upon the application of either party, by an electric inspector; or, where the Local Government are the consumers, by an officer to be appointed by the Local Government, who shall also order by which of the parties the costs or the proceedings before him shall be paid, and the decision of such inspector or officer shall be final and binding on all parties. Subject, as aforesaid, the register of the meter shall be conclusive evidence, in the absence of fraud, of the value of the supply.

Undertakers to pay expenses of providing new meters where method of charge altered.

58. Where any consumer who is supplied with energy by the undertakers from any distributing main, is provided with a certified meter for the purpose of ascertaining the value of the supply, and the undertakers change the method of charging for energy supplied by them from such main, the undertakers shall pay to such consumer the reasonable expenses to which he may be put in providing a new meter for the purpose of ascertaining the value of the supply according to such new method of charging, and such expenses may be recovered by the consumer from the undertakers, summarily, as a civil debt.

Undertakers may place meters to measure supply, or to check measurement thereof.

59. In addition to any meter which may be placed upon the premises of any consumer to ascertain the value of the supply, the undertakers may, from time to time, place upon his premises such meter, or other apparatus, as they may desire, for the purpose of ascertaining or regulating, either the amount of energy supplied to such consumer, or the number of hours during which such supply is given, or the maximum amount of such supply, or any other quantity, or time, connected therewith: Provided that such meter shall be of some construction and pattern, and shall be fixed and connected with the service lines in some manner approved by the Local Government, and shall be supplied and maintained entirely at the cost of the undertakers, and shall not, except by agreement, be placed otherwise than between the mains of the undertakers and the terminals on the consumer's premises at which the supply is given.

Notices, &c.

Notices, &c., may be printed or written.

60. Notices, orders, and other documents under this license may be in writing or in print, or partly in writing and partly in print, and where any notice, order, or document requires authentication by the local authority, the signature thereof by the Chairman or Secretary to the local authority shall be sufficient authentication.

Service of notices, &c.

61. Any notice, order, or document, required or authorized to be served upon any body or person under this license or the Act, may be served by the same being addressed to such body or person, and being left at, or transmitted through the post to, the following addresses, respectively:—

(a) In the case of the Local Government, the office of the Secretary in the Public Works Department.

(b) In the case of any local authority, the office of such local authority.

(c) In the case of the undertakers, or any other Company having a registered office, the registered office of the undertakers, or such Company.

(d) In the case of a Company having an office, or offices, but no registered office, any such office.

(e) In the case of any other person, the usual, or last known place of abode of such person.

Where any notice is served by post, it shall be deemed to have been served at the time when the letter, containing the notice, would be delivered in the ordinary course of post, and, in proving such service, it shall be sufficient to prove that the letter containing the notice was properly addressed and put into the post.

A notice, order, or document, by this license required, or authorized, to be served on the owner, or occupier, of any of the premises, shall be deemed to be properly addressed, if addressed by the description of the "owner" or "occupier" of the premises, (naming the premises), without further name or description.

A notice, order, or document, by this license required, or authorized, to be served on the owner, or occupier, of premises, may be served by delivering the same, or a true copy thereof, to some person on the premises, or, if there is no person on the premises to whom the same can, with reasonable diligence, be delivered, by fixing the notice on some conspicuous part of the premises.

Termination of license by effluxion of time.

61A. If this license shall not be renewed at the end of the said period of 21 years for which it is hereby granted, the following provisions shall have effect:—

(a) The local authority or the Local Government, if they think fit, may, by notice in writing, require the undertakers to sell, and thereupon the undertakers shall sell to them the undertaking or such part of it as is within the area of supply, upon terms of paying the then value of all lands, buildings, works, materials, and plant of the undertakers suitable to and used by them for the purposes of the undertaking within such area or part thereof, such value being agreed or estimated by arbitration on the basis of the value of the undertaking as a going concern.

(b) If no purchase is effected by the Local Governmet or the local authority under the provisions aforsaid, the undertakers shall be at liberty to sell and dispose of the said undertaking and all lands, buildings works materials and plant of the undertakers, to such persons and in such manner as to the undertakes may seem fit in their absolute discretion.

(c) If no purchase or sale shall be effected, the provisions of clause 65 (e) and (f) shall take effect, so far as they are applicable to the circumstances of this present clause 61A.

Revocation of License.

Revocation of license where undertakers are insolvent.

62. If, at any time, after the commencement of] this license, the local authority make a representation to the Local Government, or the Local Government themselves are of opinion that the undertakers have made any default in executing works or supplying energy in accordance with the terms of this license, and that such default is in consequence of the insolvency, of the undertakers, and that by reason of such insolvency, the undertakers are unable, fully and effectually, to discharge the duties and obligations imposed upon them by this license, the Local Government shall enquire into the truth of such representation, and if, upon such enquiry, they are satisfied of the truth of such representation, they shall, upon the application of the local authority, or at their own discretion, revoke this license as to the whole, or, with the consent of the undertakers, as to any part of the area of supply.

Revocation of order where undertaking cannot be carried on with profit.

63. If, at any time, after the commencement of this license the undertakers represent to the Local Government, or the Local Government are of opinion that the undertaking cannot be carried on with profit, and ought to be abandoned, the Local Government shall enquire into the truth of such representation, and if, upon such enquiry, they are satisfied of the truth of such representation, they may, if, in their discretion, they think fit, revoke this license as to the whole, or (with the consent of the undertakers and of the local authority) as to any part of the area of supply.

Revocation of order with consent.

64. In addition to any other powers which the Local Government may have in that behalf, they may revoke this license at any time with the consent and concurrence of the undertakers and the local authority of the area (if any), upon such terms as the Local Government may think just.

Provision where order revoked.

65. If the Local Government at any time revoke this license as to the whole, or any part, of the area of supply, under any of the provisions of this license, the following provisions shall have effect :—

(a) The Local Government shall serve a notice of such revocation upon the undertakers, and upon the local authority of the area (if any), and shall, in such notice, fix a date at which such revocation shall take effect, and, from and after such date, all the powers and liabilities of the undertakers under this license for the supply of energy within such area, or part thereof, as aforesaid, shall absolutely cease and determine.

(b) Within one month after the service of such notice by the Local Government, the local authority, or the local Government, if they think fit, may, by notice in writing, require the undertakers to sell, and thereupon the undertakers shall sell to them the undertaking, or such part of it as is within such area, or part thereof, as aforesaid, upon terms of paying the then value of all land, buildings, works, materials and plant, of the undertakers, suitable to, and used by, them for the purposes of the undertaking, within such area, or part thereof; such value being agreed or estimated by arbitration, on the basis of the value of the undertaking as a going concern.

(c) Where no purchase is effected by the Local Government or the local authority under the provisions of the last sub-section, and any other local authority, company or person, is willing to purchase the undertaking, or such part of it, as aforesaid, the Local Government, if they think fit, may, with the consent of the undertakers, or without the consent of the undertakers, in case the price is not less than that for which the Local Government, or the local authority, might have purchased the same, under this section, direct that the undertaking, or such part thereof, as aforesaid, shall be so transferred.

(d) Where any purchase is effected, or any transfer is directed under the preceding provisions of this section, the undertaking, or part thereof, so purchased or transferred, shall vest in the purchasers or transferees thereof, freed from any debts, mortgages, or similar obligations of the undertakers, or attaching to the undertaking; and the revocation of this license, as to the whole of the area of supply, or such part thereof, as aforesaid, shall extend only to the revocation of the rights, powers, authorities, duties and obligations of the undertakers from whom the undertaking, or such part thereof, as aforesaid, is purchased or transferred, in relation to the supply of energy within such area, or part thereof; and, save as aforesaid, this license shall remain in full force within such area, or part thereof, in favour of the Local Government, or local authority, company, or person, by, or to, whom such undertaking, or part thereof, is purchased or transferred, as aforesaid.

(e) Where no purchase has been effected, and no transfer has been directed under the preceding provisions of this section, the Local Government, the local authority, or any body or person, who may be liable to repair any street, or part of a street, in which any works of the undertakers may have been placed, may forthwith remove such works with all reasonable care; and the undertakers shall pay, to the Local Government, the local authority, or other such body or person, as aforesaid, such reasonable costs of such removal, and of the re-instatement of such street, or part of a street, as may be specified in a notice to be served on the undertakers by the Local Government, the local authority, or other body or person, or, (if so required by the undertakers, within one week after the service of such notice upon them), as may be settled by arbitration.

If the undertakers fail to pay such reasonable costs, as aforesaid, within one month after the service upon them of such notice, or the delivery of the award of the arbitrator (as the case may be), the Local Government, the local authority, or other such body or person, as aforesaid, may, without any previous notice to the undertakers, (but without prejudice to any other remedy which they may have for the recovery of the amount), sell and dispose of any such works, as aforesaid, either by public auction, or private sale, and for such sum or sums, and to such person or persons, as they may think fit, and may, out of the proceeds of such sale, pay and reimburse themselves the amount of the costs so specified or settled, as aforesaid, and of the costs of sale, and the balance (if any) of the proceeds of the sale shall be paid over by them to the undertakers.

(f) In case the Local Government, the local authority or any body or person, may be entitled to compensation for any damage sustained by them by reason, or in consequence of, the execution of any works within such area, or part thereof, as aforesaid, or the exercise of any powers, by this license granted to the undertakers, or for any expenses to which such local authority, body, or person, may have been put in removing any works of the undertakers within such area, or part thereof, under the provisions of this license, such compensation shall be a first charge on any money that may have been deposited or secured, by the undertakers, under the provisions of this license, in respect of such area, or part thereof, and which may not have been repaid or released to the undertakers, and such money shall be applied rateably in satisfying such claims; and in every such case the amount of compensation to be paid, in respect of the various claims, and the persons to whom it is to be paid, shall be determined by arbitration.

General.

66. Where any consumer is required, under this order, to give security to the undertakers, such security may be by way of deposit, or otherwise, and of such amount as he and the undertakers agree on, or, as in default of agreement, may be determined, on the application of either party, by a Court of competent jurisdiction, which may also order by which of the parties the costs of the proceedings shall be paid, and the decision of the said Court shall be final and binding on all parties: Provided, that, where any such security is given by way of deposit, the undertakers shall pay interest at the rate of five rupees per centum per anum on every sum of ten rupees so deposited for every six months during which the sum remains in their hands.

Proceedings where approval of Local Government is required.

67. Where the approval or consent of the Local Government is given in any case, or where the Local Government makes any order, or gives any notice, under the provisions of this license, or revokes this license, such approval or consent shall be signified, or such order shall be made, or notice given, or revocation made, by writing, under the hand of one of the Secretaries or Under-Secretaries of the Local Government.

Costs of applications for approval or consent of Local Government.

68. All costs and expenses of, or incident to, application for any approval, consent, or order of the Local Government, including the cost of the tests (if any) which may be required to be made by the Local Government for the purpose of determining whether the same should be given or made, shall be borne and paid by the applicant or applicants therefor: Provided, always, that where any approval is given by the Local Government to any plan, pattern, or specification, they may require such copies of the same, as they may think fit, to be prepared, and deposited at their office, at the expense of the said applicant or applicants, and may, from time to time, as they think fit, revoke any approval so given, or permit such approval to be continued, subject to such modifications as they may think necessary.

Notice of approval of Local Government, &c., to be given by advertisement.

69. Where the Local Government, upon the application of the undertakers, give any approval, or grant any extension of any time, limited for the performance of any duties by the undertakers, or where the Local Government, at their own discretion, or upon the application of the local authority, revoke this license, as to the whole, or any part of the area of supply, notice that such approval has been given, or such extension of time granted, or such revocation made, shall be published, by public advertisement, once at least, in each of two successive weeks, in some one and the same local newspaper, by the body by whom such application is made, as aforesaid.

Notice of application for extension of time, &c., to be given to Local authority.

70. Where any application is made to the Local Government to extend any time, limited for the performance of any duties by the undertakers, notice of such application shall be served on the local authority of the area (if any) by the undertakers, and an opportunity shall be given to such local authority to make representations or objections with reference thereto.

Recovery of penalties.

71. All penalties under this license, the recovery of which is not otherwise specially provided for, may be recovered through a Court of competent jurisdiction.

72. The undertakers shall be answerable for all accidents, damages, and injuries, happening through the act or default of the undertakers, or of any person in their employment, by reason of, or in consequence of, any of the undertakers' works, and shall save harmless all authorities, bodies and persons, by whom any street is repairable, and all other authorities, companies and bodies, collectively, and individually, and their officers and servants, from all damages and costs, in respect of such accidents, damages and injuries.

73. The undertakers shall not be at liberty to sell the undertaking, or any part, or parts thereof, without the sanction of the Local Government, who shall be entitled to call for, and shall be furnished with, all information they may desire to have relating to, or connected with, any proposed sale, or the negotiations therefor: Provided that nothing in this clause shall affect the provisions of clause 65 or 74.

As to mortgages.

74. Nothing in this license shall prevent the undertakers borrowing money on the security of mortgages of the undertaking, or shall make the consent or approval of the Local Government or local authority necessary to the validity or effect of any such mortgage: Provided that every mortgage of the undertaking shall be deemed to comprise all purchase-money, which may be paid to the undertakers in the event of any sale or transfer of the undertaking, or of any part thereof, under this license; and that any mortgage granted by the undertaker shall not be a charge upon the undertaking, or any part thereof, in the event of the undertaking, or such part, being purchased, or transferred, as aforesaid; and that every mortgage-deed granted by the undertakers shall be endorsed with notice to that effect.

Saving clause as to River Hooghly.

75. Nothing in this license shall authorize the undertakers to lay, or place, any electric line, or works, in the River Hooghly, or affect in any manner the powers or privileges of the Commissioners of the Port of Calcutta.

Undertakers not exempted from proceedings for nuisance.

76. Nothing in this license shall exonerate the undertakers from any indictment, action, or other proceedings, for nuisance, in the event of any nuisance being caused by them.

Provision as to general Acts.

77. Nothing in this license shall exempt the undertakers, or their undertaking, from the provisions of, or deprive the undertakers of, the benefits of any general Act relating to electricity, which may be passed by the Bengal or Imperial Legislative Council.

78. All questions which, under the terms of this license, are to be submitted to arbitration at any time during the subsistence of the license, shall be decided by any one person who may be agreed upon by the parties in difference, but if they cannot so agree, then by a committee of three persons, one to be nominated by the undertakers, a second by the other party to the difference, and the third being an independent person selected by the two nominees. The decision of the majority shall prevail, and be final, when all three members are appointed. If either party shall neglect, or fail to appoint its member of the committee within 30 days after the happening of the difference, or if the two members appointed by the parties hereto, shall neglect, or fail, within the next succeeding 15 days after the expiration of the aforesaid 30 days, to appoint the third member, then all questions which would have been raised, or have come before the said committee for decision, shall be decided by such person as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may nominate, and the decision of such person shall, in that case, be final, and binding, absolutely, on both parties.

SCHEDULES.

First Schedule.

(Description of Area of Supply.)

Area of supply is that portion of the Town included within S. Circular Road on the North; Circular Road, (Upper and Lower), on the East and South; the River Hooghly on the West as far South as Outram Road; Esplanade Row (East), and Chowringhee; thus including the Eden Gardens and grounds of Government House, but excluding the Maidan.

Second Schedule.

(List of Streets, and parts of Streets, throughout which the undertakers are to lay distributing mains within a period of two years after the commencement of this license.)

Upper Chitpore Road.
Lower Chitpore Road.
Bentinck Street.
Chowringhee Road.
Strand Road (from Ahereetola Street).
Cornwallis Street (from Shambazâr Street).
College Street.

Camac Street (to Theatre Road).
Little Russell Street (from Middleton Street to Harrington Street).
Harrington Street (from Little Russell Street to Camac Street).
Loudon Street.
Rawdon Street (from Theatre Road to Circular Road).
Hungerford Street (from Moira Street to Circular Road).
Theatre Road.

Third Schedule.

(List of Streets not repairable by the Local Government, or by the local authority; also Railways and Tramways which may be broken up by the undertakers in pursuance of the special powers granted by this license.)

All the Streets for which powers are granted are repairable by the local authority.

Railways:—Port Commissioners' Railway.
Municipal Railway.

Tramways:—Calcutta Tramways Co., Ld.

Fourth Schedule.

The term "unit," as used in this Schedule, shall be deemed to mean the energy contained in a current of one thousand ampères flowing under an electro-motive force of one volt during one hour.

Section 1.

Where the undertakers charge any consumer by the actual quantity of energy supplied to him, they shall be entitled to charge him at the following rates per quarter:—For any quantity up to twenty units, Rupees twenty only, and for each unit over twenty units, annas twelve only.

Section 2.

Where the undertakers charge any consumer by the electrical quantity contained in the supply given to him, they shall be entitled to charge him according to the rates set forth in Section 1 of this Schedule, the quantity of energy supplied to him being taken to be the product of such electrical quantity and the standard pressure at the point of junction of the distributing mains and the service lines by which he is supplied:

Provided that, where the undertakers' system involves a transformation of the energy supplied on the consumers' premises, the quantity of energy supplied to him may be taken to be the product of such electrical quantity and the standard pressure on the undertakers' mains, divided by the number expressing the ratio of the transformation employed.

Section 3.

Where the undertakers charge any consumer by the number of hours during which he actually uses his supply, they shall be entitled to charge him at the rates specified in Section 2 of this Schedule, the quantity of energy supplied to him being calculated on the supposition that the consumer uses the maximum power specified by him under the provisions of this license during all the hours that he has used the supply.

IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

The 19th October 1897.

No. 290.—The Lieutenant-Governor proposes, under the provisions of sections XI and XII of Act V (B.C.) of 1864, to pass the following rule, in supersession of rule 8 of the rules passed by him in Notification No. 98, dated the 4th April 1893, which applies to the Orissa Canals, Midnapore Canal, with branch to Narainghar, Hijili Tidal Canal, Orissa Coast Canal and the Sone Canals:—

Rule 8.—Every vessel which does not complete its voyage within the number of days allowed by rule 3 shall, for each day or part of a day in excess, be liable to an extra charge equal to 8 annas per 100 maunds, calculated on the maundage of the vessel as determined by rule 2. The charge for demurrage on timbers and raft shall be as follows:—

Timber in rafts or loose	...	1 anna per timber per day.
Bamboos in floats ...	...	2 annas per 100 per day.
Bullahs in rafts ...	...	8 annas per 100 per day.

The Superintending Engineer may at his discretion exempt any boats or any line of navigation, or any portion of a line of navigation, from the payment required by this rule.

A. D. MCARTHUR, Colonel, R.E.,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 19th October 1897.

No. 179 Marine.—The following scheme of storm signals for the Indian Coast Ports (except those on the river Hooghly), which has been approved by the Government of India, is published for general information.

A. D. MCARTHUR, Colonel, R.E.,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

System of Storm Signals for the Indian Coast ports except those on the River Hooghly.

IN accordance with the request of the Government of India we have carefully considered the uniform system of storm signals proposed by the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India in his letter No. 456S, dated 11th June 1896, to the Revenue and Agricultural Department and also the various suggestions that have been made by the authorities to whom the proposals were sent for the favour of opinion and criticism We have the honour to submit the following revised system in final recommendation for the consideration of the Government of India and hope they will be judged worthy of adoption. The chief point we have endeavoured to keep in view is to make the system as simple as possible consistent with giving as full warning and information by storm signals as is desirable in the present state of meteorological observation and science in India.

The following gives the uniform system of storm signals and their significance that we propose for adoption at all ports in India, with the exception of those in and near the mouth of the River Hooghly:—

DAY SIGNALS.

I.—CAUTIONARY SIGNAL.

Bay of Bengal.

The square flag W of the International Code, hoisted on the storm signal staff as a cautionary signal, indicates the existence of disturbed squally weather in the Bay of Bengal which may be the first stage in the formation of a cyclonic storm, and which, if it develops, is likely to affect that part of the coast on which the port is situated.

The disturbed conditions may pass away without developing into a cyclonic storm, in which case the cautionary signal will be taken down as soon as it is certain that stormy weather will not shortly follow. If, however, the disturbed weather be the first indication of the probable formation or approach of a cyclonic storm, the cautionary signal will be followed by one of the ordinary storm signals, indicating the probable position, character and track of the approaching storm.

Arabian Sea.

The square flag W of the International Code, hoisted on the storm signal staff as a cautionary signal, indicates the existence of disturbed weather off some part of the West Coast of India in the neighbourhood of the port or ports at which the signal is hoisted; or the advance of a cyclonic storm across the Peninsula from the Bay of Bengal which may hence shortly cross the Western Ghats and give squally or stormy weather in the Arabian Sea.

The disturbed conditions may in either case pass away without giving stormy cyclonic weather to the West Coast ports or to the adjacent parts of the Arabian Sea, in which case the cautionary signal will be taken down as soon as it is certain that stormy weather will not shortly follow. If, however, the disturbed weather be the first indication of the probable formation or approach of a cyclonic storm, this cautionary signal will be followed by one of the ordinary storm signals, indicating the probable position, character and track of the approaching storm.

II.—WARNING SIGNAL.

A ball indicates that a cyclonic storm has formed, which will probably advance to that part of the coast on which the port is situated, but is still at a considerable distance from it. The same signal will also be hoisted at the larger and more important ports on the West Coast of India to indicate that a storm has formed in the Arabian Sea at some distance from the coast and will shortly cross one or other of the tracks of vessels leaving these ports, but is not likely to give the ports bad weather. The port officers when instructed to hoist the warning signal will also be informed of the object of the signal so as to communicate its full purport to masters of vessels about to leave the port.

III.—DANGER SIGNALS.

(1) A cone apex downwards indicates that a cyclonic storm (probably of slight to moderate intensity) is affecting the port, and that its centre will probably cross the coast considerably to the south of the port.

(2) A cone apex upwards indicates that a cyclonic storm (probably of slight to moderate intensity) is affecting the port, and that its centre will probably cross the coast considerably to the north of the port.

(3) A drum indicates that a cyclonic storm (probably of slight to moderate intensity) is affecting the port, and that its centre will probably cross the coast over or near to the port.

In order to indicate that a cyclonic storm in the sea area near a port is of great intensity, a ball is added to (and placed underneath) the corresponding danger signal. The following shows the proposed great danger signals and their significance :—

IV —GREAT DANGER SIGNALS.

(1) A cone apex downwards and ball below indicate that a cyclonic storm of great intensity is affecting the port, and that its centre will probably cross the coast considerably to the south of the port.

(2) A cone apex upwards and ball below indicate that a cyclonic storm of great intensity is affecting the port, and that its centre will probably cross the coast considerably to the north of the port.

(3) A drum with a ball below indicates that a cyclonic storm of great intensity is affecting the port, and that its centre will probably cross the coast over or near to the port.

The following gives the night signals corresponding to the day signals named above, together with a statement of their significance :—

I.—CAUTIONARY SIGNAL.

None.

II.—WARNING SIGNAL.

A red light (corresponding to day warning signal) indicates that a cyclonic storm has formed, which will probably advance to that part of the coast on which the port is situated, but is still at a considerable distance from it.

III.—DANGER SIGNALS.

(I) A red light vertically above a white light corresponds to day signal No. 1 and indicates that a cyclonic storm (probably of slight to moderate intensity) is affecting the port, and that its centre will probably cross the coast considerably to the south of the port.

(II) A red light vertically below a white light corresponds to day signal No. 2 and indicates that a cyclonic storm (probably of slight to moderate intensity) is affecting the port, and that its centre will probably cross the coast considerably to the north of the port.

(III) Two red lights in a vertical line correspond to day signal No. 3 and indicate that a cyclonic storm (probably of slight to moderate intensity) is affecting the port, and that its centre will probably cross the coast over or near to the port.

IV.—GREAT DANGER SIGNALS.

(I) Two red lights with a white light below arranged in a vertical line correspond to day great danger signal No. 1 and indicate that a cyclonic storm of great intensity is affecting the port, and that its centre will probably cross the coast considerably to the south of the port.

(II) Two red lights with a white light above in a vertical line correspond to day great danger signal No. 2 and indicate that a cyclonic storm of great intensity is affecting the port, and that its centre will probably cross the coast considerably to the north of the port.

(III) Three red lights in a vertical line correspond to day great danger signal No. 3 and indicate that a cyclonic storm of great intensity is affecting the port, and that its centre will probably cross the coast over or near to the port.

In the above are given the day and night series of storm signals, proposed for general adoption at the storm warning stations on the coasts of India.

It will be observed that there is no night cautionary signal included in the series. We are of opinion that a night cautionary signal is unnecessary, and also that the day cautionary signal should be employed only at ports frequented by ocean-going steamers.

We are also of opinion that it is desirable the signals should be as simple as possible, and consider that the system of night signals suggested by the Director, Indian Marine, is much better from this standpoint than the second system as proposed by Mr. Eliot, and have hence adopted that system for our proposed series of night signals. The system of night signals we suggest is, it will be seen, a linear arrangement of lights and is not liable to be mistaken in any position of the lights. A triangular arrangement may under certain conditions appear only as two lights and may hence give a false indication.

In the instructions which we received from the Government of India, it was requested that we should take into careful consideration certain remarks and criticisms of the Collector of Salt Revenue, Bombay. These remarks are as follows:—

"That the signal stations under the control of the Salt Revenue Department on the coast of the Bombay Presidency are in each case in charge of the staff employed at the lighthouse. The men, although carefully trained for their particular duties, and fairly intelligent, are more or less illiterate, and it is desirable that directions given to them should be as few and as simple as possible The steamers which visit the coast ports during the monsoon months are few in number. At present all of them belong to one Bombay Company, and any warnings which may be received in Bombay are communicated to them by the Company's agents at the ports which they enter. The principal use of the signals is to warn the country crafts, which swarm along the coast, of the approach of danger. It is therefore of the first importance that the system employed should be simple, and that no change which is not absolutely necessary should be made in any system to which the native seamen have become accustomed."

"The new system which is now proposed by the Meteorological Reporter is no doubt theoretically more perfect than the one now in use on the coast. But instead of the 5 day and 3 night signals, we shall have either 8 day and 2 night signals or 8 day and 9 night signals. In my opinion this elaboration is, so far as the small coast stations are concerned, unnecessary and likely to do more harm than good The men in charge may in course of time be taught to use the correct signals, but the masters of country vessels will certainly be bewildered, and may possibly disregard the signals altogether as some new freak which poor men cannot be expected to understand."

"I doubt whether the advantages resulting from uniformity will compensate for the confusion which will be caused by a change of system. The masters of steamers are presumably acquainted with the system used in the different ports which they visit and are not likely to be misled by the differences which exist. On the other hand, the masters of country vessels will be slow to realize that there has been any change, and still slower to appreciate the meaning of the new signals For instance, the ball which it is now proposed to use for the day warning signal has been used for many years on this coast to denote the approach of the coasting steamers, and it will be long before the people who have become accustomed to it will take it for anything else."

With reference to the remarks of the Collector of Salt Revenue, we have first to state that we consider it to be of primary importance that as full and effective warning of storms as practicable should be given to the larger ports, and that it would never be tolerated by the various interests concerned that the system of storm signals should be cut down so as to suit the very limited intelligence of the masters of country vessels.

On the other hand, we agree with him that it is desirable the storm signals used at small ports, frequented only by country vessels or small coasting steamers, should be made as simple as possible. This can easily be done by using only a selection of the uniform series of storm signals given above, suited to the exigencies of those ports. In fact, they only require to be warned of storms likely to affect them directly. This can be done by the use of the following three day and the corresponding night signals shown below :—

DAY SIGNALS.

I.—WARNING SIGNAL.

A ball indicates that a cyclonic storm has formed, which will probably advance to that part of the coast on which the port is situated, but is still at a considerable distance from it.

II.—DANGER SIGNAL.

A drum indicates that a cyclonic storm (probably of slight to moderate intensity) is affecting the port, and that its centre will probably cross the coast over or near to the port.

III.—GREAT DANGER SIGNAL.

A drum with a ball below indicates that a cyclonic storm of great intensity is affecting the port, and that its centre will probably cross the coast over or near to the port.

CORRESPONDING SYSTEM OF NIGHT SIGNALS.

I.—WARNING SIGNAL.

A red light (corresponding to day warning signal) indicates that a cyclonic storm has formed, which will probably advance to that part of the coast on which the port is situated, but is still at a considerable distance from it.

II.—DANGER SIGNAL.

Two red lights in a vertical line correspond to day signal No. 2 and indicate that a cyclonic storm (probably of slight to moderate intensity) is affecting the port, and that its centre will probably cross the coast over or near to the port.

III.—GREAT DANGER SIGNAL.

Three red lights in a vertical line correspond to day (great danger) signal No. 3 and indicate that a cyclonic storm of great intensity is affecting the port, and that its centre will probably cross the coast over or near to the port.

It will be seen that these signals are the same as in the larger series and only include those indicating the approach of a storm to the immediate neighbourhood of the port.

It would depend upon the local authorities concerned whether the smaller or the larger series of storm signals were adopted, and their decision would be communicated to the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India, Simla, who would frame his warnings to the respective ports in accordance with the wishes of the local authorities as sanctioned by the Local Governments.

We also desire to take this opportunity of suggesting that whenever a cyclonic storm is known to be in existence in the Arabian Sea, and is likely to cross the usual tracts of steamers between Aden and Bombay or Aden and Kurrachee, information to that effect should be telegraphed by the Simla Meteorological Office to the Port Officer, Aden, for communication to the Commanders of mail and other steamers leaving that port for either Bombay or Kurrachee.

The 19th October 1897.

No. 180Marine.—The following proviso, which is proposed to be added to the draft rules under section 50 of the Inland Steam Vessels Act, VI of 1884, published in this Department Notification No. 112Marine, dated the 5th October 1896, is published for general information. It will be taken into consideration on the expiry of a month from the date of first publication in the Gazette, and the Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to consider any suggestions or observations that may be made concerning it within this period :—

The provisions of Rules 2 and 5 regarding the delivery of dangerous goods to the Master of a vessel for safe custody and the carriage of gunpowder and other explosives in a suitably constructed magazine compartment shall not apply in the case of explosives carried in the form of samples and in charge of an Inspector of Explosives.

REVISED NOTICE.

Entrance Examination.

A TEST examination of private students for admission to the ensuing Entrance Examination will be held at the Office of the Inspector of Schools, Presidency Circle, 4, Dalhousie Square, Calcutta, on Monday, the 3rd, and Tuesday, the 4th January 1898. Such candidates only as reside in any of the districts of the Presidency Division including Calcutta will be admitted to the examination

2.—Only those candidates who do not appear from any school, i.e., who have not been in any school since the 1st of September next preceding the examination, will be treated as private students. They will be required to furnish satisfactory proof that they have not read in any school from that date. They must also produce certificates of conduct and progress in studies from the authorities of the last school where they read, or, in the case of those who have not been in any school for more than a year, from some other reliable authorities. The transfer certificates granted to them by the authorities of the schools in which they studied last, or the Registrar's receipt for the fee paid in the case of those candidates who previously appeared at the Entrance Examination, must be submitted in original along with the application for permission to appear at the test examination.

3. Bonâ fide teachers employed in any of the schools in the Presidency Division may be admitted to the examination if they can produce certificates of service and character from their employers, or from the Deputy Inspector of the district concerned.

4. Each candidate should submit to this Office, not later than the 22nd December 1897, his application for admission to the test examination, stating the following particulars:—

(1) Age; (2) residence; (3) father's name; (4) second language besides English; and (5) whether he appeared at any previous Entrance Examination.

5. The admission-fee for the examination is Rs. 4 for each candidate, and is to be remitted with the application within the prescribed date, after which a fine of Rs. 2 is to be imposed for each week's delay.

6. No private student will be admitted to the test examination unless accompanied, for the purpose of identification, by some person known to this Office.

7. Candidates who are sent up by this Office must appear at the Calcutta Examination Centre.

8. Those that reside at a distance from Calcutta may present themselves at the test examination held by the head-master of the nearest zilla or Government high school within the Presidency Division, on condition that they appear at the centre selected by the candidates from that institution. The head-master of such school is hereby authorised to sign the applications from these students, which must afterwards be countersigned by the Inspector. The fees and fines paid by such students, as per paragraph 5 above, are to be credited to the school fund.

F.A. and B.A. Examinations.

Deputy Inspectors, Sub-Inspectors, and bonâ fide teachers of recognized English schools in the Presidency Division, who have served as such for full two academical years, or for six months, in the case of those who have been admitted to a former examination of the same class, will be admitted to the above examinations on production of certificates of character and length of service (with dates) from their employers. Their applications must reach this Office on or before the 3rd January 1898.

2. Candidates for the B.A. Examination who are school-masters must send in their F.A. Certificates.

3. Candidates should carefully read the printed form of application and supply all the information required by the University, including the Registrar's receipt in the case of those school-masters who were admitted to a previous examination of the same class.

NOTIFICATIONS OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE.

No. 1770B.

WITH reference to the provisions of section 19 of the Bengal Salt Act, VII of 1864, the Board have delegated to the Collector of Backergunge the power of granting special rowanas to persons clearing salt from the bonded warehouses at Jhalakati licensed under the Inland Bonded Warehouses Act, VIII of 1896, which is intended to be conveyed to traders within the salt law limits of that district.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L. P.,

H. LUSON, Offg. Secretary.

CALCUTTA, the 14th October 1897.

NOTICE.

THE following instructions, which have been framed by the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, under the orders of the Governor-General in Council, for the guidance of Collectors of Customs, in deciding the duty to be levied on imported spirits said to have been rendered unfit for human consumption, for which the reduced rate of duty is claimed under Schedule III (1) of the Tariff Act, are published for general information :—

1. When a sample of spirit, imported by sea and said to have been rendered unfit for human consumption, has been sent to the Chemical Examiner for report in accordance with rule 1 of the rules made under section 155 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, the report shall state the composition of the spirit, the nature of the ingredient used for methylation, and the proportion which such material bears by volume to the spirit methylated; and shall include a note intimating whether, in the opinion of the Chemical Examiner, the spirit has or has not been rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption.

2. If the ingredient used for methylation is reported to be caoutchoucine, and if it has been mixed with the spirit in the proportion of not less than one part by volume of the caoutchoucine to 99 parts by volume of the spirit calculated at the strength of 30 per cent. over proof, the Collector shall ordinarily pass the spirit so methylated at the reduced rate of duty.

3. If the ingredient used for methylation is reported to be wood naptha, the Collector may in his discretion specially pass the spirit at the reduced rate of duty if he is satisfied that it is required for a purpose for which caoutchoucined spirits are not suited, and that it will be used after admission in such a way that there will be no danger of its passing into consumption as potable spirit.

4. In all other cases the Collector shall refuse to pass the spirit at the reduced rate of duty.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L.P.,

H. LUSON,
Offg. Secretary.

JUDICIAL.

No. 1148.—In continuation of the notification of the Government of India in the Military Department, No. 750, dated the 9th July 1897, and in supersession of the rules published in G. G. O. No. 460, dated the 3rd May 1895, and of any rules hitherto issued which are inconsistent with the rules hereby published, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to make the following rules, under sections 26 and 27 of the Cantonments Act, 1889 (XIII of 1889), and to direct that they be put in force in all cantonments in British India:

Definitions. 1. In these rules,—

(a) the expression "bazar" means any land set apart for occupation by natives of India, except the lines of native troops;

(b) the expression "regimental bazar" means any bazar under the management of regimental authorities;

(c) the expression "infectious or contagious disorder" includes cholera, leprosy, enteric fever, venereal disease and every infectious or contagious disorder; and

(d) the expression "street" includes any way, road, lane, square, court, alley, passage or open space, whether a thoroughfare or not and whether built upon or not, over which the public have a right of way, and also the roadway and footway over any public bridge or causeway.

Hospitals or dispensaries.

2. (1) So far as the funds at its disposal permit, the Cantonment Authority may—

(a) provide and maintain, either within or without the cantonment, as many hospitals or dispensaries as may be necessary; or

(b) make, upon such terms as it thinks fit to impose, a grant-in-aid to any hospital or dispensary, whether within or without the cantonment, not maintained by it.

(2) Every hospital or dispensary maintained or aided under this rule shall have attached to it a ward or wards for the treatment of persons suffering from infectious or contagious disorders.

Medical officer to be in charge of hospital or dispensary.

3. A medical officer, to be appointed in such manner as the Local Government may direct, shall be in charge of every hospital or dispensary maintained or aided under rule 2.

XIII of 1889.

Subordinate establishments for hospitals or dispensaries.

4. Subject to the control over the Cantonment Fund which is vested in the Local Government by section 23 of the Cantonments Act, 1889, there shall be appointed, for every hospital or dispensary maintained or aided under rule 2, such subordinate establishment as may be necessary.

Medical supplies, appliances, etc.

5. So far as the funds at its disposal permit, the Cantonment Authority shall cause every hospital or dispensary maintained or aided under rule 2 to be provided with—

(a) all necessary drugs, instruments, apparatus, furniture and appliances;

(b) sufficient cots, bedding and clothing for in-patients; and

(c) such further requisites as may be necessary.

Application of civil hospital rules.

6. Every hospital or dispensary maintained or aided under rule 2 shall be maintained in accordance with the rules made generally or specially by the Governor-General in Council, or the Local Government for the conduct of hospitals and dispensaries, or in accordance with the said rules modified in such manner as the Governor-General in Council or the Local Government may think proper.

Free patients.

7. At every hospital or dispensary maintained or aided under rule 2 the sick poor of the cantonment, persons in the cantonment suffering from infectious or contagious disorders and, with the sanction of the Cantonment Authority, any other sick persons may receive medical treatment free of cost and, if treated as in-patients, shall be either dieted gratuitously or, should the medical officer in charge so direct, granted subsistence allowance on a scale to be determined by the Cantonment Authority.

Provided that the subsistence allowance granted as aforesaid shall not be less than the lowest allowance for the time being fixed for the subsistence of judgment-debtors by the

XIV of 1882.

Local Government under section 338 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Paying patients.

8. Any sick person, who is ineligible under the last foregoing rule to receive medical treatment free of cost in any hospital or dispensary maintained or aided under rule 2, may, upon such terms as the Cantonment Authority thinks fit to impose, be admitted to treatment in such hospital or dispensary.

Power to call upon person suffering from infectious or contagious disorder to attend and remain in the hospital or dispensary.

9. If the medical officer in charge of a hospital or dispensary maintained or aided under rule 2 has primâ facie grounds for believing that any person living in the cantonment is suffering from an infectious or contagious disorder, he may, by notice in writing in the form set forth in the schedule or in any similar form, call upon such person to attend at the hospital or dispensary at a time to be specified in the notice and not to quit it without the permission of the medical officer in charge unless and until such medical officer is satisfied, by examination if necessary, that such person is not in fact suffering, or is no longer suffering, from such disorder.

Provided that, if, having regard to the nature of the disorder, or the condition of the person suffering therefrom, or the general environment and circumstances of such person, the medical officer considers the attendance of such person at the hospital or dispensary inexpedient, he may dispense with such attendance and take such measures or give such directions as to him seem fit and proper.

Power to exclude from cantonment.

10. If the medical officer in charge of a hospital or dispensary, maintained or aided under rule 2, reports in writing to the Commanding Officer of the cantonment that any person having received a notice as provided in rule 9 has refused or omitted to attend at the hospital or dispensary, or that such person, having attended at the hospital or dispensary, has quitted it without the permission of such medical officer, the Commanding Officer may, if he thinks it expedient, by order in writing, direct such person to remove from the cantonment within twenty-four hours, and prohibit such person from remaining longer in, or re-entering, it without his written permission.

Removal of brothels or prostitutes.

11. The Cantonment Authority may, by notice in writing, prohibit—

(a) the keeping of a brothel, or

(b) the residence of a public prostitute, in the cantonment or in any specified part thereof.

Exclusion of public prostitutes from regimental bazars.

12. No public prostitute shall be permitted to reside within the limits of any regimental bazar situate in the cantonment.

Loitering or importuning for sexual immorality prohibited.

13. No person shall, in any street or public place within the limits of the cantonment, loiter for the purpose of prostitution or importune any person to the commission of sexual immorality:

Provided that no person shall be charged with a breach of this rule, except on the complaint of the person importuned or of a member of the British military police-force employed in the cantonment and specially authorized in this behalf by the Commanding Officer of the cantonment, or of an officer as defined in the Cantonments Act, 1889. XIII of 1889.

Penalties.

Penalties.

14. Whoever,—

(a) having, under rule 10, been prohibited from remaining in, or re-entering, the cantonment, remains in, or re-enters, it without the written permission of the Commanding Officer; or shall be punishable with fine which may extend to fifty rupees, or with imprisonment for a term which may extend to eight days.

(b) fails to comply with a notice under rule 11; or

(c) commits a breach of rule 13;

Arrest without warrant.

15. Any member of the police-force employed in the cantonment may arrest without a warrant any person committing, or charged with having committed, an offence punishable under clause (a) or clause (c) of the last foregoing rule:

Provided as follows:—

(i) no person shall be so arrested whose name and address are known to either the complainant or the arresting officer;

(ii) no person shall be so arrested who consents to give his or her name and address, unless there is reasonable ground for doubting the accuracy of the name or address so given, the burden of proof of which shall be on the arresting officer;

(iii) no person so arrested shall be detained after his or her name and address have been ascertained.

(iv) no person so arrested shall, except under the order of a Magistrate, be detained longer than may be necessary for bringing him or her before a Magistrate; and

(v) no person shall be so arrested for a breach of rule 13, except—

(a) at the request of the person importuned or of an officer as defined in the Cantonments Act, 1889, in whose presence the breach was committed; or XIII of 1889.

(b) by, or at the request of, a member of the British military police-force employed in the cantonment and specially authorized in this behalf by the Commanding Officer of the cantonment, in whose presence the breach was committed.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1081T.M.—The 16th October 1897.—It is hereby notified for general information that the Lieutenant-Governor intends to confirm, under clause 4, section 3 of Act XX of 1887, the following rules framed by the Commissioners of the Nasirabad Municipality, in the district of Mymensingh, under section 3 of the Act, for the protection of wild birds and game within the limits of the above Municipality, unless good reasons are shown to the contrary within one month from the date of publication of this notification within the said Municipality :—

Rules under section 3 of Act XX of 1887 for the Nasirabad Municipality.

1. "Wild bird" for the purposes of these rules shall include jungle-fowl, pea-fowl, partridges, quail, plover, whistling teal, painted snipe, cotton teal and every bird killed for the sake of its plumage.

2. The Local Government having by notification declared that the provision of section 3, Act XX of 1887, shall apply to hares and deer, the following rules will apply to those animals as well as to wild birds.

3. The breeding season for the purposes of these rules shall extend from the 1st April to the 30th September.

4. Whoever, during the breeding season, has in his possession within the limits of the Municipality of Nasirabad any wild bird, deer or hare, recently killed or taken, or exposes for sale any such bird or animal, living or dead, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 5 for each bird or animal.

5. Whoever, during the breeding season, imports into the town the plumage of any kind of wild bird, recently killed or taken, or the fur or skin of any hare or deer recently killed or taken, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 5 for the plumage of every such bird or the fur or skin of every such hare or deer.

6. In the case of a second conviction, the fine may extend to Rs. 10 for each such bird, hare, deer, plumage, fur or skin.

7. All birds, plumage, fur or skin, &c., in respect of which a conviction has been had under rules 4, 5 and 6, shall be confiscated.

8. A reward, not exceeding half the fine imposed and realized under rules 4, 5 and 6, may be granted by the adjudicating Magistrate to any person who has afforded information leading to a conviction for a breach of any of the above rules.

Proviso.—No prosecution shall be instituted under these rules without the sanction of the Chairman previously obtained in writing.

H. H. RISLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1085T.M.—The 16th October 1897.—It is hereby notified for general information that the Lieutenant-Governor intends, in the exercise of the power conferred on him by section 290 of the Bengal Municipal Act, III of 1884, as amended by Bengal Acts IV of 1894 and II of 1896, to make the following rules and to impose the following conditions, subject to which the Commissioners of the Bhagalpur Municipality may allow the owners and occupiers of holdings paying a water-rate, to lay down communication pipes from the service pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to their premises for domestic purposes, unless good reasons are shown to the contrary within one month from the date of the publication of this notification within the aforesaid Municipality :—

I.—So long as the supply of water permits, the Commissioners will allow the owners and occupiers of houses paying the water-rate imposed under the provisions of Part VII of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, to lay down communication pipes at their own expense from the service pipes of the Commissioners for bringing a supply of water into their lands and houses for domestic purposes only, subject to the following rules and conditions :—

(1) The owner or occupier of any house or land requiring water to be laid on for domestic purposes, or requiring any addition or alteration to the existing water-supply, must apply for the same at the Commissioners' Office.

(2) Every communication pipe must be capable of withstanding a pressure of a column of water 200 feet in height, and must be laid at least two feet below the surface of the ground; and above ground it must be screened, wherever practicable, from exposure to the sun.

(3) In every instance the communication pipe must be connected to a service pipe or to a main by a ferrule and screw-coupling to be supplied by the Commissioners on payment of such prices as they may fix from time to time.

(4) Whenever a communication pipe has to be laid across a sewer or open drain, or in any place where, in the opinion of the Commissioners, it is liable to injury, such pipe must be passed through a cast-iron pipe of sufficient length and strength to afford due protection to the communication pipe.

(5) On every communication pipe a brass stop-cock, having the same waterway as the pipe, shall be placed as near as practicable to the point where the said pipe enters the house or premises to be supplied. It shall be provided with a surface cover-box resting on brickwork foundations to indicate its situation, and shall be so designed that it can be locked, and the key of it shall remain under the control of the Engineer of the Municipality. The stop-cock shall be capable of adjustment so that the supply to the house may be regulated by it.

(6) Every tap or cock in any communication pipe shall have a waterway at least equal to that of the pipe in which it is fixed, and to ensure water-tightness, it shall be of brass and of the kind called screw down.

(7) No connection shall be made between a communication pipe and any supply pipe except in the presence of the Engineer or a Water-works Inspector.

II.—The pipes and fittings for house service shall consist of six sections :—

(1) The ferrule connecting the communication pipe with the supply pipe.
(2) The communication pipe from the ferrule to the stop-cock.
(3) The service pipe or pipes from the stop-cock to the taps.
(4) The taps.
(5) The stop-cock boxes.
(6) The meter and its fittings if provided.

III.—(a) The fittings shall be exact duplicates of standard samples kept in the office of the Engineer and approved of by him.

(b) Each fitting shall conform to the following specifications :—

(1) The ferrule.—The ferrule must be of brass or gun-metal and of the best workmanship and finish and be screwed in to the supply pipe. The inside of the ferrule to be accurately bored to the fixed dimensions. The ferrule to be covered with an iron bell-cover, resting on the supply pipe.

(2) Pipes.—The diameter of the communication pipe shall be determined by the Engineer with reference to the head of pressure prevailing in the section of the town in which the connection is made, due regard being given to the quantity of water required.

All pipes shall be of galvanised iron. They shall be new and capable of withstanding a pressure of a column of water 200 feet in height and of a quality approved by the Engineer.

The piping shall be at least of the following weights :—

½	inch pipe	...	...	2½ lbs.	per yard.
¾	,,	...	...	3½ ,,	,,
1	,,	...	...	5½ ,,	,,
1¼	,,	...	...	7¼ ,,	,,
1½	,,	...	...	9¼ ,,	,,

No more bends or elbows than are absolutely necessary shall be allowed. No bend by heating and no gradual bend or long-sweep such as to cause risk of splitting shall be allowed.

The point of discharge of all pipes shall be above ground and visible to the occupier of the house and the Water-works Inspector.

(3) The meter.—If a meter is provided by the Commissioners, it shall be placed as near to the stop-cock as possible and in a position where it can be conveniently examined, and no meter shall be fixed under ground unless in a brick well. No meter shall be disconnected from the service pipe or in any way intefered with except with the permission of the Engineer.

IV.—Testing and proving water fittings.—All fittings used in connection with a supply of water shall be tested and stamped by an officer of the Commissioners before being fixed, and the following fees shall be charged for testing :—

Stop-cock boxes	...	...	...	2 annas.
Bib and stop taps	...	...	...	3 ,,
Bath fittings	...	...	...	4 ,,
Ball taps	...	...	...	5 ,,

Samples of standard fittings approved by the Engineer shall be provided by the Commissioners and exhibited in the Municipal Office. Any fittings presented for approval shall, if considered satisfactory by the Engineer, be stamped, and samples thereof be purchased and placed among the standard fittings.

The test mark shall be—

No fitting which is not stamped with the name of the maker shall be tested.

V.—Size of ferrule.—The size of ferrule shall be principally regulated by the annual valuation of the premises in accordance with the following scale :—

Annual valuation.					Diameter of ferrule.
Not exceeding Rs. 50	...	...	...	...	$\frac{1}{2}$"
Exceeding „ 50	but not exceeding Rs.	100	...	...	$\frac{3}{4}$"
Ditto „ 100	ditto „	200	...	...	1"
Ditto „ 200	ditto „	400	...	...	$1\frac{1}{2}$"
Ditto „ 400	ditto „	800	...	...	2"
Ditto „ 800	ditto „	1,500	...	...	3"

VI.—Adjustment of discharge of stop-cock.—As far as possible the stop-cock shall be adjusted by the Engineer, so that the discharge shall be in accordance with the quantity of water allowed on the water-rate paid; but where the supply is controlled by a meter, this will be unnecessary.

VII.—(a) Of taps.—The following shall be the number of taps that may be allowed to premises :—

Annual valuation.					Number of taps.
Not exceeding Rs. 200				...	2
Exceeding „ 200	but not exceeding Rs.	300	...	...	3
Ditto „ 300	ditto „	500	...	...	4
Ditto „ 500	ditto „	900	...	...	5
Ditto „ 900	ditto „	1,200	...	...	6

If the valuation exceeds Rs. 1,200, there shall be no limit to the number.

(b) No person shall be allowed to have more taps than the number he is entitled to unless he puts up a water-meter at his own expense.

VIII.—Every house shall have its own separate service, and no house shall, unless with the sanction of the Commissioners, have more than one communication pipe either from the supply pipe or from the adjoining premises.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1889 the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows for current issues as well as for back numbers of the Reports from 1876:—

ACT No. IV OF 1897.

An Act to regulate the commutation of predial conditions or services in parts of Chota Nagpur.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law relating to the voluntary commutation of conditions or services appurtenant to the occupation of land other than the rent, in certain districts in the Chota Nagpur Division, and to provide for the compulsory record, with or without commutation, of such conditions or services as aforesaid, in the said districts;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Chota Nagpur Commutation Act, 1897;

(2) It extends to the districts of Hazaribagh, Lohardaga, Palamau and Singhbhum, in the Chota Nagpur Division; and

(3) It shall come into force in any such district or in any part thereof on such day as the Local Government may appoint in that behalf by notification in the Calcutta Gazette.

Repeal.

2. Sections 25 and 26 of the Chota Nagpur Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act, 1879, are hereby repealed. Ben. I of 1879.

Definitions.

3. (1) In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "Revenue-officer" means any officer whom the Local Government may from time to time appoint, by name or by virtue of his office, to discharge any of the functions of a Revenue-officer under this Act;

(b) "predial conditions or services" mean conditions or services appurtenant to the occupation of land other than the rent;

(c) "conditions" include rakumats and abwabs which, by custom, are payable by raiyats to their landlords, and

(d) "agricultural year" means the year prevailing in a local area for agricultural purposes.

(2) If it appears to the Local Government to be doubtful what year prevails in any particular area for agricultural purposes, the Local Government may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, declare upon what dates such year shall be deemed to commence and terminate respectively.

(Chota Nagpur Commutation Act.— Chapter II.— Commutation and Record of Predial Conditions or Services.—Sections 4-6.)

CHAPTER II.

COMMUTATION AND RECORD OF PREDIAL CONDITIONS OR SERVICES.

Voluntary commutation of predial conditions or services.

4. (1) When any land is held subject to any predial conditions or services, the tenant of such land, or the person who has the right to the benefit of such conditions or services, may apply in writing to the Revenue-officer for commutation of such conditions or services.

(2) The Revenue-officer shall thereupon cause a notice to be served on each of the other persons who, under sub-section (1), would have a right to make such application, and shall fix a day for considering the application; and on such day, or on any day thereafter to which the hearing may be adjourned, shall proceed to enquire into the matter and to determine the amount which, in his judgment, is fairly and equitably payable in commutation of such conditions or services.

(3) In calculating the said amount, the Revenue-officer shall have regard to the conditions or services to which the tenant is liable in accordance with ancient custom, and the money value of such conditions or services at the time of making such calculation:

Provided that, in the case of conditions or services other than rakumats, the amount payable in commutation shall not exceed one-fourth of the annual rent payable by the tenant.

Power to order record of predial conditions or services, with or without commutation

5. (1) The Local Government may, in any case in which it is, in its opinion, expedient so to do, make an order directing either—

(a) that a record of all predial conditions or services to which the lands within any local area or any estate, tenure or part thereof are subject shall be prepared, and a commutation of such conditions or services made, by a Revenue-officer; or

(b) that a record as aforesaid be made by a Revenue-officer without commutation of such conditions or services as aforesaid.

(2) A notification in the Calcutta Gazette of an order under this section shall be conclusive evidence that the order has been duly made.

(3) The record of conditions or services shall be prepared in accordance with rules made under section 13.

Preparation of record.

6. (1) Whenever an order is made under section 5, the Revenue-officer shall thereupon proceed to prepare a record containing the following particulars, namely:—

(a) the name of each tenant;

(b) the name of his landlord;

(c) the rent payable for the lands held by him at the time the record is being prepared;

(d) the predial conditions or services to which all or any of such lands are subject;

(e) the amount which, in the judgment of the Revenue-officer, may fairly be deemed payable in commutation of such conditions or services, and

(f) such other particulars as may from time to time be prescribed by the Board of Revenue.

(2) In calculating the amount payable in commutation of such conditions or services, the Revenue-officer shall be guided by the provisions of section 4, sub-section (3).

Publication of record.

7. (1) When the Revenue-officer has prepared a record under section 6, he shall cause a draft of the same to be locally published in the manner and for the period prescribed in the rules made under section 13, and shall receive and consider any objections which may be made to any entry therein or to any omission therefrom during the period of publication.

(2) When objections have been considered and disposed of in accordance with the rules made under section 13, the record shall be finally framed and published in the manner prescribed by those rules.

(3) Separate drafts or records may be published under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) for different local areas, estates, tenures or parts thereof.

Appeals from orders of Revenue-officers.

8. (1) An appeal from any order of a Revenue-officer under this Chapter shall lie to the Deputy Commissioner, or, if the Revenue-officer is himself the Deputy Commissioner, then to the Commissioner of the Division.

(2) When an appeal has been disposed of by the Deputy Commissioner under sub-section (1), an appeal from his order shall lie to the Commissioner.

(3) The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to appeals shall, as nearly as may be, apply to all appeals under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2). XIV of 1882

(4) Where the Commissioner concurs with the Deputy Commissioner the order shall be final, but in other cases an appeal shall lie to the Board of Revenue from the order of the Commissioner.

(5) Every appeal under sub-section (1) must be presented within three months, and every appeal under sub-section (2) or sub-section (4) must be presented within one month, from the date of the order appealed against.

Revision by Commissioner or Board

9 The Commissioner or the Board of Revenue may direct the revision of any record prepared under this Chapter, or any portion of such record, at any time within two years from the date of the final publication of the record, but not so as to affect any decision from which an appeal has been preferred under section 8:

Provided that no such direction shall be made until reasonable notice has been given to the parties concerned to appear and be heard in the matter.

(Chota Nagpur Commutation Act.—Chapter II.—Commutation and Record of Predial Conditions or Services.—Chapter III.—Rules.—Sections 10-13.)

Commencement and effect of commutation.

10. (1) When the commutation of any predial conditions or services is settled under this Chapter for any local area or estate, tenure or part thereof, the settlement shall take effect from the beginning of the agricultural year next after the final publication of the record; and from that time the imposition of any predial conditions or services on any tenants of the local area or estate, tenure or part thereof shall be illegal, and all stipulations and reservations for rendering or requiring such conditions or services within the local area or estate, tenure or part thereof shall be void.

(2) The amount determined by a Revenue-officer under this Chapter to be payable by a tenant in commutation of predial conditions or services shall be deemed to be part of the rent payable by the tenant, and shall be recoverable accordingly.

Expenses of voluntary commutation.

11. (1) The Revenue-officer may require any person applying for commutation under section 4 to deposit in advance the whole or any part of the estimated amount of the expenses to be incurred thereunder.

(2) When in any case the proceedings under section 4 have been completed, the Revenue-officer shall apportion the total expenses thereof between the landlord and tenant in such proportion as, having regard to all the circumstances, he may deem fit, and the amounts so apportioned shall be recoverable as an arrear of land-revenue.

(3) If the amount deposited by any person in pursuance of sub-section (1) exceeds the sum apportioned to him under sub-section (2), the excess shall, when the proceedings have been completed, be refunded to him.

Expenses of record and compulsory commutation.

12. (1) The expenses incurred by the Government in carrying out in any local area or any estate, tenure or part thereof any order made under section 5, or such part of those expenses as the Local Government may direct, shall be defrayed by the landlords and tenants of land in that local area, estate, tenure or part, in such proportions as the Local Government, having regard to all the circumstances, may determine.

(2) The portion of the aforesaid expenses which any person is liable to pay shall be recoverable by the Government as if it were an arrear of land-revenue due in respect of the said local area, estate, tenure or part.

Explanation.—The word "tenure" in this section includes all revenue-free and rent-free tenures and holdings within a local area, estate or tenure.

CHAPTER III.

RULES.

Power to make rules.

13. The Local Government may from time to time, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, make rules—

(1) to regulate the procedure to be followed by Revenue-officers in the discharge of any duty imposed upon them by or under

(Chota Nagpur Commutation Act.—Chapter III.—Rules.—Section 14.)

this Act, and may by such rules confer upon any Revenue officer—

(a) any power exercised by a Civil Court in the trial of suits;

(b) power to enter upon any land, and to survey, demarcate and make a map of the same, and

(c) any power exercisable by any officer under the Bengal Survey Act, 1875; Ben. V of 1875.

(2) to prescribe the mode of service of notices under section 4;

(3) to prescribe the manner of preparing records under Chapter II;

(4) to prescribe the manner in which and the period for which draft records shall be published under section 7, and the manner in which objections to a draft record shall be disposed of;

(5) to prescribe the manner in which records shall be finally published under section 7, and

(6) generally, for the guidance of Revenue-officers in carrying out the provisions of Chapter II.

Procedure for making and publishing rules.

14. (1) The Local Government shall, before making rules under section 13, publish a draft of the proposed rules for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

(2) The publication shall be made in such manner as may, in the opinion of the Local Government, be sufficient for giving information to persons interested:

Provided that every such draft shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

(3) There shall be published with the draft a notice specifying a day, not earlier than one month after the date of publication, on or after which the draft will be taken into consideration.

(4) The Local Government shall consider any objection or suggestion which may be received by it from any person with respect to the draft before the day so specified.

(5) The publication in the Calcutta Gazette of a rule purporting to be made under this Act shall be conclusive evidence that it has been duly made.

(6) All rules made under this Act may from time to time be amended, added to, or cancelled by the Local Government.

ALLEGED ASSAULT ON BABU GIRISH CHUNDER MOOKERJEE.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee said:—

I have the honour to call the attention of the Government to the statement noted in the margin, taken from a recent issue of the Amrita Bazar Patrika, which purports to describe a case of gross and unprovoked assault committed by Mr. Marklew, Inspector of the Sukea Street thana, upon Babu Girish Chunder Mookerjee, M.A., Head-Assistant in the Office of the Registrar of the Calcutta University.

Is it the case, as alleged, that the Inspector assaulted Babu Girish Chunder Mookerjee, cutting his under-lip, and gave orders to drag him to the thana, and that, although the Inspector was asked several times by the complainant what offence he had committed, the Inspector declined to give any answer? If so, will the Government be pleased to state what notice has been taken by the superior authorities of the conduct of the Inspector in the matter? Does the Government consider the Inspector a fit and proper person to remain in responsible charge of a station?

A police zulum of an unprecedented character was perpetrated at Machua Bazar Street this morning. At about 9-30 o'clock, when Babu Girish Chunder Mookerjee, M A., Head-Assistant to the Registrar of the Calcutta University, was about to leave for his office, he was arrested by a posse of constables, headed by Inspector Marklew, of Sukea Street thana, assaulted on the public road, and walked off to the thana. The head and front of Girish Babu's offence was that he had asked two police constables, who were beating a supposed thief and abusing him in the filthiest language on a piece of his land close to that part of his house especially intended for the ladies. Girish Babu objected to the violent language used by the constables within the hearing of the ladies, and told them to leave the place. One of the constables went and informed the Inspector of the local thana, and he immediately, with about a dozen constables and head-constables, came to Girish Babu's house, arrested him, and assaulted and took him to the thana in the manner I have mentioned above. He was charged with obstructing police officers in the discharge of their duties. He was afterwards released on bail.

AT THE POLICE COURT.

Later on the same day, Mr. Manuel, with several junior Pleaders, appeared before Mr. Bonnaud, Officiating Northern Division Presidency Magistrate, and applied on behalf of Babu Girish Chunder Mukherjee for a summons against Inspector Marklew of the Sukea Street thana and two of his subordinate Police Officers, for having trespassed into his client's house in Machua Bazar Street, and for having abused and assaulted him, dragged him along the streets to the local thana, although at the time no charge was made against him, and although the complainant's brother, Babu Gopal Chunder Mukherjee, Deputy Collector of Calcutta, desired to know what offence (if any) his brother had committed. It appears that early on Saturday a broken box, which was connected with a charge of theft, was found on an open piece of ground adjoining the complainant's house, and that some Indian Police Officers had taken two men to that piece of ground and were unmercifully beating them, on which the complainant, from an upper window, remonstrated with them. Thereupon, the complainant was called downstairs. On his coming downstairs, the subordinate officers at once laid their hands on him and was dragging him to the thana, when Inspector Marklew came up with a posse of policemen, abused the complainant, and hit him a blow in the mouth, cutting his under-lip, and gave orders to drag him to the thana, and, although the Inspector was asked several times by the complainant and his brother and several other respectable neighbours to state what offence he had committed, the Inspector declined to give any reason. As far as the complainant was aware, he was arrested without any justification whatever. In the scuffle he was so flurried that he dropped his spectacles, so that when a document was handed to him and he signed it he did not know a word of its contents. After recording some evidence His Worship granted summonses against Inspector Marklew and his subordinates.

The Hon'ble Mr. Bolton replied:—

"The Lieutenant-Governor's attention was attracted by the case mentioned by the Hon'ble Member, and enquiry has been made. The Commissioner of Police reports that the Inspector did not assault Babu Girish Chandra Mukherji. It appears that two thieves were taken by some police officers to an open plot of land adjoining that person's house and belonging to him, for the purpose of pointing out stolen property hidden there. Babu Girish Chandra Mukherji objected to the noise which was made, and told the police to leave, pushing or assaulting one of them. He was thereupon arrested by another officer for assault on the police, but broke away. Information was conveyed to Insptector Marklew, who came and re-arrested the Babu at his door, after enquiring whether it was he who had assaulted the police officer and receiving the answer that he had committed no assault, but had got away from the custody of the police. The Inspector did not exceed his powers under the law, but the Lieutenant-Governor is not satisfied that his action was throughout judicious. He is an officer of fourteen years' service, who is reported by the Commissioner of Police to bear an excellent character and to be quite fit for the charge of a station. The case instituted by the police, as well as the complaint filed against them by Babu Girish Chandra Mukherji, has been amicably settled."

ALLEGED ASSAULT BY INSPECTOR LYONS.

The Hon'ble Babu SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said:—

I beg to ask if the attention of the Government has been called to the allegations set forth in the margin, and which are quoted from one of the newspapers.

Another officer of the same (Calcutta Police) force, Mr. Lyons, has, we observe, been fined by Mr. Wheeler, Joint-Magistrate of Alipore, for assaulting a young Eurasian while in police custody. This case has a history of its own well worth reproduction. One night in March last, Mr. Lyons, then in charge of the Ekbalpur thana, received information that some people were having a row in a house close by, occupied by an East Indian family, and he at once started with a couple of dozen constables, as if he was going to put down a riot. Arrived at the house, he found that those whom he wanted had gone away, and an inoffensive young man, Jack Blackford, was the sole occupant of the premises. Against him there was no information before him, and it was abundantly clear that he was not one of the party which was indulging in liquor, and yet Lyons had him arrested, and to cap all, struck him with his fist, causing him to bleed, simply because he had the impudence to complain of the ill treatment he had received from the constables in whose custody he was. The arrest and the assault, according to the Sessions Judge, before whom the matter went on revision "were perfectly unjustifiable"; but how did the Magistrate dispose of Blackford's complaint when he went to Court? Maulvi Abdul Kader, who first took judicial cognisance of the matter declined to issue a process upon the European Inspector, but wanted a police report first. In vain did Blackford protest against Superintendent Forsyth—the alter ego of the Inspector—having anything to do with his complaint; but the Magistrate, whose sole aim was to stand well with the Police and be a persona grata with the Commissioner of Police, was inexorable. Mr Forsyth's report, as was anticipated, was adverse to the complainant, and then the Magistrate held an elaborate inquiry, during which Mr. Forsyth represented the accused with the result that the complaint was dismissed under section 203, Criminal Procedure Code. Mr. Lyons was deemed too big a swell to be summoned as an accused and placed on the dock. Discomfitted before the Magistrate, poor Blackford had to approach the Sessions Judge, who, fortunately for him, at once saw the injustice of the Magistrate's order, and directed processes to issue against the Inspector. The Judge would not trust the Maulvi with the re-trial of the case, and it was, therefore, made over to Mr. Wheeler, who found, in spite of Mr. Forsyth's evidence to the contrary, that Blackford's version of the assault was substantially correct. For full five months this man had to run from Court to Court to seek that justice which came tardily in the end.

(a) Is it the case that Mr. Lyons, Inspector of the Ekbalpur thana, was fined five rupees by Mr. Wheeler, Joint-Magistrate of Alipore, for committing an assault upon one Jack Blackford while he was in police custody, causing him to bleed, for no other offence than that he had complained to the Inspector of violent treatment at the hands of the constables in whose custody he was?

(b) Is it the case that the Deputy Magistrate before whom Blackford complained called for a report from his immediate superior officer, Mr. Forsyth, the Superintendent, and that upon such report and after such enquiry as the Deputy Magistrate made, he declined to issue process?

(c) Is it the case that the District Judge before whom an appeal was made against the orders of the Deputy Magistrate characterized the assault committed upon Blackford as "perfectly unjustifiable," and directed process to issue against the Police Inspector, and the case having been made over by the Judge to a Magistrate other than the Deputy-Magistrate who had heard the complaint, viz., Mr. Wheeler, the Joint-Magistrate of Alipore, the said Joint-Magistrate fined the Inspector five rupees, notwithstanding the evidence of Mr. Forsyth, the Superintendent, to the contrary?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to state what notice has been taken of the conduct of the Inspector who was convicted by a Judicial Court of assault committed upon a person in his custody?

The Hon'ble MR. BOLTON replied:—

"The Lieutenant-Governor has perused papers relating to the case referred to. It is true that the Inspector was fined by the Joint-Magistrate, as stated, that the Deputy Magistrate had previously refused to issue process against him, and that the Judge ordered the hearing of the complaint, believing from the evidence before him that an assault had been committed by the Inspector. On full consideration of the circumstances of the case, the Lieutenant-Governor sees no necessity for any interference on the part of the Government in this matter."

ESTATES PARTITION BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the law relating to the Partition of Estates be taken into consideration, and that the clauses of the Bill be considered in the form recommended by the Select Committee. He said:—

"I have nothing to add to what I have said on previous occasions."

The Motions were put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Babu Norendra Nath Sen moved that section 7 be struck out. He said:—

"Section 7 provides as follows:—

'Where the lands of an estate have been divided by private arrangement formally made and agreed to by all the proprietors and each proprietor has, in pursuance of such arrangement, taken possession of separate lands to be held in severalty as representing his interest in the estate, no partition of the estate shall be made under this Act except (a) on the joint application of all the proprietors, or (b) in pursuance of a decree or order of a Civil Court.'

"I need not read clause 2 of the section because it does not concern me. This section 7 is a reproduction of section 12 of the existing Act with a couple of amendments added, but it was omitted from the Bill as originally introduced into the Council. Of course the section, as it stands, is a harmless one when all the proprietors of an estate apply jointly for partition, a contingency which, however, is very rare. What generally happens is that a private partition is sought to be set aside by one or more of the proprietors, and then it is left to the Collector to determine whether the alleged partition did actually take place or not. All that I urge is that the determination of all questions like these should be left entirely to the Civil Courts, who alone are fitted to adjudicate them. The Collector is not the proper person to decide them, since he has neither the power nor the machinery for doing so. He cannot take evidence under the Evidence Act, and yet under section 12 of the present Act not a few private partitions have been upset altogether, the plea of mere possession, however long, having been summarily rejected. That section has done more harm than good, for it has given rise to many conflicting rulings by the Board of Revenue, as would appear from the Board's 'Butwara Manual;' for the words 'formally made and agreed to' introduce a wholly vague element into the meaning of the section, and instead of improving matters rather make them worse. The phrase is indefinite and capable of any construction that may be put upon it. I therefore move that section 7 of the Bill be omitted altogether."

The Hon'ble Mr. Finucane said:—"I must oppose this amendment. As the Hon'ble Member has pointed out, section 7 reproduces section 12 of the existing Act. Section 7 recognises the right of proprietors to make a private arrangement among themselves by which they can each take possession of separate lands to be held in severalty as representing their separate interests, and debars the upsetting of such an arrangement, except on the joint application of all the proprietors or in pursuance of an order of a Civil Court. This right of proprietors to make a private partition, which is not to be ignored, except on the application of all of them, was conferred by Article IX of the Permanent Settlement Regulation, I of 1793, and I cannot conceive why the Hon'ble Member should wish by striking out section 7 to deprive proprietors of a privilege which they have always enjoyed. It is true that section 7 was omitted from the earlier editions of the Bill, because the corresponding section 12 of the Act was thought to be of very limited application, and was said to have been used as a subterfuge for delaying partition proceedings. The Select Committee did not, however, consider that these were sufficient reasons for withdrawing a right which had always been allowed. By sub-section 2 the Committee have guarded against the danger of the section being used to delay the proceedings. The Hon'ble Member says the Collector is not the proper person to decide questions of right or title; but as far as I can see, the Collector has nothing to do with the settlement of questions of right under this section. As to the objection which the Hon'ble Member has taken to the words 'formally agreed to by all the proprietors,' I would remark that this phrase was carefully considered by the Select Committee. It is in accordance with the decisions of the Board of Revenue quoted in the Partition Manual, and is only intended to secure that the private arrangement shall be properly and formally made. The word 'formally' was put in to show that it must be a thorough bonâ fide private arrangement, though not necessarily to be registered or put into writing. For these reasons I oppose this motion."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE moved that in section 7, sub-section (1), the following words be inserted after the word "proprietors" in lines 4 and 5, namely:—

"existing at the time when the arrangement was made."

He said:—"I desire to call attention to the words of section 7, and will read the section with my amendment interpolated. The section would then run thus:—

'Where the lands of an estate have been divided by private arrangement formally made and agreed to by all the proprietors existing at the time when the arrangement was made, and each proprietor has, in pursuance of such arrangement, taken possession.'

"The amendment is a very small one, and does not involve any question of principle whatever. The word 'proprietor' is used in sub-section (1) of section 7. We have the word 'proprietor' also in clause (a) of sub-section (1), where it means 'present proprietor.' We have thus the word used in two different senses in two different places in the same section. The present proprietor may not be the proprietor existing at the time when the arrangement was made, although he may be the representative of such proprietor. The object of the amendment is to obviate all doubt and inconvenience which may arise from such a state of things."

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE said:—"I am sorry I cannot accept this amendment, which is one which the Select Committee considered. We considered the words 'existing at the time when the arrangement was made' to be perfectly superfluous. An arrangement made by all the proprietors must mean by the proprietors existing at the time, because proprietors who were not then existing could not have made an arrangement; and persons who become proprietors after the making of the arrangement were not proprietors at the time the arrangement was made. The words proposed to be introduced are therefore superfluous as a matter of drafting."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said:—"Having got this expression of opinion from the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, that the word 'proprietors' means proprietors existing at the time the arrangement was made, I beg leave to withdraw my amendment."

The Motion was, by leave, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE also moved that in section 7, sub-section (2), the figures "29" be substituted for the figures "28."

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE said:—"I accept this amendment. It is a mere clerical amendment which the Secretary discovered independently."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDANATH BANERJEE also moved that the following proviso be added to section 7, sub-section (2), namely:—

'Provided that it shall always be in the discretion of the Collector in case of hardship to entertain an objection even after an order under section 29 has been passed, subject to such conditions as regards costs as he may prescribe.'

He said—"As this proviso is a proviso to be added to sub-section (2) of section 7, it will be necessary to call the attention of the Council to that sub-section. It says:—

'No objection to the partition of an estate under this Act on the ground that the lands have been divided by private arrangement shall be admitted unless it is presented before the Collector records a proceeding under section 29 declaring the estate to be under partition.'

"The object of my amendment is to empower the Collector to entertain objections even after an order has been made under section 29. Whether an objection is to be entertained by the Collector or not will depend entirely on the discretion of that officer, and I think the Council will deem the Collector to be a sufficiently responsible officer to be entrusted with this discretion, and to be sufficiently qualified to exercise that discretion in a manner that may be consistent with justice. It is a notorious fact, and we have recognized it in various enactments which have been passed by this Council, that notices in this country are often very unsatisfactorily served. My amendment will provide a remedy. If a proprietor has not received a notice and has not been able to make his objection, then it will be in the discretion of the Collector to receive his objection even after a proceeding has been recorded under section 29. I am supported by the high authority of the Board of Revenue in this matter, and I call attention to page 4 of the last letter of the Board of Revenue. They say 'Mr. N. K. Bose, the Collector of Rajshahi, suggests that in view of the unsatisfactory nature of the service of notices in this country, the limit of time for an objection may be extended up to one month.' Mr. Forbes (Commissioner of the Chota Nagpur Division) observes that the time limit seems unnecessarily despotic, and proposes the addition of a proviso permitting extension of time, for special reasons, by the Commissioner, subject to such conditions as regards costs as he may prescribe. There is some force in these objections, as the arrangements for the service of notices are not always infallible, but there can be no doubt that the existence of a private partition is occasionally asserted on uncertain grounds at a very late stage in the proceedings merely for the sake of delay and obstruction. To obviate this, it is desirable that a limit of time should be fixed as provided in the Bill, but to meet cases of hardship some exception might be permitted, either by adopting the suggestion of Mr. Forbes, or by giving the Collector authority to receive the objection, subject to such conditions as regards costs as he may prescribe, at any subsequent time before he records an order under section 49 of the Bill.

"My amendment simply embodies the suggestion of the Board, and I hope it will be accepted."

The Hon'ble Mr. Finucane said:—"I cannot accept this amendment. It was proposed by Mr. Forbes in his report upon this Bill. It was considered by the Select Committee, and they thought that it ought not to be accepted. As the sub-section stands objections can be presented at any time before the Collector records a proceeding under section 29, that proceeding being a declaration that the estate is under partition. If the Hon'ble Member will refer to section 29, he will find that before a proceeding can be recorded under that section, a notification must be published under section 21 calling upon all the proprietors of the estate under partition and upon all the proprietors of the neighbouring estates to file their objections. That notification must allow thirty days at least from the date of the publication of it for filing objections, and therefore there is ample time for everybody interested to make his objections before the Collector records a proceeding under section 29. The objection to the amendment which the Hon'ble Member proposes is that it would be open to persons interested to try to cause delay by coming forward at all stages and at any time during partition proceedings, and alleging that they had not received due notice, and the effect would be not only to delay the proceedings but to add to the expense of them. One of the objects of the Bill is to shorten the procedure and to cheapen the cost of obtaining partition. It seemed to the Select Committee that the time given is amply sufficient, and therefore I cannot accept the amendment."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee also moved that the following proviso be added to section 8, namely :—

'Provided that the interest of a Hindu widow in the estate of her deceased husband shall not be deemed to be a life-estate under the terms of this section.'

He said—"I beg to call the attention of the Council to section 8, which provides as follows :—

'Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, no person having a proprietory interest in an estate for the term of his life only shall be entitled to claim partition under this Act.'

"My amendment seeks to give effect to what is the Case Law on the subject. It has been more than once held that the interest which a Hindu widow possesses in the estate of her deceased husband is something more than a life-interest, and that she is fully entitled to partition. Therefore, instead of allowing this right to rest on the decision of the Courts, I propose to embody it as a part of the substantive law. I know that that is the view of the High Court, and I have before me rulings of the High Court on the point. But I venture to suggest that having regard to the fact that we are now legislating on the subject, it is desirable that we should embody the rulings of the Court in the law of the land. I believe the principle is conceded, and there is no difference of opinion between the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill and myself. It is only a question as to how we should proceed. If, however, the Council is of opinion that it is not expedient to introduce this amendment, I have no serious objection to offer."

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE said—"The High Court decided in the case of Mahadeb Koeer versus Hari Narain and others, that the interest of a Hindu widow succeeding as heir to her husband's estate is more than a life-interest; therefore she would not be debarred, as the section stands, from claiming partition. But the amendment of the Hon'ble Member might possibly frustrate his object, for he says that for the purposes of this section the interest of a Hindu widow is not a life interest, which might be taken to mean that it is less than a life interest. However that may be, I oppose the amendment on the ground that it is superfluous."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said—"I don't accept the view put forward by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill. I do not accept the interpretation which he has put upon my amendment. Section 8 creates a disability. I want to remove this disability from the status of a Hindu widow; therefore, instead of lowering her condition, I think my amendment will improve it. At the same time, having heard what has fallen from the Hon'ble Member, I desire to withdraw this amendment."

The Motion was, by leave, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE also moved that for clauses (a), (b) and (c) of section 11 the following be substituted, namely:—

'if the separate estate of any of the proprietors would be liable for an annual amount of land-revenue not exceeding one rupee, until the proprietor of such separate estate agrees to redeem the amount of the revenue for which his estate would be liable by payment of such sum as the Lieutenant-Governor may fix with reference to the circumstances of such estate.'

He said:—"This is the most important amendment which I have the honour to place before the Council, and it affects the section which may be regarded as the keystone of the Bill. The object of the Bill, to the explanation of which the Hon'ble Member in charge devoted a considerable portion of his speech when introducing the Bill, is to raise the limit of partition from Re. 1 to Rs. 10. The object of my amendment is to keep the law as it is. I claim that it is incumbent on the Hon'ble Member to make out a case for the change which he proposes. He is in favour of a modification of the law: I wish to keep things as they are. Therefore the burden of proof is not on me, but on him. It is maintained on behalf of the proposals of the Government that they will benefit the zamindars; that they will benefit the raiyats, and will afford relief to the executive officers of the Government, who are overburdened with the work of opening separate accounts. We have a unanimity of opinion emanating from zamindars on this subject. The British Indian Association represent the interests of the zamindars, and the Association may be regarded as the accredited exponent of the zamindars' feelings and sentiments in this part of Bengal, and they have made a strong protest against the proposal for raising the limit of partition from Re. 1 to Rs. 10. Again, Babu Guru Prosad Sen, who was for some time a Member of this Council, and is the Secretary to the Behar Landholders' Association, protested against it. The Indian Association, with which I have the honour to be connected and which looks at the matter from the point of view of the raiyat, also strongly protests against it. Therefore, while the Government is solicitous of conferring a boon on zamindars and raiyats, zamindars and raiyats, strangely enough, seem to be insensible of the benefit which it is proposed to bestow on them. Nor is this all. Not a single English journal in this country which has referred to this matter is in favour of the change which is proposed. I will read to the Council an extract from the Englishman bearing on my amendment, and it is remarkable that the Englishman and myself should be found in agreement. The Englishman says:—'Apart, however, from the question of procedure, the Bill introduces one radical change in restricting the limits within which estates may be divided. * * * What is the reason of the proposed restriction of partition? Under the existing law co-sharers in estates are encouraged to separate their interests and to form properties which they can efficiently manage, and for which they can be held responsible. If the Government revenue is not more than a rupee, the owners of the estate are allowed to reduce it, and they then have a well-ordered property which has discharged its functions to the State, and which is a source of strength to the country. It seems clear to any one but a Government official that it must be better for the country to have a number of single estates than to have a few large estates held by the numerous co-sharers whose quarrels and disputes are a constant cause of trouble to the country, and prevent all chance of improvements or the other advantages which follow good management of landed property.'

"I find that this opinion is also shared by certain managers of Wards' Estates. Mr. Buskin, the Manager of the Hutwa Raj, says that 'the existing limit of one rupee should be allowed to stand.' But it is not only the opinion of zamindars and raiyats and of the non-official European community that is arrayed against this provision of the Bill. There is a considerable body of official opinion in opposition to this section, and I desire to refer to it. And the first opinion that I shall quote will be the opinion of an honoured and honorable colleague of ours. I refer to Mr. Toynbee, who as Commissioner of the Dacca Division expressed himself in favour of retaining the present limit of partition. I do not know if the Hon'ble Member still adheres to that opinion, but I hope his translation to a seat in this Council has not led to any serious modification of his views. Mr. Toynbee said, writing on the 15th May, 1897,—'Personally I am in favour of leaving section 11 of Act VIII (B.C.) of 1876 as it is, or of extending its limit to, say, Rs. 5 or Rs. 10, the latter for choice. It is the smallest shareholders who most require the protection of the partition law, and yet it is proposed to practically take it away from them, in order to simplify the tauzi accounts.' This is the deliberate opinion of Mr. Toynbee given so late as the 15th of May last. But Mr. Toynbee does not stand alone; he is supported by a formidable body of opinion entitled to the highest weight and consideration at the hands of this Council. There is the opinion of Mr. N. K. Bose, who for sometime was Secretary to the Board of Revenue, and therefore must be taken to be an expert in a matter of this kind. He says, as Magistrate and Collector of Rajshahi, that he would prefer the section as it stands in the present law. Then we have Colonel Evans-Gordon who says:—

'The native members, who may be taken to represent the general views of the landlords in this province, object to the fixing of any limit at all. Government thinks that the imposition of a limit is necessary to prevent a large addition to the number of estates, and the consequent increase in the work of the Tauzi Department. It is also considered that partition into very small estates may endanger the safety of the revenue. As regards the increase of work of the Tauzi Department, it can also be caused by the opening of separate accounts under sections 10 and 11, Act XI of 1859, and section 70 of Act VII of 1876; and so long as these facilities for opening separate accounts remain, the imposition of a limit in the butwara law is not likely to lead to any considerable relief to the Tauzi Department. As regards the insecurity of Government revenue, the Hon'ble Guru Prasad Sen says that most landlords will be glad to redeem their estates, by paying forty times the annual revenue, and this, I believe, to be a fact. If the estates are redeemed, there can be no objection also on the score of likelihood of increase of work. The question whether it will be sound policy to allow the petty proprietors to redeem their estates, by paying forty times the Government revenue, is a different one. It is certain that the amount of revenue that can be redeemed this way will be very small compared with the total land-revenue for the province, and we can safely presume that a good portion out of it will not, as a matter of fact, be redeemed.'

"Then we have Mr. Battavyal, Collector of Bogra, who says the same thing. He observes that:—

'So long as the right to have separate accounts opened for any amount of land-revenue, however shall, remains unrestricted, there will be very little gain, from an administrative point of view, by the proposed limitation. Each separate account for Road and Public Works Cess purposes counts as an estate. And in the tauzi ledger, the complications introduced by separate accounts are, in fact, greater than those created by the formation of new estates by partition. In fact, for purposes of account, a new estate is much simpler than a separate account. I am, therefore, of opinion that the proposed limitation may be abandoned.'

"I need not trouble the Council with further quotations. Here we have the opinions of high and responsible officers of Government, which are directly opposed to the position which the Government has assumed in this Bill. As far as relief to the executive officers of the Government is concerned, it seems to me that that is not a consideration which ought to weigh very much with this Council. The executive officers of Government are distinguished for their splendid devotion to the onerous duties which they are called upon to perform, and I am certain this Council is not going to legislate in a manner which is calculated to cause serious public inconvenience, in order merely to afford relief to the executive officers of the Government. If you enact into law this section in the Bill, you will deprive 35 per cent. of the petty estates of the right of partition. The zamindars do not want it; the raiyats do not want it; the executive officers of the Government are not likely to gain any considerable advantage from it; therefore it seems to me that the Government undertakes a serious responsibility by proposing the repeal of this section of the law. I venture to make an appeal to the Government—I would venture to appeal to you, Sir, not to allow the Government, over which you preside, amid the heart-felt satisfaction of all classes of the community, to incur this grave responsibility."

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE said:—"I must oppose this amendment. It seems to me that the course which the Hon'ble Member has taken with reference to this amendment is calculated to impede public business and to cause a serious waste of the time of this Council. Under rule 33 of the rules of business the principle of a Bill and the general provisions of it may be discussed when the Bill is referred to a Select Committee, or when any of the motions mentioned in rule 31 are made by the Member in Charge, or on the occasion of any subsequent discussion with reference to any of those motions. That stage of a Bill is the stage at which the general principle of it ought to be discussed, as on the occasion of the second reading of a Bill in the House of Commons; for it would be obviously most inconvenient and futile if when members are opposed to the principle of a Bill, the Bill should be referred to a Select Committee to consider it clause by clause, thus wasting the time of the members of the Select Committee for several weeks to no purpose, if at a subsequent stage the whole principle of the Bill and consequently the Bill itself is liable to be rejected. When I introduced this Bill I laid great stress on the fact that one of the two main principles of it was the imposition of a limit on partibility of the revenue other than that imposed by the present law. The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee took part in that discussion, and so also did other members. They stated their reasons at great length against the imposition of an increased limit, and I endeavoured to answer them at considerable length, and I invited them to put the question then to the test of a vote, but they declined to do so. Now the Hon'ble Member seriously asks the Council to reject the whole principle of the Bill after considering it for sixteen months, and after previously accepting the principle and unanimously referring the Bill to a Select Committee. I will not oppose this motion on the ground of its being out of order, but I submit that the course adopted by my Hon'ble friend is one which is productive of serious inconvenience. If it were to be frequently followed, the question may arise whether it would not be well to amend the rules, and make it clear that the principle of a Bill should be discussed when it is referred to a Select Committee, and only then. The Hon'ble Member at that stage said:—'The Hon'ble Member referred to two matters of principle, one of which was to raise the limit of partition from Re. 1 to Rs. 100. If this part of the Bill is not modified, and considerably modified, the effect of the measure will be to preclude a large number of estates;' and so on. Again he said this—'I congratulate the Hon'ble Member on the statement which he has made that the Government will be open to make a considerable modification in the Bill by the light of the opinions which have been received, and I hope and trust that when this Bill emerges from the hands of the Select Committee, it will be so recast and modified as to commend itself to the approval of the Council and of the country in general.' We have made very considerable modifications. We have gone to extreme lengths in modifying provisions to which the Hon'ble Member and others objected, but the Hon'ble Member is not satisfied, and he asks us now to reject the whole principle of the Bill. Why did not he ask the Council to reject the Bill at the time that it was referred to the Select Committee? Why should he have wasted our time by referring the Bill to a Select Committee, and now ask us to do what he had an opportunity of doing then, but did not do?

I have listened carefully to the arguments which the Hon'ble Member has now brought forward, and by which he hopes to induce the Council to contradict the conclusion to which it came in referring the Bill to a Select Committee. I can find nothing in what the Hon'ble Member has now said which was not advanced before by the Hon'ble Member and by Babu Guru Proshad Sen and other members of the Council who were opposed to the principle of the Bill, and nothing which I did not answer sufficiently and at length on that occasion. The force of the arguments which are now again brought forward gains nothing by repetition, nor will repetition add to the force of the arguments I brought forward in reply. The Hon'ble Member has advanced nothing that is new. He has quoted the opinions of some Government officers. The opinions of Government officers were quoted at that time, and the number who expressed opinions in favour of the Hon'ble Member's view could be counted upon one's fingers' ends. The Hon'ble Member said he would not quote any further from official opinions, but the fact was that he had few, if any further official opinions to quote on his side. Excepting those of some six or seven members of the Civil Service, the opinions of Revenue Officers are unanimously in favour of the principle of the Bill. The Hon'ble Member also referred to the opinion of the High Court, but the High Court are in favour of an increased limit, and an overwhelming majority of the officers of the Government are in favour of not only the moderate limit now proposed, but even of a much higher limit. The Hon'ble Member mentioned the name of Mr. Toynbee, but I dare say Mr. Toynbee has seen reason to modify his opinion. Mr. Toynbee, however, is here, and can speak for himself. The other officers whose opinions have been quoted have not had much experience of the working of the partition law. Then the Hon'ble Member says the Englishman is in favour of the provisions of the existing law on this subject. I do not know what interest the Englishman is supposed to represent in this matter. If the Englishman represents any body of persons in this matter, it may be supposed to represent the interests of the indigo planters, but the Planters' Association is entirely in favour of this provision of the Bill. Then the Hon'ble Member said the zamindars are entirely against it. Perhaps the Hon'ble Member will admit that the Maharaja of Gidhour, who is a member of this Council and is a very important zamindar, may be entitled to hold an opinion on this subject. I have just received a letter from him which he has asked me to read to the Council. He says—

'I think the section of the Bill as amended by the Select Committee ought to be allowed to stand. A further subdivision of an estate than the limit proposed will not be at all advantageous to anybody, and may lead to administrative difficulty, as far as the collection of the Government revenue is concerned. Small fractional shares sometimes present very little inducement to people to purchase and sometimes may not be sold at all. Subdivisions ad infinitum may thus endanger the revenue. Thus again the excessive subdivision of an estate is very far from desirable, considered from the standpoint, either of the landlord or of the tenant. But such division cannot be avoided and partition may sometimes afford relief. In such a case the party has got his remedy in Civil Court; for all these reasons I would like to support the recommendation of the Select Committee.'

"Then there is my Hon'ble friend Saligram Singh, he is also in favour of the limit now proposed, and he may be taken to represent the views and interests of the important body of zamindars of Bihar—a division in which nine-tenths of the whole number of partitions are effected. The High Court, the Indigo Planters' Association, the Government of India, the Government of Bengal, the vast majority of Revenue Officers, the Hon'ble Members of this Council who represent the zamindars' interests, are all in favour of an increased limit, and yet the Hon'ble Member says that everybody whose opinion is of any importance is in favour of his amendment. I think it unnecessary to occupy the time of the Council in repeating what I said when I introduced the Bill and when it was referred to the Select Committee, and will therefore conclude by saying that I oppose this amendment."

The Hon'ble SIR CHARLES PAUL said:—"I must say a few words on this subject. The Hon'ble Member who has moved this amendment seems to think that the only persons interested in this matter are the zamindars, and that he will overcome all opposition to his amendment simply by stating that the zamindars are opposed to this provision in the Bill. But he forgets that the Government are equally, if not more, interested than anybody else in this matter. If the Government had not by an old Regulation provided that estates may by partition be separated in regard to the payment of revenue, they might have said we shall have no partition whatever. They, however, conceded that benefit to the zamindars. Now, the question is one purely of convenience whether it will be convenient or inconvenient to have small estates paying Government revenue to the amount of one rupee each partitioned. I apprehend that the persons best able to judge on the question of convenience or inconvenience are the Government who have to collect the revenue. Looking at it from this point of view, I see nothing in the opposition which has been made to the Bill. Looking at it from the other point of view, it may be contended that estates should be allowed to be divided down to a limit of eight annas. Why have a limit of one rupee, if the proposition is that all estates, however small, might be turned into separate estates? But the very first time this limit of one rupee was suggested, it opened out the question whether it was the right limit or whether the limit should be raised a little higher. That, I submit, is a question of convenience, and there is little in the objection which has been raised to the provision contained in the Bill. The objection, however, is very ingenious in its character. The Government proposed a limit of Rs. 100, and has actually come down to Rs. 10, and yet there are persons who are not satisfied. I look upon this as an ungenerous opposition to the views of the Government, and I trust that the Hon'ble Member, who is well known for his generosity and the liberality of his views, will not ask the Government to go further."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE in reply said:—"I protest against the remark of the hon'ble and learned Advocate-General that my attitude in respect of this matter is an ungenerous attitude. We have come here to discharge a duty—I had almost said a sacred duty—which we owe to our constituents. We are here to give expression to what we believe in our heart of hearts to be public opinion, and if in doing so, we expose ourselves to unwarrantable charges, such as have been brought against us, we shall not be deterred from the discharge of our duty to those who have returned us to this Council. With reference to the observations which have fallen from the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, I may say that if I have placed him in a somewhat inconvenient position by starting a question which had been considered before, he has likewise placed me in a somewhat inconvenient position by confronting me with the opinions I had expressed on a previous occasion. I do not depart from what I said before. I stick to my guns. I hoped on that occasion that this Bill would emerge from the Select Committee modified by the light of public opinion. My amendment follows the lines of public opinion the Bill does not. My hon'ble friend says:—Whom does the Englishman represent? I am not in a position to answer that question, but I will ask in return—Is there any public journal which has supported the views of the Government? [Mr. Finucane:—'Yes, for example, the Daily News.'] That is the only paper which has supported the views of the Government. Opposed to that we have the Englishman, the Hindu Patriot and other journals. I suppose they represent some body, if the Englishman does not. I don't imagine there is the smallest chance of my amendment being accepted, but I desire to state once again that by raising the limit of partition to Rs. 10, the Government is undertaking a responsibility which will be attended with disastrous results to the interests of a large number of poor proprietors' in whose behalf we beg leave to raise our voices here."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble BABU NORENDRA NATH SEN moved that for clauses (a), (b) and (c) of section 11, the following be substituted, namely:—

"If the result of such partition would be to form a separate estate, liable for an annual amount of land-revenue less than five rupees."

He said:—"Section 11 is the most important of all sections in this Bill and calls for serious consideration. Practically the limit provided by section 11 of the Bill is Rs. 15, below which no partition is to be allowed. If this limit is not lowered, the consequence will be that about, I will not say 34 per cent., but I will say about 64 per cent.—I speak under correction—of the estates on the revenue roll will be excluded from partition: not a very small number certainly. The Butwarra Law is as old as the permanent settlement, and the first law on the subject which was introduced contemplated no limit in amount as to partitions, and I contend that the right to claim partition is inherent in joint owners. It is true that Regulation VI of 1807 imposed a limit to the partition of estates with a revenue demand of less than Rs. 500; but that Regulation was repealed only three years after, it having been found to be unsatisfactory in its operation. Any restriction on partition of estates is unknown in any other part of India except Assam, where even the minimum limit is Rs. 5. If there is no limit in temporarily-assessed tracts where partition should be rather discouraged than otherwise, how much more important must it be to allow subdivision of estates in the case of permanently-settled lands. After the repeal of Regulation VI of 1807 no attempt was made in the direction of restricting the partition of estates until 1876, when the present Act was passed by which such restriction was confined only to estates with a sudder jumma of Re. 1, and even in that case power was given to redeem the revenue by payment of a lump sum. This power is now taken away altogether. With the abrogation of this power I think there is greater reason why the limit put by section 11 of the Bill should be reduced still more. The policy of the British Government, as far as I understand it, has always been to improve the Butwarra Law. That was the object in enacting Regulation XIX of 1814, which reduced to one regulation, with certain additions and alterations, a number of regulations respecting the partition of estates paying revenue to Government. The same object influenced the Legislature in passing the present Act VIII (B.C.) of 1876, which was intended to simplify the partition procedure. And now the avowed object of the present Bill is to simplify, cheapen and shorten the partition procedure. If it is intended to confer a boon on the proprietors of estates by passing this Bill into law, why must we take away a much valued power which has been hitherto enjoyed by such proprietors. My motion is a more modest one than that of my Hon'ble friend Babu Surendranath Banerjee. I ask you to reduce the limit to Rs. 5, the same limit which is observed in the Assam Regulation I of 1886. If the limit is Rs. 5 even in such a backward province as Assam, I do not see why the limit in a forward province like Lower Bengal should be higher. Already much protection is afforded to petty co-sharers of an estate by allowing them to have separate accounts under sections 10 and 11 of Act XI of 1859, (the Sunset Law); but, as we know, in spite of the opening of such separate accounts, the entire estate may be sold under that law if the sale of the defaulting co-sharer does not fetch the entire amount of revenue due. Such being the case, why not make the protection complete by allowing such petty co-sharers to separate their interests with separate liabilities? That will stop the sale of the entire estate, and will be quite consistent with the benevolent spirit of the legislation which has been hitherto followed. For the sake of consistency, as well as for the maintenance of a continuity of policy, it would be well, Sir, if you could see your way to making some compromise by adopting my motion and assimilating the law at least of benighted Assam to that of advanced Bengal. Here in this very chamber, when the present Act was passed, the Hon'ble Mr. H. J. Reynolds distinctly said that 'in the opinion of the Government of Bengal it is not desirable that a partition which would result in the formation of an estate with a revenue of less than Rs. 20, should be prohibited,' or 'that such prohibition should be enforced by law.' 'There might be inconveniences,' he added, 'connected with the multiplication of petty estates, but it had always been conceded that landed proprietors had a right to have their estates divided if they chose to demand partition, and the Government did not consider that that right should be abrogated or denied to them. Accordingly in the Bill it was proposed * * * to allow partition to be carried out down to the limit of one rupee with power to the landholder to redeem in case the land revenue, after partition should be less than one rupee. * * * * * * It was, of course, an open question whether the inconveniences which would result from excessive multiplication of small estates ought not to outweigh all other considerations. But he trusted the Council would accept the view taken by the Government, that this right was one which the Government was to a certain degree pledged to allow to landholders; that it was a right they had always exercised, and a right which ought not to be taken away.'

"After this distinct declaration by Mr. Reynolds, all that I submit is that Your Honour should feel considerable hesitation in passing this Bill into law without altering in a large degree section 11 of this Bill. As to the so-called administrative inconveniences arising from too minute subdivision of estates, I do not think the complaint is worth much when separate accounts are allowed to be opened under the Sunset Law, and when only the opening of an additional column in such accounts for insertion of the tauzi numbers of the estate will obviate all difficulties."

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE said:—"I am afraid I cannot accept this amendment. The proposal of the Hon'ble Member is, as he has said, very much more moderate than that of the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee. It in fact differs very little from the Bill as it stands. His proposal is that no estate should be admitted to partition if the effect of the partition would be to create a new estate with a separate revenue of less than Rs. 5. In the Bill as it stands Rs. 5 is the absolute limit below which a new estate cannot be formed. The only difference is, we propose that partition shall be refused if the applicant's share after partition would be liable for a revenue not exceeding Rs. 10. According to our proposal, no estate with a revenue less than Rs. 15 can be partitioned, but according to the Hon'ble Member the limit would be Rs. 10. The difference is slight; but slight as it is, I cannot accept it. The Hon'ble Member has with much force adduced arguments which might tell in favour of the proposal of the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee to impose no limit whatever. But I have listened carefully for any argument in favour of the proposal raised by the amendment now before the Council. Before I enter into that question I may state that the Hon'ble Mr. Reynolds subsequently withdrew the opinion quoted by the Hon'ble Member, for when he expressed that opinion, he was apparently unaware of the existence of the law which imposed a limit of Rs. 500, and he subsequently admitted that he was entirely wrong in stating that zamindars always had a right to unlimited partition. The permanent settlement imposed infinitely more severe restrictions on partitions than we propose. According to the permanent settlement, the only time when a partition could be applied for is when a portion of the estate is alienated by sale or gift, or a portion of it is ordered to be sold by a decree of court, or when all the parties have made a partition and apply for a separation of their interests. A subsequent amendment of the law made such separation practicable on any of the co-sharers applying for partition.

To come back to the question of the particular limit of Rs. 15 or Rs. 10, the Hon'ble Member mentioned two facts not mentioned before. One is that the limit of partitions in Assam is Rs. 5, and the other is that limits on partitions are not imposed in other provinces. But there is no analogy between Assam and Bengal. In Assam the settlement is for the most part raiyatwari, and where, as in the Sylhet District, there are permanently-settled estates in Assam, these estates consist of small areas of the size of an ordinary raiyat's holding. In Bengal, as the Council is aware, the case is altogether different. Estates are large, and revenue has to be paid under the Sunset Law in the Collector's office at the headquarters of the district. One of the objects of this Bill is to obviate the necessity of creating a large establishment in the mufassal at the expense of the general tax-payer for the collection of Government revenue in Bengal similar to the mufassal establishments that are required for the purpose in raiyatwari tracts. I pointed out when the Bill was referred to the Select Committee that if estates were to become as small in Bengal as ordinary raiyat's holdings (as is the case in Assam), and if the cost of realising revenue were thereby to be increased (as it must be, if unlimited partitions are allowed to go on), the permanent settlement would have all the disadvantages of raiyatwari settlements with none of their advantages from the tax-payers' point of view, and that the permanent settlement would thus become an intolerable burden to the tax-payers of other parts of India.

"The Hon'ble Member has referred to the large proportion that the number of estates that will be excluded from partition under the proposed limit bears to the total number of estates in Bengal, but he has overlooked the fact that, if the number of estates that will be excluded from partition be large, it is because these estates have already been subjected to partition over and over again, till they have dwindled down to the size of ordinary raiyati holdings. As regards them, further partition is obviously undesirable. He has also omitted to notice the fact that though the number of such estates is large, yet in importance and area they form, in the aggregrate, but a very small fraction of all the estates in Bengal.

"Taking the average revenue of estates that will be excluded from partition at Rs. 10, which is higher than the truth, and their total number, 70,000, which is also above the true figure, the total revenue of these estates will be seven lakhs of rupees, the total revenue of permanently-settled and temporarily-settled estates in Bengal being 350 lakhs. Now the relative amounts of their revenue represent roughly the relative value and importance of estates as to area and rent. As the revenue of estates that will be excluded from partition under this Bill forms only one-fiftieth part of the entire revenue, it will be seen that the estates excluded from partition form really only two per cent., at the outside, of the entire area of the Province, and as I have before said, this two per cent. consists of estates which have already been partitioned over over again.

"Then the Hon'ble Member has mentioned another point, namely, that it is only in Bengal that a limit has been proposed, and that such a provision is hard upon zamindars and raiyats. I do not know what the authority of the Hon'ble Member may be for this statement; but as far as I can find from an examination of the law, the statement is incorrect. In Madras the limit of partition is now what it was here at the time of the permanent settlement and shortly after. It is only on the application of all the proprietors, or when a portion of the property has been alienated or sold, that proprietors can apply for partition at all. In Bombay, according to section 114 of the Land Revenue Regulation, talookdaree and koti estates cannot be partitioned unless one-half of the proprietors apply and the revenue paid by them exceeds half the entire revenue of the estate. In the Punjab no partition is allowed except with the express consent of the Financial Commissioner, who may impose any conditions he pleases before giving his consent. Therefore I think it will be admitted that the facts adduced by the Hon'ble Member in favour of the particular limit which he proposes do not support his proposal. I may be wrong about the state of the law in other places, but the point is immaterial. Each province must legislate for its own requirements. I think I have shown that it is desirable to impose a limit on partitions and that we have gone to the extreme lengths in reducing the limit originally proposed. I therefore oppose the amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI CHARAN BANERJEE said:—"There was an observation made by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, which goes very far to support the amendment that has been moved. The Hon'ble Member was pleased to admit that the difference between section 11 as it stands in the Bill and as it is proposed to be amended by my Hon'ble friend, is very slight. That admission, I submit, should have its due weight in our consideration of the amendment before us. The Bill has climbed down as we have seen, from Rs. 100 to Rs. 20 and again from Rs. 20 to Rs. 10, and the question is, whether there is any serious reason why the Bill should not climb down, yet again from Rs. 10 to Rs. 5. As far as the view of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill is concerned, we have it on his own authority that the difference between Rs. 10 and Rs. 5 is very slight. Let us go a little deeper, and inquire into the principle on which this process of climbing down has gone on, for there must be a principle underlying what has been described as the principle of the Bill. The principle of the Bill is that it is desirable to raise the limit of partition. But there must be a principle on which this principle should be given effect to. What is that principle? As far as the debate on the question at this meeting has gone, the only principle to which reference has been made is the convenience of the Government, and we have been told that it is ungenerous to ask for a further concession, when the Government has already been generous enough to climb down from Rs. 100 to Rs. 10. But surely in asking for a further reduction of the limit from Rs. 10 to Rs. 5, we do not lay ourselves open to anything like the charge of being ungenerous, for it is never ungenerous to ask of the party justly credited with generosity to be a little more generous. We have not been told what material difference it would make, as far as the convenience of the Government was concerned, if the amendment were to be adopted; on the contrary, as I have said, the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill admits that the difference between the limits is very slight, and so we may take it that there will be very little difference on the score of convenience between them. Indeed the Bill itself allows the creation of estates paying an annual revenue of a little over Rs. 5. When the creation of such estates is recognised by the Bill, it may be taken to be nothing so disastrous to the convenience of the Government as to stand in the way of the amendment being adopted. As far as I can understand, an arbitrary limit has been introduced into the Bill, and one arbitrary limit is probably as good as another, when it is admitted that the difference between the two is very slight. On this ground I would submit, having regard to the observation of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill that the difference between the motion and the amendment is very slight, that the convenience of the Government should not be unduly pressed so as to disallow the amendment."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble BABU NORENDRO NATH SEN also moved that in section 30, sub-section (3), the word "records" be substituted for the word "papers."

He said:—"The amendment which I now propose is merely a verbal one. I submit that the proper word to be used in this sub-section is 'records' and not 'papers.' The applicability of the word 'papers' to application here referred to does not sound well. 'Papers' may be relevant to an application or a case. So if the word 'applicable' is retained, I would suggest the substitution of the word 'records' for 'papers.'

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE said:—"The Select Committee considered this question, and it was thought by them that the word 'papers' is more suitable than 'records.' In sections 48 and 49 certain measurement 'papers' are referred to, and are distinguished from 'records' of assets mentioned in other sections, and as it is intended that the whole of the nutthee should be admissible, it was held that the word 'papers' is most suitable. It is a mere matter of drafting, and experts consider the word 'papers' is better than records. I therefore oppose the amendment."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble BABU NORENDRO NATH SEN also moved that Chapter VI (sections 44 to 50) be struck out.

He said:—"In moving that the whole Chapter be struck out, I may be considered as making a large order. The Chapter provides for the preparation of a record of rights in the course of a partition. I move that it be omitted on the ground that it will not conduce to the good either of landlords or tenants. While the record of rights will not be binding upon either of them, the preparation of such record will unnecessarily lead to delay and harassment and expense, and it will also create bad blood between landlords and tenants, ending in protracted litigation It will thwart the very object of the Bill, which is to simplify, cheapen and shorten the partition procedure. The chapter does not appear to me at all an improvement upon the existing Act. The High Court—than which there is no greater authority—recommends the omission of this Chapter, as would appear from its letter to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Revenue Department of the 10th July, 1896."

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE said:—"I flattered myself that everybody who had any practical knowledge of partitions had accepted this Chapter of the Bill, and I am surprised to find that it was left to the Hon'ble Mover of the amend, ment to discover that the Chapter is not only unnecessary but objectionable. The present law provides that the Deputy Collector may make a survey in certain cases in connection with partition proceedings, and also lays down the procedure for making that survey. This Chapter does the same thing. The Hon'ble Member would eliminate the Chapter and would substitute nothing whatever; he would therefore make it impossible to effect a partition. In partition proceedings one of the most essential things is to ascertain the amount of the assets, which cannot be done without a survey. The Hon'ble Member a fortnight ago asked for time to make himself acquainted with the provisions of the Bill, but I am sorry to see from the remarks which he has made that he has not been able to take full advantage of that time. He has quoted from a letter of the High Court commenting on the original proposal to make a record of rights in connection with partition proceedings. But we have abandoned that proposal, and the words 'record of rights' do not occur in the Chapter as it now stands. We have modified the Chapter, and it only remains now as a chapter providing for a survey and record of the rents and assets of the estate. The Hon'ble Member's remarks are, therefore, absolutely irrelevant to the Chapter as it now stands. The amendment is an impossible one, and I therefore oppose it."

The Motion was put and negatived.

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE moved that the words "publish a notification" be substituted for the words "issue a notice" in section 47, sub-section (1).

He said:—"This is a mere verbal amendment. A notice is addressed to a particular individual, and a notification to all and everyone whom it may concern. In this particular section a general notification is meant, and not a notice to particular persons."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE also moved that the word "notification" be substituted for the word "notice" in section 47, sub-section (2).—

He said:—"This amendment is necessary for the same reason."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE also moved that in section 50 the words and figures "When the documents referred to in section 48 have been published, or any documents referred to in section 49 have been accepted, the Deputy Collector shall record an order stating that such documents have been adopted for the purposes of the partition," be substituted for the words and figures "After the publication of the survey papers and record of existing rents and assets under section 48, the Deputy Collector shall record an order stating that the said record of rents and assets has been adopted for the purposes of the partition."

He said:—"This again is merely a verbal amendment, which is necessary in order to make the section more clear and complete than as it now stands."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE also moved that the following be substituted for clause (b) of section 50, namely:—

"serve a notice on all the proprietors requiring them to be present on the day so fixed, such date being not less than thirty or more than sixty days after the date of the notice"

The Hon'ble MR. GRIMLEY said:—"I should like to retain clause (b), and to add after it the clause which is now suggested. Section 50 embodies what is contained in section 63 of the present Act, which requires not only the publication of a notification to all the proprietors collectively calling upon them to come forward on a certain day fixed for the determination of the general arrangement, but also the issue of a notice to each individual proprietor. Now that the general arrangement is done away with, it is just as much necessary that full publicity should be given to the proceedings as before, and I would therefore provide both for a general notification and a notice to each individual proprietor."

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE said:—"I have no objection to this proposal for the issue of a public notification and a notice to the individual proprietors as well.

The Motion was accordingly amended in the following form: and carried:—

That the following be added to clause (b) of section 50, namely—

'at the same time serve a notice on each of the proprietors to the same effect, and'

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE also moved that the word "collectively" in clause (c) of section 50 be struck out. He said:—"The word is inappropriate there."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble BABU NORENDRA NATH SEN moved that in section 60 the words "unless he shows sufficient cause for such failure" be inserted after the word "shall".

He said—"I hope to have the sympathy of everybody who has had any experience of the working of our law courts. Your Honour knows how sometimes decrees are obtained without service of process upon defendants. When you debar a party altogether from the right of taking any objection hereafter to partition proceedings on his failure to attend upon a given day, it is quite fair and reasonable that the words I propose should be inserted after the word 'shall.' It may be said that these words do not occur in the present Act, but I submit that that is no reason why the words I propose should not be inserted when the Act is being amended; for on such an occasion it is important that the opportunity should be taken to remedy any defect we may find in it."

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE said:—"The wording of this section is in accordance with the existing law. The matter, however, seems to me to be of no importance. I have no objection to yield to the wish of the Hon'ble Member on this point."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble BABU NORNDRO NATH SEN also moved that in section 99 the words "or has created any other encumbrance thereon" be inserted after the words "or on lease," and the words "tenure, lease or encumbrance" be substituted for the words "tenure or lease."

He said:—"Section 99 runs as follows:—

'If any proprietor of an estate held in common tenancy and brought under partition in accordance with this Act, has given his share or a portion thereof in patni or other tenure or on lease, such tenure or lease shall hold good as regards the lands finally allotted to the share of such proprietor, and only to such lands.'

"It is very necessary that the additional words I suggest should be inserted. I see that one public body, the Bhagalpur Landholders' Association, have suggested the use of the word 'mortgage.' My motion is quite in accord with the ruling of the Privy Council in Byjenath Lall vs. Ramoodeen Chowdhry (1874) L. R. I. A. 166; 21 W. R. 233, in which it was held that persons who take any security from one co-sharer, do so subject to the rights of the others to enforce a partition, and that a mortgagee who takes such a security in the share of one co-sharer, who has no privity of contract with the other co-sharers, would have no recourse against the lands allotted to such co-sharers, but must pursue his remedy against the lands allotted to the mortgagor.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE moved that in section 117 the words "the Collector" be inserted before the words "the Commissioner." He said:—"Section 117 runs as follows:—

'The Commissioner and the Board respectively may pass such orders as they think fit in respect of the payment of the costs of any appeal which is made to them respectively under this Act.'

"Why not the Collector? I think the Collector ought to have the same power."

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE said:—"I accept this amendment. The wording of the section is according to the present Act, but there is no objection to the amendment."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. Finucane moved that the Bill, as settled in Council, be passed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

CHOTA NAGPUR TENANCY BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. GRIMLEY moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to regulate the enhancement of rents, the commutation of predial conditions or services, and the registration and resumption of intermediate tenures, in parts of Chota Nagpur, be taken into consideration, and that the clauses of the Bill be considered in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

He said:—"I have on several occasions explained the necessity for this measure, and as I have previously described the provisions of the Bill, it is not necessary for me to take up the time of the Council in going over the same ground again. I have only to observe that notice of the motions on the agenda was not given within the prescribed time, but I waive my right to make any objection on that ground."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said:—"I have to make my acknowledgments to the Hon'ble Member in Charge of the Bill for permitting me to move my amendments, although the limit of time prescribed by the rules for sending in notice of amendments had expired. My first amendment runs thus:—

That for the words 'an appeal from any order of a Revenue-officer under this Chapter' in section 8, sub-section (1), the following be substituted, namely:—

'The decision of every Revenue-officer in every proceeding under this Chapter shall have the force of a decree, and an appeal from such decision.'

"I think it would be more convenient if I were to read the section as it is proposed to be modified by the first and the two subsequent amendments, which, at the suggestion of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, I will take together. It will then run:—

'The decision of every Revenue-officer in every proceeding under this Chapter shall have the force of a decree, and an appeal from such decision shall lie to the Deputy Commissioner, or, if the Revenue-officer is himself the Deputy Commissioner, then to the Judicial Commissioner of the Division.

'When an appeal has been disposed of by the Deputy Commissioner under sub-section (1), an appeal from his order shall lie to the Judicial Commissioner.

'The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to appeals shall, as nearly as may be, apply to all appeals under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2).

'Where the Judicial Commissioner concurs with the Deputy Commissioner, the order shall be final, but in other cases an appeal shall lie to the High Court from the order of the Judicial Commissioner.'

"I object to the word 'order' in the second line. An appeal against 'an order' can only lie under the provisions of Chapter 43 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Chapters 41 and 42 provide for appeals against decrees, and not against 'orders,' but you put into requisition the provisions of Chapters 41 and 42; the provisions of Chapter 43 are not applicable; and therefore the word to be used is 'decree' and not 'order.' Further, I would call the attention of the Council to section 107 of the Bengal Tenancy Act which says:—'In all proceedings for the settlement of rents under this Chapter and in all proceedings under the last foregoing section, the Revenue Officer shall, subject to rules made by the Local Government under this Act, adopt the procedure laid down in the Code of Civil Procedure for the trial of suits, and his decision in every such proceeding shall have the force of a decree.' I desire to substitute the concluding words of this section for the words in the opening lines of sub-section (1) of section 8. This and the subsequent amendments involve a principle of a very important character. The Bill provides for the settlement of rent disputes by the Executive Officers of the Government. I desire to relieve the Executive Officers of Government of this responsibility, and vest it in Judicial Officers. Difficult and complicated considerations of right, status, &c., will come up for disposal, and it would be an advantage if trained Judges were invested with the responsibility of dealing with them. Then there is another point to be considered. The Commissioner of the Division who has to hear appeals will in certain cases be personally interested, as for instance in connection with cases relating to estates under the Court of Wards and encumbered estates; so that in regard to this class of cases he will constitute himself both plaintiff and Judge. That would be in violation of one of the most fundamental principles of justice, and ought not to receive the sanction of this Council. In this connection I would call the attention of the Council to some observations made at a public meeting held at Ranchi to consider this Bill. The public meeting says:—

'The power to hear appeals should be vested in the District Judge or Judicial Commissioner instead of in the Divisional Commissioner. In the Bengal Tenancy Act there is no provision for an appeal to the Commissioner in such matters, and there seems to be no special reason why there should be a departure from the ordinary procedure. The fact of the Divisional Commissioner going out on tour for some months in the year, and most of his time being taken up by executive and office work, will cause hardship and inconvenience to suitors. Moreover, the Commissioner exercises general supervision and control over the management of the wards' and encumbered estates. No important proceeding is instituted on behalf of these estates without his previous sanction. In many proceedings under section 7 the manager of the wards' and encumbered estates will have to figure as the applicant or the opposite party. It is obviously undesirable that the Commissioner should have any appellate powers in such cases.'

"The principle here laid down as a matter of course applies to the Board of Revenue also, and therefore the appeal from the Judicial Commissioner ought to be to the High Court.

"These are my reasons for suggesting these amendments."

The Hon'ble MR. GRIMLEY said:—"The first three amendments are interdependent, the second follows from the first, and the third from the second, and the object of all three is to convert what should be properly treated as executive or revenue proceedings into judicial proceedings.

"Under the existing law, Act I of 1879—a distinction is maintained between revenue proceedings and suits, appeals in the former being heard by Revenue officers, and in the latter by Judicial officers. Assessment cases, commutation cases, registration and resumption proceedings are treated as revenue matters, and an appeal lies to the Commissioner under section 135, while the Commissioner and the Board of Revenue can exercise powers of revision under section 136. I may also point out that under section 40 of Bengal Tenancy Act commutation questions are treated as revenue proceedings, and are appealable in the same way. The proposed amendments, therefore, introduce a principle, which is quite contrary not only to the existing law prevailing in Chota Nagpur, but is also not in harmony with the Bengal Tenancy Act prevailing in other parts of Bengal. As regards the proposal to introduce the High Court into the proceedings, I may say at once that this is untenable. The High Court derives its jurisdiction from an Act of Parliament and Letters Patent, and section 42 of the Indian Councils' Act prevents a local Council from making laws which would affect an Act of Parliament. The third amendment, which proposes to confer jurisdiction on the High Court is, therefore, ultra vires of this Council. There is, however, another and weightier reason why the High Court should be kept out of the proceedings. The landholder and raiyats of Chota Nagpur are far too poor to indulge in the luxury of an appeal to the High Court, and the cost of such an appeal would be prohibitive in the majority of cases. Besides the decision of commutation cases involves a knowledge of local customs, and a habit of interpreting them which Revenue officers on the spot are more likely to possess than a distant tribunal like the High Court. With this explanation, the Hon'ble Member may, perhaps, see fit to withdraw his first three amendments. As regards the fourth, I have no particular objection to it."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said:—"Having regard to the difficulties which have been pointed out by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, I desire to withdraw this amendment, as well as the two following amendments, which stand thus:—

That the words 'Judicial Commissioner' be substituted for the words 'Commissioner of the Division' and 'Commissioner' wherever they occur in section 8.

—— Also that the words 'High Court' be substituted for the words 'Board of Revenue' in section 8, sub-section (4)."

The Hon'ble Babu SURENDRANATH BANERJEE also moved that section 8, sub-section (5), be altered to run as follows:—

'(5) Every appeal under this section must be presented within three months from the date of the order appealed against.'

The Hon'ble MR. GRIMLEY said:—"I am prepared to accept this amendment."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"With regard to this amendment I should prefer that it should be considered by the Council. Personally I shall object to increase the term for subsequent appeals. It is exceedingly desirable that cases of this kind should be settled and settled finally as quickly as possible, especially when the case arises from proceedings instituted under the sanction of the Government for commutation, whether both parties desire it or not. There are cases in which breaches of the peace are to be apprehended, and it is especially desirable that in such instances the whole matter should be settled without avoidable delay. For this reason, among others, I should myself have been prepared to oppose the three amendments which have just been withdrawn. This Bill provides for a period of three months for first appeals and one month for subseqent appeals, which I think is amply sufficient. I should prefer therefore to take the vote of the Council on the amendment now before them. I have now explained to the Council my reason for taking this course, and if the Hon'ble Member wishes to speak in support of the amendment, it is open to him to do so."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said:—"I desire to press this amendment, especially having regard to the statement which has been made by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill. Mr. Forbes, the Commissioner of the Division, says that communications between the different parts of the country are difficult, the distances are great, and the head-quarters of the Board of Revenue are in Calcutta; and where there are such difficulties, three months are allowed for an appeal to be made to the Commissioner at the head-quarters of the Division. Surely under the circumstances to allow only one month when the appeal has to be made to the Board of Revenue in Calcutta is manifestly insufficient."

The Hon'ble MR. FINUCANE said:—"In the original Bill, as far as I remember, the limitation of time in regard to appeals, both original appeals to the Deputy Commissioner and second appeals to the Commissioner of the Division, was one month in every case. We considered the matter in Select Committee, and came to the conclusion that in cases of appeal from the Revenue Officer to the Deputy Commissioner three months ought to be given, because people in the mufassal are slow to learn what orders have been passed in the Court of first instance. But when they go before the Deputy Commissioner or the Commissioner of the Division with appeals, they have Mukhtars or pleaders to represent them, and know precisely what order has been passed. Therefore, once they come to know what the order is, if they intend to appeal, the sooner they make their application the better, and there is no risk of injustice in such cases. I am therefore inclined to differ from the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, and think that the Council ought to accept the conclusion to which the Select Committee came."

The Motion being put, the Council divided:—

Ayes—6.	Noes—10.
The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee.	The Hon'ble Sahebzada Mahomed Bakhtyar Shah.
The Hon'ble Babu Kali Charan Banerjee.	The Hon'ble Mr. Wallis.
The Hon'ble Babu Saligram Singh.	The Hon'ble Nawab Syed Ameer Hossein.
The Hon'ble Babu Norendra Nath Sen.	The Hon'ble Mr. Toynbee.
The Hon'ble Mr. Turner.	The Hon'ble Mr. Pratt.
The Hon'ble Mr. Grimley.	The Hon'ble Rai Durga Gati Banerjea Bahadur.
	The Hon'ble Mr. Glass.
	The Hon'ble Mr. Bolton.
	The Hon'ble Mr. Finucane.
	The Hon'ble Sir Charles Paul.

So the Motion was lost.

The Hon'ble MR. GRIMLEY moved that the Bill as amended be passed.

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"At this late hour I will only detain the Council for a minute or two. The circumstances under which I have to eald with this Bill are a little peculiar. Some of the Hon'ble Members of the Council will perhaps be aware that I myself held the appointment of Commissioner of the Chota Nagpur Division from 1885 to 1889, when I was succeeded by Mr. Grimley. And in the Statement of Objects and Reasons appended to the Bill it is mentioned that there were troubles there between 1887 and 1889, and it was remarked that there was considerable correspondence between the Commissioner and the higher authorities on the subject of those troubles. I myself was the Commissioner in question. The relations between the Kols of Lohardaga and the zamindars had been far from satisfactory for some little time, but matters were not brought to a head. But in 1887, I think it was, when I was returning from a long cold weather tour, I found on approaching my head-quarters a considerable state of alarm had sprung up; that the Kols in certain parts had begun to defy the authority of the courts, that they paid no attention to process, and gave other indications of being in a state in which they might soon commit mischief. Measures were quickly and quietly taken which had the effect of overawing them and of restoring a sort of superficial peace, and I am glad to say that no serious crime of any kind was committed in the meantime. But, of course, that was not a satisfactory solution of the difficulty, and it was necessary to look for means whereby a more healthy condition of affairs may be established. I found that one of the most important of the difficulties from which we were suffering was this very one which is now before us. I found that zamindars were making excessive demands and the Kols were inclined either to give too little, or in some cases to give nothing at all. They had advisers, and those advisers were accustomed to a state of things in which money rents alone were paid, and they could not understand the liability of these men to pay rent in kind and in services. Under the law as it now stands the right of the landlord to receive rents in kind or in services may be commuted on the application of either party, but not otherwise. Our great difficulty was that, although the trouble existed, and although excessive claims on the one part and the resolve to resist just claims on the other existed and caused irritation, it was not in the power of the executive officers to do anything which would enable them to go to the root of the matter since neither party would seek commutation. I pressed, therefore, for an alteration in the law to enable the administration to step in and for sufficient reason to direct that such commutation, the amount of which was the cause of the trouble, should be made. The present Bill is the outcome of that correspondence, and it appears to me fairly to meet the wants of the local officers. If there is any fault in it, to me, personally, it seems to be almost too cautious. However, it is not perhaps open to me to make that objection, as it is a Bill which arose simply out of my own individual experience, but I commend the Bill to the Council as one likely to conduce very greatly to the peace and well-being of the aboriginal inhabitants as well as to the real interest of the zamindars.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned sine die.

Offg. Assistant Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Legislative Department.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE BHAGALPUR DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1896-97.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Darjeeling, the 17th October 1897.

READ—

The Annual General Administration Report of the Bhagalpur Division for the year 1896-97.

EXCEPT for the first 15 days of the year, the Division was in the charge of Mr. W. B. Oldham, C.I.E., who submits the report. There were no changes of charge in any of the districts except Malda, where a change was rendered inevitable by Mr. J. C. Price's retirement. In the charge of subdivisions also there were very few changes.

2. Tours and Inspections.—Mr. Oldham was away from his head-quarters for 154 days on a particularly well-planned tour; he visited each district and subdivision, and gave special attention to the tracts in which there had been a serious failure of crops. The District Officers, like the Commissioner, were chiefly occupied when on tour in making enquiries into the condition of the people, as well as into the stocks of food-grains. The periods which they spent in tour were sufficient, but it is not stated if they had been prescribed by the Commissioner under the recent orders of Government. The Subdivisional Officers also made useful and sufficient tours. The prescribed inspections of offices were all made, except at Bhagalpur, where the Collector was compelled by the pressure of famine work to desist from the inspection of his own office, and at Monghyr, where the Collector inspected the treasury only once. Except in Bhagalpur and Purnea, it is not stated, as required by the standing orders, whether Government and Wards' Estates were inspected.

3. Weather and crops: Material condition of the people: Public Health.—The Bhagalpur Division fared better than the country to the west of it in the matter of rainfall, getting 10 inches in September 1896. The average rainfall was greater than in 1895-96 (44·92 inches against 43·17), but it was much less than the mean average of ten years (57·22 inches), and was extremely ill-distributed. Although the rabi crops on alluvial lands were better than had been expected, Mr. Oldham estimates the total food produce of the year to have been no more than half the average. There were large exports of food-stuffs from the Division, and prices ruled high here as elsewhere, but it was found necessary to open relief operations on behalf of Government only in parts of North Bhagalpur and the Sonthal Parganas; up to the end of June 1897 only 40,000 out of a population of eight millions had had recourse to Government relief. As the Commissioner points out, these facts indicate the existence of considerable resources and a great increase of thrift; the charity of those who could afford to dispense it was boundless. Mr. Oldham's remarks on the whole subject are of much interest. The year is reported to have been an exceptionally healthy one, both in the opinion of officers and of the people themselves, but according to the returns of vital statistics there was a greatly increased mortality in all districts except Malda. This curious discrepancy shows that the registration of mortality is, at present, far from perfect; but it may also fairly be assumed to indicate that registration is improving.

Scarcity does not appear to have led to any marked increase in emigration, except in the case of the temporary emigration from the north of the Sonthal Parganas to the Duars. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice the increasing popularity and success of Mr. Adlam's Sonthal emigration scheme, which Mr. Carstairs has done so much to foster.

4. Manufactures and Mines: Trade and Commerce.—Poppy was grown in Monghyr on 30,604 bighas, and the outturn of opium is reported to be 2,875 maunds, the same as in the previous year, though the area cultivated was larger. The year was generally a bad one for indigo, but complete statistics are not available. The silk factories in Malda produced 42,571 lbs. of silk against 31,587lbs. in the previous year. Four mica mines and a stone quarry were worked in the district of Monghyr; and it is reported that the slate quarrying industry of the Rajmahal hills is moving southward down the loop line of the East Indian Railway, owing to the difficulties placed in the way of boat-carriage by the recession of the Ganges from the Rajmahal bank.

The Commissioner was unable to give trade figures for the whole year, because the railway returns were not received in time for compilation; but during the last five months of the year, after famine had declared itself, (November to March) the exports of food-stuffs from the Division aggregated 28,01,451 maunds, against 22,85,512 maunds in the corresponding months of 1895-96. The quantities exported to the North-Western Provinces and Oudh in each of these periods were 14,82,847 and 6,90,706 maunds respectively, showing an increase of 7,92,141 maunds.

5. Civil Justice.—The number of civil suits disposed of fell to 48,390 from 51,799 in 1895; but the number pending at the close of the year was greater than in 1895, being 8,869 against 8,222. Figures showing the numbers of civil suits instituted are not shown in the Report, except for the Sonthal Parganas, but those above cited indicate a considerable decrease in litigation. In the Sonthal Parganas, the decrease in original suits instituted was from 13,599 to 11,358, and was no doubt, as is reported, due to scarcity. A slight increase in execution cases was probably due to the same cause. Forty-six thousand one hundred and thirty-nine witnesses were examined, and 10 per cent. of the whole number examined were detained over two days, against 11·2 in the previous year. The percentage was again lowest in the Sonthal Parganas, where it was only ·97, a very creditable result.

6. Crime: Police: Criminal Justice.—Mr. Oldham makes some interesting remarks on the incidence and character of crime in the districts of the Division. There was an increase of cognizable crime from 12,385 to 14,505 cases; it is shown by all the districts except Malda, and was probably due to the scarcity, but there was also an increase in non-cognizable offences complained of, from 12,908 to 14,725, for which it is more difficult to account. 4·9 per cent. of the cases instituted were declared intentionally false, against 5·4 in the previous year; in 12·07 per cent. of the cases declared false, prosecutions were instituted. The number of prosecutions of this nature in the Bhagalpur district showed a further decrease, although special attention was directed to this matter in the Resolution on last year's Report. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that this part of the administration of criminal justice will continue to receive the attention of the Commissioner and the District Magistrates. Sixteen thousand one hundred and forty-seven cases were disposed of, against 14,691 in 1895; 4,004 cases out of the total number were tried by Honorary Magistrates. The number of witnesses examined in all Courts rose from 52,680 to 55,280. In the Courts of Stipendiary Magistrates, the percentage of witnesses detained over two days on the whole number of witnesses examined fell from 5·3 to 4·6 per cent., but the proportion was again excessive in Mongbyr (9·8 per cent.) and in Malda (8·9 per cent.). The high percentages of detentions in those districts were unfavourably noticed in the Resolution on last year's Report. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the present year may show a marked improvement in this respect. The Commissioner remarks that the explanation furnished of the further deterioration in results, namely insufficient staff, is unsatisfactory, and the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with him. An examination of Statement XI attached to the Report shows that the percentages of detentions were in many instances very high in the Courts of officers who tried comparatively few cases and examined but few witnesses, while the ratio of detentions was small in the Courts of other officers who examined a very large number of witnesses. As in the case of witnesses examined in civil suits, the percentage of detentions for more than two days shown is smallest in the Sonthal Parganas, where it was only 1·05; but there appears to be some doubt as to the accuracy of the registers in this district.

In the Courts of Honorary Magistrates, the percentage of witnesses detained more than two days to the total number rose from 6·8 to 9·3; here also the percentage is highest in Monghyr (15·9), and it cannot, in the case of Honorary Magistrates at all events, be explained by insufficiency of establishments. In Bhagalpur and Purnea the proportion was only 2·04 and 1·4 per cent., respectively, and in the Sonthal Parganas none of the witnesses examined were detained more than two days. The results obtained in these districts are distinctly creditable. The attendance of Honorary Magistrates was, on the whole, fair, but is capable of much improvement in Bhagalpur and Monghyr, except at Beguserai, where the attendance at the Bench was excellent.

Six per cent. of police cases were remanded six times or more, against 5·5 per cent. in 1895 and 4·2 per cent. in 1894. The proportion was again highest in Monghyr (11·5 per cent.), and lowest in the Sonthal Parganas (2·6). More than half of the cases were, however, disposed of in two hearings.

One hundred and thirty-five cases were tried at the Sessions Court, and 69·6 per cent. resulted in conviction; commitments appear to have been generally made with care. The percentage of convictions was lowest in Monghyr and highest in the Sonthal Parganas.

The amount of fines imposed during the year was Rs. 86,448, and there was an outstanding balance of Rs. 26,682, which was brought down by the end of 1896 to Rs. 21,922, after Rs. 74,710 had been collected and Rs. 16,498 written off.

The police in Malda under Ray Jadab Chandra Deb Bahadur and in Bhagalpur under Mr. P. Sandilands are reported to have done very good work; in Monghyr the work of the police was not attended by success, in spite of the efforts of the Magistrate and the District Superintendent. In this district there are still 813 chaukidars under Regulation XX of 1817, but their number is being gradually reduced—a task not without difficulty; in Bhagalpur there are only 24 of these men, and none at all in Purnea and Malda. In Purnea an attempt has been made to organize circles under head-chaukidars; but there has been no great success. Though complete figures are not given, the number of chaukidars rewarded in the Division appears to have increased to some extent; and in Monghyr some progress has been made in securing persons of respectable caste to serve as chaukidars.

7. Land Revenue.—The total current and arrear demand on account of Land Revenue, Road and Public Works and Embankment and Zamindari Dâk Cesses was Rs. 40,04,155, and of this amount, Rs. 38,41,639 were collected. The current demand on account of land revenue alone was Rs. 33,70,681, and 97·7 per cent. of this sum was collected. The following table shows the percentage of current collections of land revenue on current demand attained in each class of estates, district by district, together with the standard percentage:—

	Permanently-settled estates.	Temporarily-settled estates.	Estates under direct management.
Standard percentage	99	95	90
Monghyr	99·7	97·4	77·2
Bhagalpur	98·9	69·3	93·4
Purnea	99·9	91 3	94·6
Malda	99·8	91·8	59 8
Sonthal Parganas	99·8	100	76·8

The collections on the whole must be regarded, especially in permanently-settled estates, as extremely satisfactory, considering the circumstances of the year. The collections in Government estates were considerably better than in the previous year, except in Malda and the Sonthal Parganas; the short collections in these two districts are due in part at least to the scarcity; but those in the Sonthal Parganas, which occurred in the Rajmahal sub-division, have not been completely explained. The question of the accuracy of the tauzi accounts in regard to Government estates in Bhagalpur, which was noticed in the Resolution on last year's Report, has not yet been settled, but a report appears to have been made on the subject by the Collector. The matter should be set at rest as soon as possible. One thousand two hundred and seventy-nine estates fell into arrears, against 1,461 in 1895-96, and 71 were actually sold, against 97; these facts show that payments were made more punctually than in the previous year. Work under the Public Demands Recovery Act was very promptly done. Fifteen thousand one hundred and sixty-four certificates were issued during the year, more than double the number (7,497) issued in 1895 96; but the number pending at the end of the year was only 4,166, against 3,483 pending at the beginning. In Monghyr the disposals exceeded the institutions. Rupees 1,53,460 were collected by this procedure. A considerable amount of land was surveyed with a view to acquisition on behalf of the new railways under construction. The Road and Public Works Cess revaluations in Monghyr and Bhagalpur were completed during the year; and the collections of road and public works cesses throughout the Division, amounting to 87 per cent. of the gross demand, current and arrear, were very satisfactory. The expenditure on agricultural and sanitary improvements in Government estates was insignificant except in the Sonthal Parganas, and even there nearly as much was spent on the improvement and furnishing of dâk bungalows as on sanitary or agricultural improvements. The attention of the Commissioner and of the District Officers is again directed to the important subject of increased expenditure on agricultural and sanitary improvements properly so called.

8. Wards' and attached Estates.—Seven estates continued under the charge of the Court of Wards, the principal being that of Khagra in Purnea. The total demand of these estates was Rs. 5,89,766, out of which sum Rs. 3,77,454, or 64·0 per cent., were collected; the shortness of the collection was due to the scarcity. The collections in three out of the four wards' estates in the Sonthal Parganas were, however, extremely good. These estates have only a very small outstanding balance; but those of the Khagra estate and of the Lagma estate in Bhagalpur are more than half as large as the current demand and should be reduced in the manner indicated in Government Resolution No. 896T.R., dated the 9th October 1896. In future reports the action taken to give effect to the orders contained in that Resolution should be stated. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice that Rs. 21,746 were spent on improvements, almost exactly double the sum so spent in the previous year, and considers that the management of Wards' estates in the Division is generally satisfactory.

9. Excise, Stamps and Income-tax.—The excise revenue rose from Rs. 14,70,894 to Rs. 14,89,130; the increase was spread over all the districts except Malda and the Sonthal Parganas, in both of which there was a decrease which is attributed to the scarcity.

The total revenue from stamps (apart from postage and telegraph stamps) was Rs. 12,04,612, an increase of Rs. 56,273 on that of the previous year. Thirteen prosecutions were instituted and 14 persons convicted for breaches of the stamp law.

The total demand on account of income-tax was Rs. 2,70,465 due from 11,374 persons. Rs. 2,64,004 were realized, or 97·6 per cent. The Commissioner remarks :—

"The high prices of the year for food-grains gave a great stimulus to enquiries by assessing officers. The results were to find that the high prices had caused financial ruin to a great many petty dealers who were trading without capital, but they must have given immense money profits to capitalist traders, and these must be watched for in the current year's assessments.

10. Communications and Public Works.—The South Bihar Railway was under construction in South Monghyr, and the Hajipur-Katihar extension of the Bengal and North-Western Railway in North Monghyr. The latter line will also pass through the districts of Bhagalpur and Purnea, but construction in these districts did not proceed during the year, owing to certain difficulties connected with the alignments. Surveys were made for certain other projects. The Commissioner reports that the good done by the irrigation works of the Darbhanga Raj in the Kharagpur Estate in Monghyr was incalculable. The Division appears to be well provided with roads.

11. Education.—There were 5,430 schools in the Division, 104 more than in the previous year; the number of pupils increased by 6,106 to 113,046. The proportion of boys at school to the total number of boys of a school-going age rose to 15·99, but is still very low as compared with that in other Divisions. One hundred and eighty new primary schools were opened, bringing the total number up to 3,956. The proportions of Muhammadans at school to the total of pupils showed a continued increase to 22·4 per cent. The number of pupils of aboriginal races rose from 6,514 to 7,269. The total expenditure on account of education, including inspection charges, scholarships and miscellaneous charges was Rs. 5,48,718. The technical school at Purnea was closed during the year, as it had proved a failure, in spite of every effort made in its behalf. A fund was raised amounting to Rs. 2,700 by the zamindars, pleaders, officers and others of the Division in testimony of their approbation of Mr. Toynbee's methods of conducting public business, and it was resolved to spend the interest of that amount, supplemented by local subscriptions, in awarding prizes annually for athletic sports open to competition by the students of the colleges and schools of the Division.

12. Dispensaries and Hospitals.—There were 40 private and public dispensaries in the Division; so far as has been ascertained 180,407 persons were treated in them. The Commissioner specially commends the management of the public hospitals at Monghyr and Bhagalpur, and of the Free Scotch Mission hospitals at Banda in Monghyr.

13. Local Self-Government Institutions.—There were 10 Municipalities in the Division as in the previous year, and they appear, on the whole, to have worked well. The best results have been obtained in the small towns under official management; Mr. Oldham considers that the Monghyr Municipality furnished a good example of real and successful municipal government. The Municipality of Bhagalpur have introduced and completed the extension of a water-works project, but the management of their taxation and revenue is reported to be in much disorder. Except in the case of Bhagalpur, it is not stated how the municipal expenditure was distributed, nor how much was spent on sanitation. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with regret that the relations of the Jamalpur Municipality with the controlling authorities are described as very unsatisfactory, that the demands and requirements of the latter are ignored, and that unless there is amendment the intervention of Government may become necessary. Mr. Stevens hopes that the Municipal Commissioners will without delay take such action as will render such intervention unnecessary. The four District Boards are reported to have concentrated all their resources on the relief of distress, and to have co-operated loyally with the other local authorities. Local Boards, too, gave all the assistance in their power.

14. Conduct of Zamindars.—The account which the Commissioner gives of the benevolence of the zamindars in alleviating distress has been read with great pleasure by the Lieutenant-Governor. With very few exceptions, the zamindars of the Bhagalpur Division have done their duty to their tenants and the public in the most admirable manner. The foremost among them have been Maharaja Sir Ravaneshwar Prashad Singh Bahadur, K.C.I.E., of Gidhaur, Maharaja Harballabh Narayan Singh, C.I.E., of Sonbursa, Raja Padmanand Singh Bahadur of Baneli, Raja Ram Narain Singh Bahadur of Khaira, Raja Ramranjan Chuckerbutty Bahadur, of Hitampur, Mr. Maling Grant, Rai Gunput Singh Saheb of Harawat, and his brother, Rai Camaleshwari Pershad Singh Bahadur, Babu Taraknath Ghosh, and Babu Dharam Chand Lal.

15. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Mr. Oldham for his efficient administration of the Division and for his interesting report from which the following extracts are published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

M. FINUCANE,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Extracts from the Annual General Administration Report of the Bhagalpur Division for the year 1896-97.

III.—WEATHER AND CROPS.

28. The circumstances of the year are now historic. The Division shared in the drought which lasted till May; in the break in the rains from the 20th July to the 20th August, which spoiled the hopes of the bhadoi; and in the final drought from the 24th September to the 31st December 1896, since when there has been good rain every month, and the weather has been particularly favourable to agricultural prospects, though not to all crops, now that the mahua flower and fruit as well as mangoes are counted as crops. Not one in twenty of the mango trees have flowered. The mahua blossoms were injured by the storms of March, and the produce has been from a half to two-thirds of the average. The Division fared better than the tracts to west of it by getting nearly 10 inches of rain in September. The total rainfall was in fact generally greater than that of 1895, the average being 45 inches against 43, but its distribution was most unfavourable. Altogether the total food produce was just one-half of the average; for, though the spring crops in the alluvial soils made a fine show and were far better than was expected, there were large areas on the higher lands and of the stiffer soils where they came to nothing or were not sown at all. The following is the usual statement:—

District.	Rainfall.		Outturn of crops taking 16 annas as the average outturn.			Remarks.
	Average of 10 years	In 1896-97.	Bhadoi.	Winter rice.	Rabi.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Monghyr ...	47·72	41·80	10½	8	*	The figures in column 2 are taken from the Bengal Administration Report. Those in column 3 from the District Reports. Those in columns 4 and 5 from the Director of Land Records and Agriculture's final reports. * Final forecast of the rabi crop has not been received from the Director of Land Records and Agriculture, or published in the Calcutta Gazette.
Bhagalpur ...	52·95	39·53	9	8⅓	.....
Purnea ...	74·18	52·93	8⅓	8⅓	.....
Malda ...	53·37	44·81	9¾	4 to 6	.....
Sonthal Parganas	57·87	45·53	10	8	.....
Divisional average	57·22	44·92	9⅛	7¼	8*

29. The following particulars are noticed by District Officers:—

In the Monghyr district wheat suffered from abnormal heat at the time of sowing; pulses, specially gram, were a good crop, and opium, which promised to give a 16-anna crop, turned out shorter. Tobacco and pepper, which are extensively grown, were good crops in the Begusarai subdivision.

In the Bhagalpur district the rainfall was only 40 inches as compared with 45 inches in 1895-96 and 49 inches in 1894-95, and an average of nearly 53 in the last 10 years. Its variation was from 47 inches at Partabganj near Kanwa

Ghat on the Kusi to 34 inches at Bangaon, the centre of its present famine area. The winter rice was specially affected by the want of moisture. On the whole, however, the district produced more grain than was needed for internal consumption and has been in a position to export largely during the year.

In the Purnea district the oilseed crops were in some parts bumper crops. Tobacco which is very important was less than the average. The sugarcane was a 14-anna crop. Jute, which is the most important non-food crop in the district, was slightly below the average. Hemp, the cultivation of which is not very extensive, was an average crop. Indigo, which is also an important non-food crop and is very extensively grown in the Sadar subdivision and parts of Araria, was only 10 annas, but part of its failure was due to the Kusi floods.

The average rainfall in the district of Malda was nearly 45 inches, over 11 inches more than in 1895-96, but none fell at those seasons in which it was most needed, nor did the rivers rise as high as in other years. The mango crop was only 12 annas, and this year it is far worse. The other distinctive crops of this district are mulberry, jute and indigo. They were partially injured by drought and their yield was below the average. Altogether the year in Malda has been one of poor harvests, and coming as it has done after a similarly poor year, the result has been a fairly widespread, though not very severe, distress among the labouring classes.

The Sonthal Parganas were typical of all the losses experienced elsewhere with still less than in the other districts to make up for them.

* * * * * *

V.—MATERIAL CONDITION OF THE PEOPLE.

42. In this subject, always one of comparison, the comparisons have been made by the hardest and most convincing of tests. The fact that out of eight millions of people all but forty thousands have been able up to the end of June to bear without relief the famine prices of food-grains which have prevailed since October last—and this after a period of high prices and bad harvests for over a year and-a-half before—shows resources that could not be believed in were not their existence proved so convincingly. It indicates too the advance made since the time not so long ago when the fact that common rice had risen in price to 16 seers for the rupee was pronounced to be the signal of danger. The way in which the calamities of the year have been so far borne indicates also how great has been the increase of thrift, prudence and foresight among the very humblest, while all the attending circumstances show that no demoralisation, as was feared, has been the result of the measures taken for relief in 1874 and twice since, and that the charity of those who can afford to exercise it has been as boundless as it always was. The Magistrate-Collector of Bhagalpur has mentioned elsewhere that numberless tanks have been made all over the north of his district by those farmers or rural capitalists who, with produce to sell, have profited by the prices, and that these works are nearly all being undertaken as a matter of religious duty.

43. Another fact again made prominent by the scarcity is how much smaller is the margin which separates from absolute want the self-respecting and decent-looking people of Hindustan with their fastidiousness and strict religious observance and those aboriginal or degraded races on the border whose normal condition is one of dirt and rags, and whose villages and huts are pictures of squalor and apparent misery. The Baori of the Sonthal Parganas are the most prominent example. They can use animal food and even carrion, and can sustain life by jungle products unknown in the more populous and civilized tracts. These degraded races are also far more averse to the regular toil by which wages can be earned on relief works than the Hindu and Muhammadan peasantry, and only resort to them in the last extremity and when their children have already suffered from starvation. The races in the north with whom they are contrasted take with the greatest order their places on the relief works as if by signal when the time has come; and are careful to see that, however low the wages and rigorous the tests, that time is not postponed till their children have begun to suffer or they themselves have been reduced to apathy and inability to do the tasks by which their food is to be earned.

44. The following particulars are given by District Officers:—

Mr. Marriott, the Collector of Monghyr, writes that there has been no rise in wages, no reduction in rates of interest charged and no apparent increase of expenditure on food or raiment. On the other hand increase of excise revenue, increased postal and stamp revenue and increased registration of documents show a general advance in wealth. "Landless labourers," he says, "are little more than slaves unable to work where and with whom they wish." One of the objections made to him regarding a settlement was that if lands were given to ploughmen how could the long-standing cultivators get their lands ploughed. He adds:—

"Similarly labourers have asked me for work at their homes because they were not allowed to work at the railways."

In Bhagalpur the food-stocks were amply sufficient for the consumption of its population; but owing to large exportation and to a desire on the part of grain merchants to hold their stocks and wait events, prices have ruled high. These high prices, following upon the indifferent harvests of 1895-96 and of the year under report, have seriously affected the material condition of the people throughout the district. The result was that in February it was found necessary to open relief works in North Bhagalpur. Since the close of the year distress and suffering to a minor degree have appeared throughout nearly the whole district.

In the Purnea district reports were made to the Collector, Mr. Bernard, that in certain localities coolies were starving for want of work. He offered work, but the local men stood out for 3½ annas a day, as they could get congenial work in the fields for which they get fair wages besides food. Quite lately the District Famine Committee began to distribute gratuitous relief in different parts of the district; but though respectable and sympathetic native gentlemen have been supplied with funds, the amount they have distributed is very small. The subscriptions locally collected for the district will probably cover all that is needed for charitable relief and something will be left over for loans.

Mr. Lea, Officiating Collector of Malda, states that on the whole the condition of the people of his district was not bad. Work in excavating tanks was offered by the District Board, wherever it was thought to be required, in the Barind tracts, but up to the end of March there was practically no demand for such employment.

In the Sonthal Parganas, Mr. Carstairs writes that in the west of Jamtara, where the loss of crops was greatest, the pressure on the labourers was increased by the cessation of most of the customary employment on mines and quarries. The greatest relief to the labouring classes in this district has been that given by emigration, which has not only taken away those who want, but has also induced employers who wanted labour to do something to keep labourers at home. This good also has its evil in the wives and families often left at home to starve.

VI.—EMIGRATION AND IMMIGRATION.

Monghyr.

45. The number of emigrants registered in the district of Monghyr under the Inland Emigration Act was 450 against 388 the year before: 161 of them were males, 106 females and 183 dependants. There are at present no depôts, sub-depôts or rest-houses in this district. There were some depôts for the accommodation of free emigrants, but they were closed for not complying with the rules. There are two shelters for the accommodation of sardari emigrants. These were inspected by a Deputy Magistrate and were reported to be clean and habitable. There was no immigration into this district, nor were any emigrants registered under the Colonial Emigration Act.

Bhagalpur.

46. All the depôts for inland emigrants in the district of Bhagalpur were closed in the course of the year for not making the sanitary arrangements required by the rules. No serious case of abuse of the rules for recruitment of emigrants was brought to notice. There is no immigration to this district and no other emigration except the yearly flow of labourers to Purnea from the Madhipura subdivision and to Dinajpur from Banka. The majority of these labourers return home directly the harvesting for employment on which they go is over.

Purnea.

47. There is no regular emigration from the district of Purnea under the law, and there is said to be no immigration of settlers. Nevertheless I see there are numerous and recent colonies of Sonthals. People are said to go to Rangoon and other places to serve as grooms and shoeing smiths and to come from Darbhanga, Muzaffarpur and other places to serve as cooks and khansamas.

Malda.

48. Emigration from the district of Malda is unknown. The up-country labourers, who come for harvesting, return home when their work is finished. This year they did not find work and generally moved on further north or east. The colonies of Sonthals that have settled in thanas Gajol, Gomastapur and Old Malda are gradually increasing, but it is difficult to ascertain their exact number.

Sonthal Parganas.

49. The number of emigrants for Assam registered under the Act during the year in the Sonthal Parganas was 398 labourers and 274 dependants against 151 labourers and 118 dependants the year before, an increase of more than 50 per cent. The greater number of coolies recruited for the labour districts of Assam go under the "free" system, that is, conducted by unsupervised agents, or under the sardari system. The Sonthal emigration scheme under Mr. Adlam sent 1,865 coolies, including dependants, to the tea-gardens which have accepted the scheme during the year. The scheme is becoming more widely known and popular, and it has gained the confidence of the village headmen and the people themselves who know exactly where their relatives and friends in the gardens are and how to communicate with them through the agent. A marked characteristic of the emigration under the scheme has been the large number of families that have gone to the gardens together.

50. There were 36 criminal cases in this district, mostly under sections 417 and 363 of the Indian Penal Code, connected with emigration, against 43 in the previous year. The decrease in a year in which emigration had increased twofold is satisfactory as showing that the people are becoming acquainted with the wiles of the arkati.

51. Four hundred and thirty coolies under 15 sardars were recruited for Government service in the hills of the Chittagong Division. As before, the work of recruiting and despatching them was entrusted to, and satisfactorily performed by, Mr. Adlam whose services were gratuitous.

52. Temporary emigration to the coal-fields from the south and across the Ganges and to the Duars from the north continues, and that to the north has been more extensive than usual.

53. The number of registered depôts in the Sonthal Parganas is 9.

54. Mr. Carstairs writes that the method of short agreements adopted by Mr. Buckingham's scheme has also been adopted by Messrs. Barry and Company and other recruiting employers. It is not perhaps the best to follow as a permanency, but it has the effect of making the community at large familiar with Assam and its conditions of life in a way that would otherwise be hopeless.

55. The time and trouble which Mr. Carstairs has to expend on these various schemes, all originated by him, are very much greater than usually devolve on a District Officer, and have been rewarded with success. His helpfulness has been repeatedly acknowledged by the remotely-placed Government officers and private capitalists who have profited by his labours which by no means cease when the emigrants have reached their destination, but are continued as regards communication with them in their absence, and the full settlement of individual claims after they return. Last year a batch of labourers despatched to the Lushai Hills turned out badly, but this was pure bad fortune, and no pains had been spared in their selection and despatch from Dumka.

VII.—PRICES OF FOOD.

56. The prices of food-grain of every kind were extraordinarily high. The year bears no comparison with the past year, or with any year in the near past. The position was so far peculiar and different from what it was in 1873-74, the last year of widely prevalent scarcity in Bihar, in that the Division produced enough food to support its own population, but the famine in Upper India and the failure of crops in the Dacca and Rajshahi Divisions drained off all surplus both westwards and eastwards, and the high prices were almost at a level, not only for rice, but for all food-grains.

* * * * *

XIII.—CRIME.

86. The increase of cognizable crime which has taken place in every district except Malda was expected in the circumstances of the year. The increase in non-cognizable offences can only be connected with them in the matter of cattle trespass, and is otherwise due to special or casual activity under the municipal law and with regard to sanitation and the discipline of chaukidars. The most serious crime which has followed the scarcity has appeared since the year closed.

87. The prevalence and character of crime are exceedingly various in this Division, and the differences can always be accounted for by the local or ethnical conditions or the history. Purnea, for instance, is not a criminal district, but is a lawless one, and keeps to the traditions of its border forays and affrays. Hostile zamindars are still found attacking each other in force with elephants, horses and arms, and there were two such cases last year. The dakaits are real banditti. A few weeks ago a band of them, 20 or 25 strong, occupied the Marwari Bazar of Kishanganj close to the railway station and three miles from the Subdivisional Magistrate's Court, and held it with sword and pistol, while others of these brigands attempted to loot it. The villages stand compact with their cultivation around them, like those of the Deccan, in vast desert plains. The adjoining tracts of North Bhagalpur and North Monghyr west of the Kusi are probably as free from crime as any region in India, with their simple and stable social order in three clearly defined classes; Brahman and Rajput aristocrats, all agriculturists, at its head, employing a serf or at least dependent population of Musahars and Jalahas; with the pastoral classes, the petty traders and the middle class farmers who can work with their own hands midway. Malda is a typical Bengal district, free from general crime, though domestic murders occur and the well-to-do peasantry are ready to fight in any quarrel about their lands. The only professional crime is assigned to the bands of nomadic labourers who keep passing through the district. The Sonthal Parganas and South Bhagalpur are similar. The villages either represent or have a strong tendency to the community system and are law-abiding, but there is a considerable sprinkling of races who by tradition are predatory. South Monghyr is, I think, the most criminal area which I have seen in India. The people act in fear of, not in defiance of, the law, and its agents; but besides a great prevalence of criminality, last year was marked by several atrocious crimes in all of which the motives were as sordid and base as possible. In three cases helpless or weakminded relations were murdered in order to get enemies charged with the crime. One whole pargana is and long has been reputed to have a population of thieves. It is in South Monghyr that the old Hindus and Muhammadans and the semi-Hinduized or Islamized people are in strongest contrast, with little interdependence; with contempt and repulsion on one side and little reverence or fear on the other, and these social conditions appear to me to account for the comparatively excessive criminality that prevails.

14,505 cognizable cases were investigated by the Police against 12,385 in 1895. The numbers of non-cognizable cases were 14,725 against 12,908. The percentage of false cases fell from 5·4 to 4·9, and was lowest in the Sonthal Parganas, (1·7,) and highest in Malda, (8 per cent.) In 12·07 per cent. of these cases prosecutions were instituted. This subject was noticed in the Government Resolution in last year's report with special reference to the Bhagalpur district, but the Magistrate notices that there has been a further decrease of 13 cases in the prosecutions instituted for false complaints and in the convictions in such prosecutions. In 1895-96 there were 29 prosecutions and 8 convictions, and last year only 16 cases and 2 convictions. The Magistrate, who is conscious of how unsatisfactory these figures are, adds that the decrease has been due to the refusals of sanction to prosecute, not to any increased use of section 560, Criminal Procedure Code.

* * * * *

XXIII.—RAILWAYS AND OTHER PUBLIC WORKS.

193. There was a considerable development of Railway enterprise last year, with too some important and unexpected checks to it. The works under construction are the South Bihar Railway and the Hajipur-Katihar Extension of the Tirhut State Railway. On the former, a good deal of earthwork was done, and several bridges were completed. On the latter, the bank has been made for some 10 miles in the Monghyr district, and the premises and yards at Katihar Junction, in the Purnea district, were arranged for; but nothing otherwise could be done in the Bhagalpur and Purnea districts, because the local Civil authorities, supported by their professional advisers, have made vigorous remonstrances against the alignment and plan of bank proposed, on the ground that it will enhance the damage which the Kosi causes.

The scheme for the light Railway from Bhagalpur to Deoghar by Bausi was completed in its revised form in December, but the project, which is a private one to be carried out on the usual terms with Government, is still stopped in London, though in March last the signature to the contract was daily expected.

194. Surveys were also made for a line from the Baptiahi Railway Station, viâ Supaul, to Mansi, opposite Monghyr, with a branch through Madhipura to Murliganj, a mart on the Kosi, to the east, as also for a line from Godagari at the confluence of the Mahananda with the Ganges, through Malda to Katihar with a branch to Raiganj.

195. On the long lengths of open line, there was only one case of obstruction, against two the year before, in the Monghyr district. A furlong post was placed on the rails and a passenger train passed over it, but no injury was caused.

196. In the same district there were 30 cases of accidents, against 25 in the preceding year, but only 6 were fatal, against 16 the year before.

197. Owing to the formation of sand-banks in the Ganges, the connection between the East Indian Railway and the Eastern Bengal Railway is now considerably eastward of Sahibganj and Manihari on the respective banks, and is made by a circuitous voyage, while the lines of rail have had to be prolonged and changed. So the Deputy Commissioner, Sonthal Parganas, writes:—

"Some alterations in the loop-line at Sahibganj have been made owing to the retreat of the river, and the upward flow of traffic this year has been illustrated by the fact that the Railway Steamers take cargoes of grain from Dulian to Sakrigali, near Sahibganj."

Another point brought to notice by him is that—

"A catch-siding has been made on the steep grade of the chord-line in the Jamtara Subdivision, whereby if a train parts, the runaway end may be stopped."

198. As regards the little Deoghar Railway, he writes:—

"Complaints are made of the insufficiency of the engines and rolling-stock, but as that is under sentence of death when the new line to Bausi is made, it is not to be wondered at that they are not renewed."

Irrigation.

199. There are no Government Irrigation Works, but the remarkable irrigation works of the Darbhanga Raj, in the Kharagpur Estate, in the Monghyr district, attract public notice, and next to the Railways and the Himalayan Road, through the Purnea district, they are the most considerable works in the Division. Though the initial outlay was over seven lakhs, I am surprised to see the cost of maintenance last year reported at only Rs. 8,700. The amount of good done by these splendid works last year was incalculable. They are kept always in admirable order. I had often heard of these works, but had no conception of their extent and perfection till I visited them. In appearance, the canal distributaries, locks and sluices are precisely the same as Government works.

* * * * *

XXIV.—COMMUNICATIONS.

201. Like Mr. Toynbee, my acknowledgments are due to Mr. Cloëte, the Superintending Engineer of the Northern Circle, for the assistance given by him to the Commissioner in all matters connected with local public works. These services have by no means decreased the work of the Commissioner in this Department, but while increasing it, they have made it infinitely more satisfactory. They have brought out more plainly still the difficulty and circuitousness of the control exercised under the present system for carrying out the works of Government in the Civil Department.

202. Mr. James Robinson, the District Engineer of Bhagalpur, has again shown himself to be the most successful in the Division in dealing with the communications of a District and all connected requirements. Credit is also due to Mr. Roberts, the District Engineer of Purnea, for the efficient state of communications in that district last year. The District reports tell nearly all the same tale. In view of the emergencies which threatened, all objects were postponed in order to save funds for works calculated to afford relief. In the Bhagalpur district the whole money available was so diverted and spent. So, as regards communications, the unmetalled and fair-weather roads, and those, the embankments of which were improved by widening, have profited. I traversed some 1,000 miles of these District Board Roads, and all parts of the Division, except the west of the Monghyr district, and found no cause for complaint and very much for commendation.

203. There were two Steamer Services in Malda, one of which plied between English Bazâr and Rajmahal during the rainy season and the other between English Bazâr and Rampur Boalia. The former received a subsidy of Rs. 715.

* * * * *

XXX.—LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT INSTITUTIONS.

General.

263. The fifth General Municipal Elections were held in March last and were successfuly carried out. The new Committees have been constituted since the close of the year.

264. The Division exhibits every stage of Municipal government. The most backward Municipality is that of Deoghur under purely official direction, and with by far the best results in every branch, except that of actual self-government. The next best is Purnea, where the management is wholly foreign. The Magistrate is the Chairman, and the Vice-Chairman and most active Commissioners are professional men from the Metropolitan districts. The two little Municipalities in Malda come nearest to self-governing institutions, managed by local men, who are well acquainted with, and also have some times to contend with, local interests. Altogether, I would give the first place as an example of real and successful Municipal government to Monghyr, which is a considerable city. Though the Commissioners continue to choose the District Magistrate as their Chairman, the Vice-Chairman is a prominent townsman, and so are the bulk of the Commissioners. Local interests are often encountered, and of late years there has been no shrinking from such encounters.

265. The Municipality of Jamalpur occupies a place by itself. Its taxation and revenue business, its public works and its sanitation are carried out to the satisfaction of everybody, but otherwise its relations with the controlling authorities are so unsatisfactory, and their demands and requirements are ignored to such a degree, that unless there is amendment in this respect, the intervention of Government will become necessary. The kind of neglect under notice amounts to a breach of the law. For instance, the Commissioners are at this moment levying some taxes without any legal sanction,

266. The Commissioners of the important Municipality of Bhagalpur have achieved far more than any other in the Division, but the reaction thereby caused in their ordinary business, which was noticed last year, has increased, and their management of their taxation and revenue is in much disorder and will cause the greatest trouble. I inspected this Municipality in September last, and completed my examination after two unsuccessful attempts to do so for want of the materials. The promises then made have not been fulfilled, and the local auditor has now reported that the accounts are in utter confusion, and he has asked Government to take action under Section 82 of the Bengal Municipal Act.

I also held a regular inspection of the English Bazâr Municipality, with satisfactory results, and otherwise inspected all the rest, except those of Jamalpur and Colgong.

District Boards.

267. There is a District Board in each of the four Regulation districts of this Division. All of them, as well as the Local Boards, were reconstituted during the year by fresh appointments and elections.

* * * * *

XXXIV.—THE STATE OF PUBLIC FEELING AND THE PUBLIC PRESS.

State of public feeling.

308. The most general expression of public feeling was in the resentment and alarm felt at the exportations of food-grains, which began in October, among all except those who were profiting by them. Even now few people will hear reason on this subject, and among the others are a great many officers of Government. Next to notice is the universal charity which was exercised by almost all who could afford it to mitigate the suffering which resulted from these profitable exportations, though it was displayed locally and individually and not in any combined way. Otherwise public feeling did not manifest itself in any pronounced way in this Division during the year, except in the Sonthal Parganas.

309. On the occasion of the Bakr-Id in Monghyr some ill-feeling was stirred up between Hindus and Muhammadans at a place not far from the city. Timely police interference, however, prevented its culmination in a riot. Otherwise, the relations between Hindus and Muhammadans were generally friendly.

310. The proposal for the transfer of the Sub-Judge's Court from Monghyr to Bhagalpur caused some stir amongst the pleaders and litigants.

311. The Magistrate of Purnea writes:—"The people of the district are loyal and contented, and not intolerant in religious matters. Hindus and Muhammadans live together on good terms."

312. In the Sonthal Parganas, public feeling is and always has been that of the masses, whom the Sonthals, with their great cohesion and admirable polity among themselves, invariably lead. The Deputy Commissioner writes that public feeling was aroused on the matter of coolie emigration, settlements and the introduction of Forest Regulations. As regards the first, Mr. Carstairs says that the objection to go to Assam has been to some extent overcome by the introduction of the system of short agreements. This is a matter which affects almost every village.

"The settlement in Parganas Ambar and Sultanabad, which form the permanently-settled portion of the Pakour Subdivision, caused and still causes, a good deal of ill-feeling. The unfortunate rescue of the agitator Futteh Sonthal (against whom a warrant had been issued) by the retainers of the Pakour Raja, encouraged for a short time the lawless minority. Little violence was, however, committed. The movement against the settlement has subsided into lawful agitation. The agitation is believed to have been organising a large movement of opposition to Government and settlement, which showed itself in the Godda Subdivision, but that attained no importance."

The Deputy Commissioner should have added that public feeling was very strongly manifested in the Pakour Subdivision against the method of administering the customary free labour system which had been followed there.

313. The Deputy Commissioner writes:—

"The introduction of the Forest Department and the consequent efforts to assert Government rights in the north of the Daman-i-koh, has caused much friction with the Paharias. I am not yet clear as to all the rights and wrongs, and have not had time, in a year so full of work and anxieties, to go fully into it."

I have had no details about this, and do not know what is referred to. In the matter in which the Paharias appealed against the Forest Department, they gained their case.

Public Press.

314. For the last few months a fortnightly paper, called the Gaurbarta, is being published in Bengali from the Krishnakali Press in English Bazâr in Malda. It is edited by a junior pleader and has not a large circulation. It appears to be of the ordinary type, preferring unauthenticated to less sensational authentic news. No other paper is published in this Division. Calcutta newspapers, both English and vernacular, are however largely read.

* * * * *

XXXVI.—CONDUCT OF ZAMINDARS.

322. This has appeared last year in a very favourable light; nearly all the District Officers write of the good and benevolent conduct of the zamindars and with very few exceptions. The appearance of distress throughout the Division afforded the zamindars an opportunity of coming forward, which has been seized by the large majority of those who are of any standing, and much assistance has been rendered to their tenants and to the public.

323. Mr. Marriott notices the generous contributions by the Maharaja of Gidhour, the Raja Bahadur of Baneili, the Raja Bahadur of Khaira, and Râi Camaleswari Prosad Bahadur to the Famine Relief Funds, besides the assistance they have rendered, and the forbearance they have shown at great cost to the suffering tenantry.

324. The zamindars of the Begusarai Subdivision, with the exception of Babu Lachmi Prasad Sinha of Sakarpura, are reported to be prominent exceptions to this public-spirited and charitable conduct.

325. The Collector of Bhagalpur promises to write a special report about the assistance rendered by the zamindars to alleviate distress in his district. Nearly all have done excellently well, headed, as usual, by Maharaja Harballab Narain Sing, C.I.E., of Sanbarsa. Rai Ganpat Sing Sahib and his brother, Babu Narpat Sing, the proprietors of the Harwat pargana, have also distinguished themselves, as has the Mahasay, Babu Tarak Nath Ghosh of Nathnagar near Bhagalpur, by extensive and most unobtrusive charity.

326. Mr. Bernard, the Magistrate of Purnea, writes that the only liberal zamindars in his district are the Raja Bahadur of Baneili and Babu Dharam Chand Lal.

327. Mr. Price, the late Collector of Malda, left a note eulogizing Babu Sarat Chandra Roy Chowdhury of Chanchal, Babu Hari Mohan Misra of Bhaluka, Munshi Ismail Chowdhury and Mr. George Hennessy of Mathurapur as law-abiding and public-spirited zamindars.

Mr. Lea, the present Collector writes:—

"There is a perpetual feud between Raja Surjya Kant Acharjya Bahadur (now Maharaja) of Mymensingh and Messrs. Jardine Skinner. As soon as one bone of contention is disposed of, another is at once created, and they have given, and are giving, considerable trouble."

Mr. Price noted that the Maharaja's zamindari was well managed by Mr. Hollow, his local agent.

328. Mr. Carstairs reports the following zamindars as having been prominent in helping their raiyats and the poor of the district. Raja Ram Ranjan Chakrabarti Bahadur of Hitampur in Birbhum; Mr. Maling Grant of Bhagalpur; the lady proprietors of the Lachmipur Estate and the Hendwai Pargana, and their Manager Mr. F. Braidwood; Rai Sitab Chand Nahar Bahadur of Azimganj Murshidabad, Ghatwal Dario Lal of Surath, Ghatwal Ram Charan Singh of Bamangaon, and Thakur Lal Barm, Katauri Chief of Tapah Patsanda. Raja Satis Chandra Pande of Pakour, on the other hand, has behaved both to his distressed raiyats and to Government in a way unknown in the annals of his ancient house. The latter part of his conduct has been under careful enquiry, and has finally evoked the most serious displeasure of Government, and the privileges and distinctions accorded to him, in consideration of his rank and conduct and that of his predecessors, have been withdrawn.

329. Extensive properties of the Darbhanga Raj lie in the Purnea, Bhagalpur and Monghyr districts, and all have shared in the complete arrangements made by the Maharaja for the relief of his tenantry in the scarcity and distress.

330. The great Estate of this Division, holding extensive property in each of its five districts, is that of the late Raja Lilanand Sing, known as the Baneli Raj, the senior sharer in which is Raja Padmanand Sing Bahadur. The Raj enjoys the services of a Deputy Magistrate, lent to it by Government as Manager, and last October there was a change in this office. No zamindar has made more complete, liberal, and effective arrangements for relief and assistance than this administration, especially in the Sonthal Parganas, where they were most wanted, and Raja Padmananda Sing has taken the greatest interest in these measures, and, as noticed in the account of the Collector of Purnea's tour, has sacrificed his own objects in order to join in them

By the deed of compromise concluded some years ago by the sharers, the Commissioner is the referee in the affairs of this Raj, and the function has had to be exercised last year. I was startled to find the Estate engaged in litigation with the Darbhanga Raj, the cost of which might amount to lakhs of rupees, while the real matter involved was the merest trifle—simply a point of prestige—and the basis was about as hazardous a one as there could be, the somewhat haphazard hill and jungle survey of 1845. The former Manager seemed to have no voice in the matter, and the policy was dictated by the pleaders who were conducting the cases and who refused the very liberal offers of compromise made by the Maharaja of Darbhanga. Under the new management the scandal will be made to cease.

XXXVII.—GENERAL REMARKS.

The Famine.

333. The subject of absorbing interest was the state of the people after the rains had finally ceased and the outturn and prospects of the harvests were definitely known, while local stocks were being sent away eastwards as well as westwards, to an extent which left it uncertain what height prices might rise to. It was only because of this drain on local stocks that measures of relief, carried out by Government, eventually became necessary in the Bhagalpur district and the Sonthal Parganas. In the former district, owing to the early production of substantial crops of lentils and millets, the pressure has already passed, while in the affected parts of the Sonthal Parganas, there is no such relief, and the worst period has yet to come. I have now seen a good deal of Famines, beginning with that of 1866 at its acutest stage in Orissa, and including the terrible famines of 1877 and 1878 in Southern India, and to all these famines, with their diverse modes of treatment and incidents, the present calamity in this Division has two strong points of contrast. One is, in the satisfaction with which it has been dealt with, because of the existence of codified rules, the principles of which are fixed for all conditions, though the details must change, and have had, midway in this present experience, to be changed. The improvement has extended down to the matter of accounts, which used to be so great a cause of subsequent trouble. In all my experience I have never seen or known of any area affected by famine administered so satisfactorily as the Bhagalpur district has been administered by Mr. H. J. McIntosh, without any interruption to ordinary important business. The other feature is the boundless extent to which private charity has been exercised. No doubt the circumstances were very favourable for this. Everyone who could afford to lay in his stock of grain for the year and to sell a surplus, profited. Nevertheless my estimate is that the amount expended from private sources, including subscriptions, in this Division since February last in relief, has exceeded that expended from public funds.

STATISTICS OF THE SEA-BORNE TRAFFIC OF CALCUTTA IN FOOD-GRAINS.

No. 2309 Statistics.—The following memorandum and statements are published for general information.

M. FINUCANE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

STATISTICAL DEPARTMENT,
The 19th October 1897.

Memorandum.

The sea-borne import and export traffic of Calcutta in food-grains during the 9 days from 22nd to 30th September 1896, and the corresponding period of 1897, is shown in the following statement:—

Imports.—During the period under report, the imports of rice amounted to 70,462 cwts., against 37,460 cwts. in the last 9 days of September 1896. The amount imported from Burma was 20,274 cwts., and that from the Straits Settlements 35,397 cwts., both against nil in the corresponding period of last year. Shipments of rice from Chandbali fell from 31,955 cwts. to 13,224 cwts. Imports of paddy fell from 27,766 cwts. to 9,632 cwts, owing to the receipt of smaller consignments from Chandbali and Balasore, and to the cessation of exports from Gopalpur in Ganjam. The decrease under the head of gram and pulses amounted to 7,547 cwts., the amount imported from Cocanada being 116 cwts. against 5,301 cwts., and that from Chandbali 366 cwts, against 4,414 cwts., in the corresponding period of 1896.

Exports.—In the following statement the total quantity of each kind of food-grain exported by sea during the last 9 days of September 1897 is compared with the quantity exported in the corresponding period of 1896 :—

Foreign ports.

The exports of rice from Calcutta to foreign ports declined from 94,691 cwts. in the last 9 days of September 1896 to 36,233 cwts. in the period under report. The decline was chiefly due to the absence in 1897 of shipments to Mauritius and Reunion, to which places 26,031 cwts. were exported during the 9 days ending 30th September 1896, and to a decline in the exports to the United Kingdom (12,160 cwts.) and Natal (11,722 cwts.) The exports of gram and pulse decreased from 12,884 cwts. to 1,522 cwts. owing to the absence of shipments to Mauritius, and to a decline in the exports to Ceylon.

Indian ports.

As regards Indian ports, the exports of rice during the last 9 days of September 1897 amounted to only 749 cwts. against 6,908 cwts. in the corresponding period of last year. The exports of gram and pulse were 9,726 cwts. less than half what of they were in the corresponding period of the previous year.

Detailed statements showing the sources of supply and the places of destination, both as regards Foreign and Indian ports, are given below:—

The total imports of rice into Chittagong during the nine days under report amounted to 3,761 cwts., the whole of which came from Burma, against nil in the corresponding period of 1896. Owing to larger receipts of wheat and other food-grains from Calcutta, the import trade of Balasore improved by 1,158 cwts.; but the export trade decreased by 22,779 cwts., viz., from 50,861 cwts. to 28,082 cwts., the decreases in the different staples being 1,583 cwts. under rice, 19,354 cwts. under paddy, and 1,842 cwts. under gram and pulse, although Mauritius was supplied with 3,035 cwts. of rice, against nil in the corresponding nine days of 1896. Colombo, which received 2,582 cwts. of rice from False Point during the nine days ending 30th September 1896, imported nothing in the corresponding period of 1897.

Detailed statements showing the sources of supply and the places of destination, both as regards Foreign and Indian ports, are given below:—

Singhbhum.—Rainfall at Chaibassa ·28, Chakradharpur ·25, Kalikapur 1·56, Ghatsila. 60.

General Summary.—There was general rain except in parts of North Bihar during the week. The rain was heavy in Orissa and parts of South-West Bengal The general agricultural prospects continue favourable except in parts of Champaran, where high floods caused by the excessive rain of the preceding week have damaged the cut bhadoi crops and destroyed winter rice on low lands liable to inundation. Insects are reported to have attacked the rice plants in places in Patna and Puri. Jute is still being steeped and washed. The harvesting of all other autumn crops is nearly over. The preparation of land for the rabi crops is in progress, and sowings have begun in places. The price of common rice shows a fall in several districts; but in Champaran it has risen from 12½ to 11 seers per rupee. The average price of common rice in Manbhum, where relief works are still open, is 9 seers, against 8½ seers last week.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF SEPTEMBER 1897.

Among the more noticeable features of the monsoon season now almost over, one was the almost entire absence of the cyclonic storms, which beginning over the northern part of the Bay move almost without exception in a north-westerly direction over Orissa and the adjacent parts of South-West Bengal and Orissa; another the uniform character of the rainfall, which being due to small changes of pressure and the consequent shifts of light winds generally prevailing, was, as a rule, light but continuous.

During September but not till towards the end of the month a change began to appear, storms became more frequent, and the first of any importance occurred between the 22nd and 24th, a severe storm of small extent which crossed the centre of the Bay with unusual rapidity towards the Ganjam coast and gave rise to very strong winds between Puri and Gopalpur for a few hours in the early morning of the 24th. A week afterwards another storm began, and in the first days October developed into a di turbance of wide extent with a slow rate of motion. It caused strong winds and a very rough sea in the north-west angle of the Bay owing to its recurving and moving northwards over Orissa, after the centre had passed inland near Gopalpur.

Besides these disturbances and previous to them two shallow depressions developed, the first in Lower Bengal, the second in the south of the Bay. The former was forced southwards and westwards by a rise of pressure which began in the north of the province and extended south-westwards, the area of lowest pressure moving slowly across the north-west angle of the Bay into Orissa and the Circars and afterwards becoming diffused into a wide depression of small depth over the south of the Bay and the south of the Peninsula. As there was then a considerable excess in pressure over the province and the north of the Bay, and a similar defect in the south-west, rainfall partially ceased in Bengal, but the showery weather which had begun in the beginning of September in Madras and the Circars was maintained by the moist winds which, owing to the abnormal pressure arrangement, were deflected westwards across the Bay instead of moving in their usual course northwards into Bengal.

The latter of the two depressions referred to at the beginning of the previous paragraph began about the 18th, and was shown as a diffused low pressure area extending across the south of the Bay. It developed slightly and moved slowly westwards towards the Madras coast for two or three days, till it disappeared owing to the rapid development of the small intense storm of the 23rd and 24th.

A land depression formed about the middle of the month in East Bengal. It deepened considerably on the 15th, but by the following day had almost disappeared after causing heavy rain at most of the eastern stations of East Bengal.

There were, therefore, during the month four depressions over the sea, including the one which was developing at the end of the month and one land depression whose influence was confined to the east of the province.

As pressure was high over the province during a considerable part of the month, and was never very largely below the normal, the averages for the month are about ·05 inch above the normal at all inland stations.

Temperature also was high, especially in the south-western districts, average excess varying from 1° to 2°, except in East and North Bengal, where excess was small, and in Assam, where there was defect of 1°.

In consequence of the general weather conditions being more unsettled than during the preceding months rainfall was less regularly distributed. The eastern and especially the north-eastern part of the province received more than the normal at the expense of the south-western districts, where there was defect generally not more than 2 or 3 inches.

At the beginning of the month the pressure distribution was somewhat abnormal owing to the relatively high readings in Orissa, Burma and South Bengal, as compared with the north of the province and the south of the Bay. The fairly steep gradient over the province and the south-westerly winds caused a rush of moist air towards North Bengal, where very heavy rain began and continued on the 2nd, when several stations reported 6 inches or more. The disturbance to which the rainfall was due was purely local and soon ceased, but moderately heavy rain continued for a day or two afterwards at most of the northern stations. On the 3rd the low pressure in the south of the Bay was not so marked, and the difference from the normal varied from excess of ·1 inch in the south of Burma to a small defect in the west of Bihar, giving a gradient considerably steeper than is usual at the beginning of September. Cloudy showery weather was general even in Madras and temperature was low almost everywhere, especially in the north of the province.

A rapid fall of pressure set in on the 4th in East Bengal, and led to the first depression of the month, which, however, was not well defined till the 6th. There was then a shallow depression over Lower Bengal and the adjacent part of the Bay with a regular cyclonic circulation of light winds. The rise which had followed the rapid fall of the 4th continued with moderate rapidity till the 7th, when there was again a fall, brisk over the north of the Bay. There was a further rapid fall on the 8th over Orissa and the south of Madras, so that the area of lowest pressure was again more to the south-west. It was then causing a well defined cyclonic circulation with a centre near False Point, where defect was greatest, but not much more than ·1 inch. On the 9th it was over Ganjam and was filling up or becoming diffused, after which the area of lowest pressure remained over the Circars. On the 10th and 11th readings continued to increase briskly in the north and fall slightly in the south; the difference from the normal on the latter date varying from excess of ·12 inch over Bengal to defect of ·03 inch in the south-west of the Bay.

As the area of lowest pressure retreated southwards, rainfall which had been general over the province on the 6th diminished in quantity and became more scattered, except in South-West Bengal and Orissa, where nearly all stations recorded daily rain. But on the 12th a new series of changes began which led to a renewal of rainfall over the province, first in East Bengal. Pressure rose rapidly in the south-west of the Bay and fell slowly in Bengal and Assam; the fall continuing on the 13th, when signs of a shallow depression over East Bengal appeared from the wind circulation. The slight depression was better defined on the 14th and was well marked on the 15th, when a further rapid fall occurred over the whole of Bengal. On the latter date general rain was falling except in Orissa and Chota Nagpur, and continued more or less general on the two following days, though on the 16th the depression had almost ceased to exist.

Between the 17th and 19th pressure rose in the north and fell in the south, the distribution becoming very uniform with a wide shallow depression over the south of the Bay. This depression was somewhat better defined on the 20th and 21st, but a brisk fall in the south-east on the 22nd gave lowest pressure in that part, and it rapidly developed into a rather deep depression of small extent. There was nothing to show the character of the storm on the 23rd except the changes at Diamond Island in wind force and direction as it had moved north-westward, and was probably near the centre of the Bay. Early on the 24th the centre crossed the coast near Gopalpur, where the greatest fall of pressure was recorded at 2 A.M., about ·25 inch from 8 A.M. of the previous day. By 8 A.M. the pressure distribution had almost recovered, but strong winds were still reported from Gopalpur and Puri and the sea was very rough. The strongest winds occurred at Puri betwen 4 and 6 A.M., the average velocity for the two hours being little under 60 miles an hour.

On the 25th the pressure distribution was again uniform with the difference from the normal varying from excess of ·15 inch in East Bengal to a small defect in the south of the Bay. Owing to a fall which began on the 25th and continued slowly for several days, the rather large excess in the north steadily diminished, and on the 28th the distribution was very nearly normal. A change was then beginning in the south of the Bay and led to the commencement of the depression which became the most important feature of weather conditions over a great part of the country during the first few days of October. But till the end of September the changes were chiefly over the south-east or centre of the Bay, and the only indication of their progress was given by the increase of wind velocity at Diamond Island and by the irregular changes of direction. During the last week rainfall was more scattered in Bengal, especially on the last three days, while the depression was developing in the south of the Bay. It was due to thunderstorms and was in consequence irregular both in its occurrence and in quantity.

Pressure changes during the month were very rarely more than ·1 inch, either in the province or at the coast stations. But at times readings were considerably above the normal, and at others normal or slightly below. Consequently the means for the month are above the normal everywhere, by amounts varying from ·03 inch in the north-east of the province and Assam to ·06 inch in part of Orissa and Chota Nagpur.

The only depression of any depth was the one of small extent which occurred at the beginning of the fourth week. The only station at which it caused a very rapid fall of pressure was Gopalpur, the greatest recorded change being about a quarter of an inch. The fall was rapid over the south of Orissa and the north of the Circars.

Temperature.—During the first week of September temperature was low by several degrees in the north of the province and high in the south and west. As the depression moved southwards during the early part of the second week, rainfall ceased largely over Bengal, and temperature rose except in the south-west where it fell below the normal. It remained so till about the middle of the month, when heavy rain began in East Bengal with a rapid fall of temperature, which extended slowly over the eastern and northern parts of the province, readings remaining low till the 19th, when there was again comparatively high temperature at nearly all stations. After that till the end of the month it was uniformly high except at times in East and North Bengal when rainfall was more heavy than usual.

The difference in mean temperature for the whole month varies from excess of 2° in Chota Nagpur and the west of Bihar to a small defect in Assam and part of East Bengal.

Rainfall.—As stated above, rainfall for September has been more irregular than during the previous part of the monsoon season, but such variations are partly due to the numerous thunderstorms which are a regular feature of the closing weeks of the season. Though the average fall for the whole province is practically normal, there has been a considerable excess in East and North Bengal and defect elsewhere increasing towards the south-west.

The average excess in North Bengal was 4·32 inches, in East Bengal 3·33 inches, while in Chota Nagpur there was defect of 1·78 and in Orissa of 8·08 inches.

The total actual falls for the month were uniform over a great part of the province, and it was only in the extreme east and north where much irregularity was shown. Where uniform the falls were generally about 8 inches, and there was only one well defined tract of country over which the falls were less than 5 inches. It included the greater part of the Patna district and parts of Gaya, Shahabad and Saran. In North Bihar the falls increased rather rapidly in amount towards the hills, and were above 10 inches at all stations in the extreme north, including the greater part of Champaran.

In North Bengal the actual falls were all more or less heavy, varying from 10 to 15 inches in the southern half of the division, and being generally between 20 and 40 inches in the north. Buxa recorded 49·3 inches. In East Bengal falls were fairly uniform except in the eastern half, where they varied between 10 and 20 inches.

The difference from the normal was small over a great part of the western half of the province, a defect of 2 or 3 inches being most frequently shown. Only in scattered parts of Orissa was defect above 5 inches. In the central and eastern parts where excess was more prevalent, it rarely exceeded 3 inches, and it was only at a few of the extreme eastern stations and in the northern half of North Bengal that excess was considerable, varying from 5 up to nearly 20 inches.

The following table gives a condensed summary of the rainfall statistics of the present year up to date for each meteorological division, the first nine columns giving the actual average falls in each division for each month expressed as a percentage of the normal, while the tenth column gives the actual rainfall of the first nine months as a percentage of the normal rainfall for that period :—

The following table contains full data for the comparison of the actual and normal rainfall of the month of September in all districts of the Province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain-recording stations in each district, due allowance or weight being made for the area which each station represents. This gives a more accurate average than the arithmetical means given in the monthly meteorological tables. The first column gives the normal or average district rainfall as determined from the rainfall observations of the past 25 years ; the second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the weighted actual rainfalls of the month at the reporting stations in each district ; the third column expresses the ratio of the actual district fall of the past month to the normal rainfall as a percentage; and the fourth column states as a percentage how much the district rainfall for the month varied from the normal :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast; p, passing temporary showers; ≏, dew; g, gloomy; t, thunder; ≤, lightning; d, drizzling rain; K, thunderstorm.

NOTIFICATION—No. 896T.—R.

The 22nd October 1897.—It is hereby declared that a competitive examination for three appointments in the Opium Department will be held in February 1898. At this examination only such European and Eurasian candidates as have been nominated by the Lieutenant-Governors of Bengal and the North-Western Provinces, each of whom is authorised to make four nominations for each vacancy, subject to ultimate nomination by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, will be permitted to present themselves.

It must be clearly understood by competitors that those who may be declared successful will not be entitled to obtain permanent appointments in the fourth grade of Assistant Opium Agents until a permanent vacancy occurs in that grade, nor until they have complied with the conditions of Rule 12; but it is the intention of Government to appoint them at once to duty in the Department.

2. A certificate of health and physical fitness, signed by a covenanted medical officer in the form given in the margin, will be required from each candidate, who should also furnish a copy of his baptismal certificate, in the absence of which sufficient evidence as to age should be forwarded with the application for admission to the examination. No one whose age will be below 19 years on the 1st February 1898, or above 22 years on the 1st March, will be permitted to appear.

I do hereby certify that I have examined Mr. , a candidate for employment in the Opium Department, and that he has no disease, affection, or bodily infirmity, and is in my opinion possessed of a robust constitution, well fitted for the performance of the duties appertaining to such an appointment. His age is, according to his own statement, years and by appearance about years.

Signature.

The 189 . Description.

3. A certificate that the candidate is able to ride and is of active habits, signed by a District Magistrate, or by a Presidency Magistrate or the Commissioner of Police, in the case of applicants residing in Presidency towns, should also be submitted.

4. Applications for nomination by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, accompanied by the necessary certificates, must be sent to the Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal, in the Revenue Department, on or before the 1st January 1898. Such applicants as are granted nominations will receive an intimation to that effect, and be required to pay a fee of Rs. 20 before they can appear at the examination. The fee is payable to the Under-Secretary aforesaid.

5. The examination will be held in Calcutta: the date and place of the examination and the order in which the different subjects will be taken up will be notified hereafter to such candidates as are allowed to present themselves at the competition.

6. The examination will be by written questions and answers and viva voce.

The subjects of examination and the number of marks to be allotted will be as follows :—

I. Preliminary—

	Marks.
(1) Dictation	100
(2) English composition (i.e. essay or précis writing) ...	100
(3) Arithmetic (the whole)	100

		Marks.
II.	Obligatory—
	(4) Algebra (up to and including Quadratic Equations) and Plane Trigonometry (including solutions of triangles and mensuration)	100
	(5) Euclid, Books I, II, III, IV and VI	100
	*(6) English History	100
	*(7) Indian History	100
	(8) English Literature	100
	(9) Hindustani—Urdu—Translation of easy passages from English into Urdu; reading at sight from a book such as the Bagh-o Bahar; conversation. Hindi—Translation of some piece into Hindi character; reading at sight from a printed book, such as the Baital Pachisi	150
III.	Optional—	Marks.
	(10) Latin (200) and French (150)	350
	or
	(11) Botany (150) and Chemistry (150)	300

No text-books are prescribed for the different subjects, except for the subjects included in No. (11)—Botany and Chemistry. The text-books for these subjects are—

(a) Oliver's First Book of Indian Botany.

(b) Inorganic Chemistry, Theoretical and Practical, by W. Jago.

7. No books of any kind will be allowed at the time of examination.

8. Candidates who fail to obtain half the marks in each and all of the three subjects of the preliminary examination shall not be allowed to proceed further with the examination in the remaining subjects. The examination in the obligatory and optional subjects will not be held until the papers of the preliminary examination have been examined and marked, for which an interval of a day or two will ordinarily be allowed to the examiners, and a list of the candidates successful in the preliminary examination will be published forthwith at the place of the examination.

9. In the obligatory subjects each candidate must obtain at least one-third of the marks allotted to each paper to be considered to have passed in that paper, and half of the marks in the aggregate.

10. The candidates will only be allowed to take up one, but not both, of the groups of the optional subjects, and the marks obtained will count towards the aggregate total.

The candidates must state in their applications which of the groups they will take up.

11. The three candidates will be placed in order of precedence according to the aggregate number of marks obtained by them, and appointments will be made accordingly.

12. Candidates appointed to the Opium Department after examination will be considered as probationers for the first two years of their service. The confirmation of a candidate in the Department will depend on his passing the Departmental Examinations, and on the periodical reports submitted by the Opium Agents, showing the industry and intelligence with which he discharges his duties, and his aptitude for service in the Department as displayed during the period of probation. He will be liable to be removed if he fails to pass all examinations within this period, or if his conduct is unsatisfactory and he is reported to be unfit for confirmation.

NOTIFICATION—No. 4971J.

The 23rd October 1897.

IN exercise of the powers conferred by sections 5 and 7 of the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884) and with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to make the following rules to regulate the manufacture, possession and sale of explosives in the Lower Provinces of Bengal.

Nothing in these rules relating to the possession of explosives shall apply in any port, as defined in the Indian Ports Act, 1889, for which the Local Government may have made, or may make, special rules under the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884) to regulate the possession of explosives.

Nothing in these rules shall apply to the manufacture, possession or sale of any explosive—

(a) by order of the Government, or

(b) by any person employed under the Government in the execution of the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884), or as a keeper of a magazine, artizan, soldier, sailor, policeman, or otherwise, or enrolled as a Volunteer under the Indian Volunteers Act (XX of 1869), in the course of his employment or duty as such.

C. W. BOLTON,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RULES UNDER THE EXPLOSIVES ACT, 1884, FOR THE MANUFACTURE, POSSESSION AND SALE OF EXPLOSIVES IN THE LOWER PROVINCES OF BENGAL.

PRELIMINARY.

1. For the purposes of these rules, explosives shall be classified as follows, namely:—

Class 1	...	...	...	... Gunpowder.
Class 2	...	...	...	... Nitrate-mixture.
Class 3	...	...	...	... Nitro-compound.
Class 4	...	...	...	... Chloratemixture.
Class 5	...	...	...	... Fulminate.
Class 6	...	...	...	... Ammunition.
Class 7	...	...	...	... Firework.

And when an explosive falls within the description of more than one class. it shall be deemed to belong exclusively to the latest of the classes within the description of which it falls.

CLASS 1.—Gunpowder Class.

The term "gunpowder" means exclusively gunpowder ordinarily so called.

CLASS 2.—Nitrate-mixture Class.

The term "nitrate-mixture" means any preparation, other than gunpowder ordinarily so called, formed by the mechanical mixture of a nitrate with any form of carbon or with any carbonaceous substance not possessed of explosive properties, whether sulphur be or be not added to such preparation, and whether such preparation be or be not mechanically mixed with any other non-explosive substance.

The nitrate-mixture class comprises such explosives as—

Pyrolithe,
Hydrolithe,
Poudre saxifragine,

and any preparation coming within the above definition.

CLASS 3.—Nitro-compound Class.

The term "nitro-compound" means any chemical compound possessed of explosive properties, or capable of combining with metals to form an explosive compound, which is produced by the chemical action of nitric acid (whether mixed or not with sulphuric acid) or of a nitrate mixed with sulphuric acid upon any carbonaceous substance, whether such compound is mechanically mixed with other substances or not.

The nitro-compound class has two divisions—

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Nitro-glycerine,	Dualine,
Dynamite,	Glyoxiline,
Lithofracteur,	Methylic nitrate, and any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation which consists, either wholly or partly, of nitro-glycerine or some other liquid nitro-compound.

Division 2 comprises such explosives as—

Gun-cotton ordinarily so called,	Cotton gunpowder,
Gun-paper,	Schultz's powder,
Xyloidine,	Nitro-mannite,
Gun sawdust,	Picrates,
Nitrated gun-cotton,	Picric powder,

Tonite (or cotton powder), and any nitro-compound as before defined which is not comprised in the first division.

CLASS 4.—Chlorate-mixture Class.

The term "chlorate-mixture" means any explosive containing a chlorate.

The chlorate-mixture class has two divisions—

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Horsley's blasting powder,
Brain's blasting powder,

and any chlorate preparation which consists partly of nitro-glycerine or of some other liquid nitro-compound.

Division 2 comprises such explosives as—

Horsley's original blasting powder,	Hochstadter's blasting charges,
Erhardt's powder,	Reichen's blasting charges,
Reveuley's powder,	Teutonite,
	Chlorated gun-cotton, and any chlorate-mixture as before defined which is not comprised in the first division.

CLASS 5.—Fulminate Class.

The term "fulminate" means any chemical compound or mechanical mixture, whether included in the foregoing classes or not, which, from its great susceptibility to detonation, is suitable for employment in percussion-caps or any other appliances for developing detonation, or which, from its extreme sensibility to explosion and from its great instability (that is to say, readiness to undergo decomposition from very slight exciting causes), is especially dangerous.

The fulminate class has two divisions—

Division 1 comprises such compounds as the fulminates of silver and of mercury and preparations of these substances, such as are used in percussion-caps, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with phosphorus, or certain descriptions of phosphorus compounds, with or without the addition of carbonaceous matter, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with sulphur, or with a sulphurate, with or without carbonaceous matter.

Division 2 comprises such substances as the chloride and the iodide of nitrogen, fulminating gold and silver, diazobenzol, and the nitrate of diazobenzol.

CLASS 6.—Ammunition Class.

"The term "ammunition" means an explosive of any of the foregoing classes when enclosed in any case or contrivance, or otherwise adapted or prepared so as to form a cartridge or charge for small-arms, cannon, or any other weapon, or for blasting, or to form any safety or other fuze for blasting, or for shells, or to form any tube for firing explosives, or to form a percussion-cap, a detonator, a fog-signal, a shell, a torpedo, a war-rocket, or other contrivance other than a firework.

The term "percussion-cap" does not include a detonator.

The term "detonator" means a capsule or case which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive of the fulminate-explosive class in such quantity, that the explosion of one capsule or case will communicate the explosion to other like capsules or cases.

The term "safety fuze" means a fuze for blasting which burns and does not explode, and which does not contain its own means of ignition, and which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive in such quantity, that the burning of such fuze will not communicate laterally with other like fuzes.

The expression "safety cartridges" means cartridges for small-arms of which the case can be extracted from the small-arm after firing, and which are so closed as to prevent any explosion in one cartridge being communicated to other cartridges. The term also includes rifle-calibre machine gun cartridges if they are of the above description, whether they are for use with machine-guns having chambers identical with those of rifles or with machine-guns which have special chambers.

The maximum gauge at which a small-arm cartridge can be accepted as "safety" is one inch. The following are the gauges of the machine-gun cartridges which may be accepted as "safety":—

·303-inch cordite.

Martini-Henri rifle, solid case.

·45-inch Gardner, Gatling and Nordenfeldt, except Martini-Henri chambered guns.

·4-inch.

Cartridges of larger gauge are not safety cartridges.

The ammunition class has three divisions—

Division I comprises exclusively—

Safety cartridges, Safety fuzes for blasting, Fuzes for shells, and tubes friction for guns, provided there be no more than five fuzes or 25 tubes in one package, and that the package be a hermetically sealed metal cylinder.	Railway fog-signals. Percussion-caps.

Division 2 comprises any ammunition, as before defined; which does not contain its own means of ignition and is not included in Division 1, such as—

Cartridges for small-arms, which are not safety cartridges,
Cartridges and charges for cannon, shells, mines, blasting, or other like purposes,
Shells and torpedoes containing any explosive,
Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuzes,
Fuzes for shells,
Tubes for firing explosives,
War-rockets,

which do not contain their own means of ignition.

Division 3 comprises any ammunition, as before defined, which contains its own means of ignition and is not included in Division 1, such as—

Detonators,
Cartridges for small-arms, which are not safety cartridges,
Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuzes,
Fuzes for shells,
Tubes for firing explosives,

which do contain their own means of ignition.

By ammunition containing its own means of ignition is meant ammunition having an arrangement, whether attached to it or forming part of it, which is adapted to explode or fire the same by friction or percussion.

CLASS 7.—Firework Class.

The firework class has two divisions—

Division 1 comprises firework compositions, that is to say, any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation of an explosive or inflammable nature, which is used for the purpose of making manufactured fireworks, and is not included in the former classes of explosives, and also any star and any coloured fire composition, subject to the proviso hereinafter set forth.

Division 2 comprises manufactured fireworks, that is to say, any explosive of any of the foregoing classes and any firework composition, when such explosive or composition is enclosed in any case or contrivance, or is otherwise manufactured so as to form a squib, cracker, toy cap or amorce, serpent, rocket (other than a war-rocket), maroon, lance, wheel, Chinese fire, Roman candle, or other article specially adapted for the production of pyrotechnic effects or pyrotechnic signals or sound signals:

Provided that a substantially constructed and hermetically closed metal case containing not more than 1 lb. of coloured fire composition of such a nature as not to be liable to spontaneous ignition shall be deemed to be a "manufactured firework."

MANUFACTURE, POSSESSION AND SALE.

(a) General Rules.

2. An explosive shall not be manufactured except under, and in accordance with, the conditions of a license to manufacture the explosive granted under these rules:

Provided that this rule shall not apply—

(a) to the making of a small quantity of an explosive for the purpose of chemical experiment, and not for practical use or for sale; or

(b) to the filling for private use, and not for sale, of any safety cartridges to the amount allowed by these rules to be possessed for private use.

3. Whoever manufactures an explosive in contravention of Rule 2 shall be punishable with fine which may extend to three thousand rupees.

4. An explosive shall not be possessed except under, and in accordance with, the conditions of a license to possess the explosive granted under these rules:

Provided that this rule shall not apply—

(1) to a person possessing for his private use and not for sale—

(a) gunpowder to an amount not exceeding on the same premises 30lbs. or in lieu of the said quantity of gunpowder 15lbs. of any other explosive, or in lieu of any less amount of gunpowder not so possessed, half that amount of other explosive; or

(b) gunpowder contained in safety cartridges to an amount not exceeding 150lbs., or in lieu thereof 150lbs. of any explosive contained in ammunition of the 1st division of class 6, or in lieu of any less amount of gunpowder not so possessed, that amount of any explosive so contained:

Exception.—Nothing in the foregoing portion of the proviso to this rule shall be held to authorize the possession for private use—

(a) of any explosive of division 1 of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class, except under the conditions of rule 4A, or of any explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class; or

(b) of any explosive whereof the possession has been prohibited absolutely by notification under section 6 of of the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884); or

(c) where the possession of an explosive has by notification under that section been prohibited, subject to conditions, of any such explosive except subject to those conditions,

(2) to the possession of an unlimited quantity of fire-works, if obtained and intended for immediate use and not for sale, and if kept for a period not exceeding 14 days in a safe and suitable place, and with all due precautions for the public safety:

(3) to the possession of any explosive by a carrier or other person for the purpose of transport when the same is being kept or transported in accordance with the provisions of the rules made under the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884), with respect to the transport of such explosive: or

(4) to the possession of any gunpowder, rockets or other explosive on board any ship in pursuance of the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Acts for the time being in force, or any order or regulation under those Acts.

4A. An explosive of division 1 of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class shall not be possessed except under one of the following conditions:—

(a) Under a lisense in Form D or E.

(b) Under a pass issu d by a holder of a license in Form D or E to a person in his employ, such pass to cover not more than 5lbs. of the explosive, and not to be valid for more than 24 hours, each pass to bear the name of employé to whom issued, the amount covered, and the date and hour of issue.

(c) Under a pass issued by a holder of a license in Form E to a person in the employ of a holder of a license in Form D to convey not more than 60lbs., or to a person in the employ of a holder of a license in Form E to convey not more than 100lbs. of the explosive in a sealed box to such license-holder, such pass not to be valid for more than 24 hours.

For the purpose of this rule, the term "license-holder" shall include—

(1) In the case of a license granted to a Company, the Company's local agent, or manager, and any employé of such Company, to whom the local agent or manager has granted permission in writing to exercise his powers under this rule, such permit to be countersigned by the District Magistrate or Subdivisional Officer.

(2) In the case of a license granted to an individual, any employé of such individual authorised under the above conditions to exercise his powers under this rule.

5. Whoever possesses an explosive in contravention of rule 4 or rule 4A shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

6. An explosive shall not be sold except under, and in accordance with the conditions of a license to sell the explosive granted under those rules:

Provided that this rule shall not apply to any person selling any explosive which for his own private use he lawfully possesses, to any person who is not legally prohibited from possessing the same.

7. Whoever sells an explosive in contravention of rule 6 shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

(b)—Licensing of the manufacture, possession, and sale of gunpowder and certain explosives.

8. Licenses to manufacture, possess and sell, or to possess and sell, or to possess an explosive of the 1st (gunpowder) class, or of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class, or of the 7th (fire-work) class, to such total amount during the currency of the license and in such places as shall be approved by the licensing officer, may be granted in a Presidency-town and its suburbs by the Commissioner of Police, and elsewhere by the District Magistrate:

Provided that nothing in any such license shall be deemed to entitle the license-holder to keep at the same time in the place to which the license applies more than 200lbs. of gunpowder, 500lbs. of explosive contained in ammunition of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class, and 200lbs. of fire-works, or any such less quantity of any of these explosive as the licensing officer may direct in this behalf.

9. The following fees shall be paid for every license granted under the last foregoing rule, namely:—

(1) a fee of twenty rupees for every license to manufacture, possess and sell the maximum quantity of explosive mentioned in the last foregoing rule, or any less quantity;

(2) a fee of ten rupees for every license to manufacture, possess and sell half the quantity of explosive mentioned in the last foregoing rule, or any less quantity;

(3) a fee of five rupees for every license to manufacture, possess and sell a fourth of the quantity of explosive mentioned in the last foregoing rule, or any less quantity;

(4) a fee of ten rupees to possess and sell the maximum quantity of explosive mentioned in the last foregoing rule, or any less quantity;

(5) a fee of five rupees to possess and sell half the quantity of explosive mentioned in the last foregoing rule, or any less quantity;

(6) a fee of two rupees eight annas to possess and sell a fourth of the quantity of explosive mentioned in the last foregoing rule, or any less quantity; and

(7) a fee of eight annas for every license to possess explosives.

10. Every license granted under rule 8 shall be in Form A, B or C in the schedule hereto annexed, as the case may be, and shall be subject to the conditions prescribed therein.

11. Whoever commits a breach of any condition subject to which a license under rule 8 is granted, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

(c)—Licensing of the manufacture of other explosives.

12. Licenses to manufacture explosives other than those referred to in rule 8 shall be granted by the Governor-General in Council on payment of such fees, in such form, for such term and subject to such conditions, as the Governor-General in Council may in each case prescribe:

Provided that the Governor-General in Council shall, in the case of any such license, prescribe all the conditions which are hereinafter prescribed for licenses to possess an explosive of the same description and quantity as the manufacturing license is to cover.

13. Whoever commits a breach of any condition subject to which a license under rule 12 is granted, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to three thousand rupees.

(d)—Licensing of the possession of small quantities of other explosives.

14. Licenses for the possession, at such places as shall be approved by the licensing officer, of explosives other than those specified in rule 8 may, if the explosive is not one of the 5th (fulminate) class, and if the quantity to be possessed at the same time does not exceed 60lbs., be granted in a Presidency-town and its suburbs by the Commissioner of Police, and elsewhere by the District Magistrate.

15. Every license granted under rule 14 shall be in Form D in the schedule hereto annexed, and shall be subject to the conditions prescribed therein. A fee of five rupees shall be paid for every such license.

16. Whoever commits a breach of any condition subject to which a license under rule 14 is granted, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

(e)—Licensing of the possession of explosives generally.

17. Licenses for the possession of explosives other than those which may be issued under rules 8 and 14 may, if the explosive is not one of the 5th (fulminate) class, be granted by the Local Government in accordance with the following procedure:—

(1) The applicant shall submit to the District Magistrate, or in a Presidency-town and its suburbs, to the Commissioner of Police, an application in writing accompanied by a plan (drawn to scale) of the place in which it is proposed to keep the explosive (herein referred to as the magazine) and the site thereof.

(2) The application shall specify such of the following matters as are applicable, namely:—

(a) the boundaries of the land forming the site of the magazine, and either any belt of land surrounding the site which is to be kept clear, and the buildings and works from which it is to be kept clear, or the distances to be maintained between the magazine, or any part thereof, and other buildings and works;

[If a table of minimum distances has been prescribed in this behalf by the Governor-General in Council, or the Local Government with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the distances to be maintained between the magazine and the various kinds of buildings shall not be less than those specified for the explosive in question (when stored in the quantity intended) in the Government list of distances.]

(b) the situation, character and construction of all the mounds, buildings and works on or connected with the magazine, and the distances thereof from each other;

(c) the amount of explosives and of ingredients thereof wholly or partly mixed to be allowed at the same time within the boundaries of the magazine; and

(d) any special terms which the applicant may propose by reason of any special circumstances arising from the locality, the situation or construction of any buildings or works, or the nature of any process or otherwise.

(3) Upon receipt of the said application—

(a) The District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police, as the case may be, shall thereupon cause notice to be published of the application, and fix a date on which any person shall be heard objecting to the establishment of a magazine on the proposed site who have not less than seven clear days before the day of hearing sent to the said District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police, and to the applicant, notice of their intention to appear and object with their names, address and calling, and a short statement of the grounds of their objection.

(b) Where the site of the proposed magazine is situate within, or within one mile of, the limits of the jurisdiction of any municipality or of any Port authority, the applicant shall serve on such authority notice of the application, and of the date of hearing by the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police.

(c) The said notices shall be published and served at the cost of the applicant by the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police not less than one month before the date of hearing.

(d) The District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police shall fix the date of hearing as soon as practicable after application is made to him, and the time so fixed shall be as soon as practicable after the expiration of the said month from the publication and service of the notices by the applicant.

(e) On consideration of the application, and on making such enquiry as may be deemed necessary, the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police may dissent altogether from the establishment of such new magazine on the proposed site, or assent thereto, either absolutely, or on any conditions requiring additional restrictions or precautions.

(f) On the completion of the enquiry, the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police shall forward the application with his recommendation to the Local Government. The Local Government may thereupon grant the license applied for, either in accordance with the recommendation of the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police, or with the addition of any additional restrictions and precautions as may be deemed proper, or may refuse such license:

Provided that, if the distance of the proposed magazine from any dwelling-house, highway, street, public thoroughfare or public place is less than 200 yards, or if for any other reason it considers it advisable to do so, the Local Government shall, before granting the license, obtain the opinion of an Inspector of Explosives after inspection of the place by him.

If a table of distances to be observed has been prescribed, it will be sufficient to see that the provisions regarding the minimum distance so laid down for the case is not infringed:

Provided that, if the application is for the renewal of a license issued prior to the issue of the table of distances, the Local Government may, if the Inspector of Explosives advises that this can be done without danger, renew the license without requiring that the table of distances shall be complied with.

(g) If the Local Government grant a license, it shall forward the same to the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police, who, when satisfied that the magazine is sufficiently completed according to the license to justify the use thereof, shall confirm the license; but until so confirmed the license shall not come into force.

18. A fee of Rs. 20 shall be paid for every license granted under rule 17.

19. Every license granted under rule 17 shall be in Form E in the schedule hereto annexed, and shall be subject to the conditions prescribed therein.

19A. With the previous sanction of the Government of India and subject to any conditions or restrictions that may be deemed necessary, the Local Government may authorize the possession of explosives under rule 17 in a floating magazine, and may direct the necessary modifications in the procedure prescribed in rule 17 and in license Form E in such special cases.

20. Whoever commits a breach of any conditions subject to which a license under rule 17 is granted, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

21. Licenses for the possession of explosives of the 5th (fulminate) class shall be granted by the Governor-General in Council on payment of such fees and in such form, and subject to such conditions, as he may in each case prescribe.

22. Whoever commits a breach of any conditon subject to which a license is granted under rule 21, shall be punishable with fine, which may extend to one thousand rupees.

(e)—Licensing of the sale of other explosives.

23. Licenses for the sale of explosives other than those referred to in rule 8 may be granted in a Presidency-town and its suburbs by the Commissioner of Police, and elsewhere by the District Magistrate, to any person licensed to possess the same.

24. A fee of five rupees shall be paid for every license granted under rule 23.

25. Every license granted under rule 23 shall be in Form F in the schedule hereto annexed, and shall be subject to the conditions therein prescribed.

26. Whoever commits a breach of any condition subject to which a license under rule 23 is granted, shall be punishable with fine, which may extend to five hundred rupees.

27. The officers herein undermentioned are authorized, within the areas respectively specified below,—

(a) to enter, inspect and examine any place, carriage or vessel in which an explosive is being manufactured, possessed, used, sold, transported or imported under a license granted under the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884), or in which they have reason to believe that an explosive has been or is being manufactured, possessed, used, sold, transported or imported in contravention of that Act, or of the rules thereunder ;

(b) to search for explosives therein ;

(c) to take samples of any explosives found therein, on payment of the value thereof ; and

(d) at their discretion to seize, detain, remove and, if necessary for the public safety, destroy any explosive found therein in respect of which there may be reason to believe that the provisions of the said Act or of the rules thereunder have been contravened.

Areas.	Officers.
In all parts of Bengal ...	The Superintendent of the Gunpowder Factory, Ishapur. The Assistant Superintendent of the Gunpowder Factory, Ishapur.
Within their respective districts	All District Magistrates.
Within the areas respectively subject to their jurisdiction.	All Magistrates subordinate to the District Magistrate.
In the town of Calcutta and its suburbs.	The Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, and all Police Officers of rank not below that of Inspector, if specially deputed in that behalf by the Commissioner of Police.

Provided that—

(1) Whenever the Superintendent or the Assistant Superintendent of the Gunpowder Factory, Ishapur, or any Magistrate subordinate to the District Magistrate seizes, detains or removes any such explosive, he shall report the fact to the District Magistrate, and that

(2) Neither the Superintendent nor the Assistant Superintendent of the said Factory, nor any Magistrate subordinate to the District Magistrate, shall destroy any such explosive without the previous sanction of the District Magistrate.

28. A person licensed to possess an explosive shall not be required to take out a license for the manufacture of the explosive by reason that in connection with his magazine or licensed premises he fills for sale or otherwise any cartridge for small arms with the said explosive :

Provided that he observes the following regulations, namely :—

(1) There shall not be in the room in which such filling is being carried on more than five pounds of gunpowder, or an amount to be prescribed by the Local Government in this behalf of any other explosive, except it is made up into safety cartridges ;

(2) Any work unconnected with the making of the cartridges shall not be carried on in the room while such filling is being carried on ;

(3) There shall not be in the room, while such filling is being carried on, any fire nor any artificial light, except a light of such construction, position or character as not to cause any danger of fire or explosion ;

(4) The room in which the filling is carried on shall be detached from the magazine, but in the immediate neighbourhood thereof, and at such distance therefrom as may be specified on the license by the authority granting the same; and

(5) The occupier shall give notice to the authority granting his license that he intends to carry on such filling of cartridges as is allowed by this rule.

28A. A person licensed to possess an explosive shall not be required to take out a license for manufacture by reason that, in connection with his magazine or licensed premises, he, by filling cartridges, making charges, drying, sifting, fitting or otherwise, adapts or prepares the said explosive for use exclusively in his mine or quarry or in some excavation or work carried on by him, or under his control:

Provided that he observes the following regulations, namely:—

(1) There shall not be in the workshop in which such adaptation or preparation is carried on more than 100lbs. of gunpowder, or an amount to be prescribed by the Local Government in this behalf of any other explosive;

(2) Any work unconnected with such adaptation or preparation shall not be carried on in the said workshop while such adaptation or preparation is being carried on;

(3) The said workshop shall be detached from the magazine, but in the immediate neighbourhood thereof, and at such distance therefrom as may be specified on the license by the authority granting the same;

(4) An explosive of one description shall not be converted into an explosive of another description, and shall not be unmade or resolved into its ingredients; and

(5) The occupier shall give notice to the authority granting his license that he intends to carry on such adaptation or preparation as is allowed by this rule.

D.—GENERAL.

29. Every license granted under these rules shall be liable to be forfeited on breach of any of the conditions subject to which it is granted.

30. If a person licensed to manufacture, possess or sell an explosive dies or becomes bankrupt, or becomes mentally incapable or otherwise disabled, the persons carrying on the business of such licensee shall not be liable to any penalty or forfeiture under the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884) or the rules thereunder for carrying on the business or acting under the license during such reasonable time as may be necessary to allow him to make an application to the authority granting the license for a new license in his own name during the currency of the unexpired portion of the original license. Such new license shall be granted on payment of one rupee.

31. The fees leviable under these rules shall be taken in the shape of impressed stamps. Applications for licenses or renewals of licenses shall, if not otherwise provided, be written on plain paper, the licenses themselves being issued on impressed stamps of value equal to the amount of fee leviable in respect of such licenses or renewals.

32. All licenses except licenses to manufacture an explosive under rule 12, or to possess explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class under rule 21, shall expire on the 31st December of the year for which they are granted. Licenses granted under rules 12, 21, shall be current for the terms therein specified. But the currency of a license may, unless the circumstances have so changed that the grant of a new license would either not be authorized under the Act and rules, or is deemed objectionable by the licensing authorities, on application previous to its expiration, be renewed on payment of the original fee.

33. When a license granted in accordance with these rules is lost or accidentally destroyed, a duplicate may be granted to the licensee on payment of a fee of eight annas.

34. Any person holding a license, or acting under a license, granted in accordance with these rules, shall be bound to produce the same when called upon to do so by any Inspector of Explosives or any Magistrate or by any Police Officer in charge of a police-station or by any Police Officer of higher rank.

35. All Magistrates or other authorities acting under these rules shall perform their duties subject to the control of their executive superiors and of the Local Government.

36. Any authority empowered to grant a license under the foregoing rules may, if he thinks fit, direct by an order written on the license that it shall have the effect of a like license under the Indian Arms Act (XI of 1878).

37. Any person lawfully entitled under the Indian Arms Act (XI of 1878) or the rules thereunder, to possess any explosive coming under the head of ammunition as defined in that Act may possess, without license under these rules, any such explosive in reasonable quantities for his own private use.

Conditions.

1. This license is given subject to the provisions of the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884) and the rules thereunder.

2. The license-holder shall keep records and accounts of all explosive manufactured, of all stock in hand, and of all sales, in such form as the Local Government may from time to time direct.

3. The license-holder shall exhibit his stock and his books of manufacture and sales to any Magistrate or to any Police Officer not below the rank of Inspector, when such officer may call upon him so to do.

4. The explosive shall be manufactured in a tent or any lightly constructed building exclusively appropriated for the purpose and separated from any dwelling-house by the distance—and by the same distances from any highway, street, public thoroughfare or public place. In the case of filling cartridges for small arms the operation may, if preferred, be carried out in the upper room of a building: Provided that no more than 5lbs. of explosive (except such as may be contained in safety cartridges) shall be in the room where the operation is being carried on. In all other cases the manufacture shall be carried on in a one-storeyed building.

(a) in the case of gunpowder, of 100 yards,
(b) in the case of an explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class or of the 7th (firework) class, of 50 yards,

5. All sales of explosive under this license shall be effected upon the premises shown on the face of the license.

6. An explosive shall not be sold to any child apparently under the age of 13 years.

7. The explosive possessed by the licensee shall be kept in a substantially constructed uninflammable building, approved by such officer as the Local Government may prescribe, or in a fire-proof safe, separated from any dwelling-house, highway, street, public thoroughfare, or public place by the distances laid down in condition No. 4, and made and closed so as to prevent unauthorized persons having access thereto, and to secure it from danger from without:

Provided that a quantity not exceeding 50lbs. of gunpowder, or in lieu of each pound of gunpowder not so kept 2lbs. of explosive contained in ammunition of the 1st division of class 6, or an equivalent quantity of an explosive of the 7th (firework) class, may be kept inside a dwelling-house, or in any building other than as last aforesaid, in a receptacle exclusively appropriated to keeping explosive:

Provided also that no explosive containing its own means of ignition [other than explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class], shall be kept in a fire-proof safe.

8. All articles or substances of an explosive or highly inflammable nature shall be kept at a safe distance from the explosive and from any room or part of a building, fire-proof safe, or receptacle containing the same, and no one entering such room or part of any building or such safe or receptacle shall have any iron or steel in their possession, or attached to or on their boots or shoes.

9. Neither the building exclusively appropriated for the purpose of manufacturing or keeping the explosive, nor the fire-proof safe or receptacle, shall have any exposed iron or steel (except machinery necessary for the manufacture) in the interior thereof.

10. All explosives exceeding 5lbs. in amount of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class or of the 2nd division of the 7th (firework) class, and all other explosives exceeding 1lb. in amount, shall be kept in a substantial case, bag, canister, or other receptacle made and closed so as to prevent the explosives from escaping, and if publicly exposed for sale or sold, the outermost receptacle containing such explosives shall have affixed the name of the explosives in conspicuous characters by means of a brand or securely attached label or other mark.

11. Each description of explosive which may be kept under this license, shall be separated by an intervening partition of such substance and character, or by such intervening space, as will effectually prevent explosion or fire in the one communicating with the other. Explosives of the same class, however, may be kept together; and gunpowder may be kept with safety fuses.

12.* The license-holder shall affix to his shop or place of business a sign-board as required by rule 11 of the rules framed under the Indian Arms Act (XI of 1878), and shall post up in his shop a copy of section 28 of that Act.

13.* The license-holder shall at the time of purchase endorse upon the license of every purchaser holding a license under Form VIII or IX of the forms prescribed under the Indian Arms Act (XI of 1878) the following particulars:—

(a) the name and address of the person who takes delivery of the article sold;

* These conditions are to be added only when the authority granting this license directs, by an order written thereon, that this license shall have the effect of a like license granted under the Indian Arms Act (XI of 1878).

(b) the nature and amount of articles sold;

and shall append his signature to the endorsement.

All explosives exceeding 5 lbs. in amount of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class, or of the 2nd division of the 7th (fire-work) class, and all other explosives exceeding 1 lb. in amount, shall be kept in a substantial case, bag, canister, or other receptacle made and closed so as to prevent the explosives from escaping, and when publicly exposed for sale or sold, the outermost receptacle containing such explosives shall have affixed the name of the explosives in conspicuous characters by means of a brand or securely attached label or other mark.

10. Each description of explosive which may be kept under this license shall be separated by an intervening partition of such substance and character, or by such intervening space as will effectually prevent explosion or fire in the one communicating with the other. Explosives of the same class, however, may be kept together, and gunpowder may be kept with safety fuzes.

11.* The license-holder shall affix to his shop or place of business a sign-board as required by rule 11 of the rules framed under the Indian Arms Act (XI of 1878), and shall post up in his shop a copy of section 28 of that Act.

12.* The license-holder shall at the time of purchase endorse upon the license of every purchaser holding a license under Form VIII or IX of the forms prescribed under the Indian Arms Act (XI of 1878) the following particulars:—

(a) the name and address of the person who takes delivery of the articles sold;

(b) the nature and amount of the articles sold;

(c) the date of sale;

and shall append his signature to the endorsement.

Conditions.

1. This license is given subject to the provisions of the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884) and the rules thereunder.

* These conditions are to be added only when the authority granting this license directs, by an order written thereon, that this license shall have the effect of a like license granted under the Indian Arms Act (XI of 1878).

2. The explosive shall be kept in a substantially constructed uninflammable building approved by such officer as the Local Government may prescribe, or in a fire-proof safe separated from any dwelling-house, highway, street, public thoroughfare or public place by the prescribed distances,* and made and closed so as to prevent unauthorized persons having access thereto, and to secure it from danger from without:

Provided that 50lbs. of gunpowder, or in lieu of each pound of gunpowder not so kept 2lbs. of explosive contained in ammunition of the 1st division of class 6, or an equivalent quantity of explosive of the 7th (firework) class may be kept inside a dwelling-house or in any building other than as last aforesaid in a receptacle exclusively appropriated to keeping explosive:

Provided also that no explosive containing its own means of ignition [other than explosive of the 1st Division of the 6th (Ammunition) class] shall be kept in a fire-proof safe.

3. All articles or substances of an explosive or highly inflammable nature shall be kept at a safe distance from the explosive and from any room or part of a building, fire-proof safe, or receptacle containing the same, and no one entering such room or part of any building or such safe or receptacle shall have any iron or steel in their possession or attached to or on their boots or shoes.

4. Neither the building exclusively appropriated for the purpose of keeping the explosive, nor the fire-proof safe or receptacle referred to above shall have any exposed iron or steel in the interior thereof.

5. All explosive exceeding 5lbs. in amount of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class or of the 2nd division of the 7th (firework) class, and all other explosives exceeding 1lb. in amount shall be kept in a substantial case, bag, canister, or other receptacle made and closed so as to prevent the explosives from escaping

6. Conditions.

1. This license is given subject to the provisions of the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884) and the rules thereunder.

2. There shall not be at the same time in the magazine an amount of explosive exceeding the amount specified in the license.

3. The magazine shall be used only for the keeping of the explosive or explosives specified in the license, and of receptacles for, or tools or implements for work connected with, the keeping of such explosive or explosives.

4. The interior of the magazine and the benches, shelves and fittings therein shall be so constructed or so lined or covered as to prevent the exposure of any iron or steel, and the detaching of any grit, iron, steel, or similar substances in such manner as to come into contact with the explosive, and such interior, benches, shelves, and fittings shall, so far as is reasonably practicable, be kept free from grit and otherwise clean; and in the case of any explosive being possessed which is liable to be dangerously affected by water, due precautions shall be taken to exclude water therefrom.

5. The magazine shall have attached thereto a sufficient lightning-conductor which shall be tested at least once a year.

6. Before repairs are done to or in any part of a room or magazine, it shall, as far as is practicable, be cleaned by the removal of all explosive or mixed ingredients thereof, and the thorough washing out of such room or part; and after such cleaning, these conditions shall cease to apply to explosive until such room or part of the magazine is again taken into it.

7. Except after such cleaning, all tools and implements used in, or in any repairs to, any part of the magazine shall be made only of wood, copper, or brass, or some soft metal or material, or shall be covered with some safe and suitable material.

8 Due provision shall be made by the use of suitable working clothes without pockets, suitable shoes, searching and otherwise, or by some such means for preventing the introduction into the magazine of fire, lucifer matches, or any substance or article likely to cause explosion or fire, or any iron, steel or grit; but this rule shall not prevent the introduction of an artificial light of such construction, position, or character as not to cause any danger of fire or explosion.

9. No person shall smoke in any part of the magazine.

10. No person under the age of 16 years shall be employed in or enter the magazine except in the presence and under the supervision of some grown-up person.

11. Two or more descriptions of explosive which may lawfully be possessed in a licensed magazine may be possessed in the same magazine if they are separated from each other by an intervening partition of such substance and character, or by such intervening space, as will effectually prevent explosion or fire in the one communicating with the other, subject to the following qualifications:—

(a) The various explosives of classes 1 (gunpowder), 2 (nitrate-mixture), 3 (nitro-compound), and 4 (chlorate-mixture), safety fuze belonging to the first division of class 6 (ammunition), and such of the various explosives of the 2nd division of class 6 (ammunition) as do not contain any exposed iron or steel, may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space.

(b) The various explosives of the 1st division of class 6 (ammunition) may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space.

(c) Such of the various explosives of the 2nd division of class 6 (ammunition) as contain any exposed iron or steel may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space.

(d) The various explosives of the 3rd division of class 6 (ammunition) may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space.

(e) The various explosives of class 7 (firework) may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space.

Save as aforesaid, two or more descriptions of explosives shall not be kept in the same magazine.

12. The licensee and every person employed in or about the magazine shall take all due precaution for the prevention of accidents by fire or explosion in the same, and for preventing unauthorized persons having access to the magazine or to the explosives therein, and shall abstain from any act whatever which tends to cause fire or explosion, and is not reasonably necessary for the purpose of the work in such magazine.

13. The license-holder shall keep a register of receipt and issue of explosives, showing, in the case of receipt —

(a) date of receipt;
(b) name and address of person from whom received;
(c) description of explosive received;
(d) amount received.

In the case of issue—

(a) date of issue;
(b) name and address of person to whom issued;
(c) description of explosive issued;
(d) amount issued.

By order,

ANNADA PROSAD BASU, Personal Assistant to Commissioner.

CALCUTTA, the 20th October 1897.

REVISED NOTICE.

Entrance Examination.

A TEST examination of private students for admission to the ensuing Entrance Examination will be held at the Office of the Inspector of Schools, Presidency Circle, 4, Dalhousie Square, Calcutta, on Monday, the 3rd, and Tuesday, the 4th January 1898. Such candidates only as reside in any of the districts of the Presidency Division including Calcutta will be admitted to the examination.

2. Only those candidates who do not appear from any school, i.e., who have not been in any school since the 1st of September next preceding the examination, will be treated as private students. They will be required to furnish satisfactory proof that they have not read in any school from that date. They must also produce certificates of conduct and progress in studies from the authorities of the last school where they read, or, in the case of those who have not been in any school for more than a year, from some other reliable authorities. The transfer certificates granted to them by the authorities of the schools in which they studied last, or the Registrar's receipt for the fee paid in the case of those candidates who previously appeared at the Entrance Examination, must be submitted in original along with the application for permission to appear at the test examination.

3. Bonâ fide teachers employed in any of the schools in the Presidency Division may be admitted to the examination if they can produce certificates of service and character from their employers, or from the Deputy Inspector of the district concerned.

4. Each candidate should submit to this Office, not later than the 22nd December 1897, his application for admission to the test examination, stating the following particulars:—

(1) Age; (2) residence; (3) father's name; (4) second language besides English; and (5) whether he appeared at any previous Entrance Examination.

5. The admission-fee for the examination is Rs. 4 for each candidate, and is to be remitted with the application within the prescribed date, after which a fine of Rs. 2 is to be imposed for each week's delay.

6. No private student will be admitted to the test examination unless accompanied, for the purpose of identification, by some person known to this Office.

7. Candidates who are sent up by this Office must appear at the Calcutta Examination Centre.

8. Those that reside at a distance from Calcutta may present themselves at the test examination held by the head-master of the nearest zilla or Government high school within the Presidency Division, on condition that they appear at the centre selected by the candidates from that institution. The head-master of such school is hereby authorised to sign the applications from these students, which must afterwards be countersigned by the Inspector. The fees and fines paid by such students, as per paragraph 5 above, are to be credited to the school fund.

F.A. and B.A. Examinations.

Deputy Inspectors, Sub-Inspectors, and bonâ fide teachers of recognized English schools in the Presidency Division, who have served as such for full two academical years, or for six months, in the case of those who have been admitted to a former examination of the same class, will be admitted to the above examinations on production of certificates of character and length of service (with dates) from their employers. Their applications must reach this Office on or before the 3rd January 1898.

2. Candidates for the B.A. Examination who are school-masters must send in their F.A. Certificates.

3. Candidates should carefully read the printed form of application and supply all the information required by the University, including the Registrar's receipt in the case of those school-masters who were admitted to a previous examination of the same class.

RADHIKA PRASANNA MUKHERJI,
Inspector of Schools, Presidency Circle.

1. The following agreement has been entered into by the Municipality with Messrs. Kilburn and Company, for lighting the town :—

ARTICLES OF AGREEMENT made this fifth day of January 1897 BETWEEN Edward Dunbar Kilburn and Henry Francis Brown of London Alfred Simson William Henry Cheetham W. D. Kilburn and C. C. Kilburn of No. 4 Fairlie Place in Calcutta all carrying on business as merchants and agents at 4 Fairlie Place aforesaid under the style or firm of Kilburn and Company (hereinafter referred to as the contractors) of the one part and the Chairman of the Municipal Commissioners of Darjeeling a body constituted under the Provisions of Act III of 1884 of the Council of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal (hereinafter called the Municipality) of the other part.

WHEREAS the Municipality are desirous that the public streets roads and private houses and other buildings within the Municipality should be lighted by electricity and the contractors have offered to supply electric lighting plant for the lighting of such streets roads and houses necessary therefor, and WHEREAS the Municipality at a special meeting held at the offices of the Municipality on the 11th day of February 1896 approved of the offer made by the contractors and resolved that such offer should be accepted and WHEREAS the said offer has since been modified by mutual consent to the extent hereinafter appearing, and WHEREAS a specification plans and drawings of the works to be executed performed and completed by the contractors signed by the contractors and by the Chairman of the Municipal Commissioners of Darjeeling and one of such Commissioners are annexed as Schedule A to this Agreement now it is hereby agreed between the parties hereto as follows:—

1. The contractors will at their own cost and expense provide materials of the best quality for the works specified required and set forth in the specification plans drawings and regulations (including Schedule A) hereto annexed and at the like cost and expense execute perform and fully complete all and singular the works specified required and set forth in the said specification plans drawings and regulations in the most substantial and workmanlike manner and to the complete satisfaction of an expert selected by the Municipality and approved by Government and will in all respect comply with and abide by the true intent and meaning of the said specification plans drawings and regulations and of this agreement.

2. The contractors will generally do execute and provide not only all the works and materials specified required and set forth in the said specification plans drawings and regulations respectively but likewise all such works and materials as are necessarily implied or may be reasonably inferred in or from the said specification plans drawings and regulations respectively for the execution and completion of the said works although the same may not happen to be therein expressly mentioned to be done executed or provided by the contractors the true intent and meaning of this agreement being that the works and materials hereby contracted to be done executed and provided shall include all that is requisite for constructing and completing the construction of the said works according to the said specification plans drawings and regulations.

The machinery and plant shall be constructed and erected in all respects according to such regulations for the protection of the public as may be approved by the Government of India and during such period of construction the contractors shall in all things be responsible for all injury or loss (not otherwise in this agreement provided for) to the public or to property.

3. The contractors will commence their work within six months from the signature of this agreement and will in all respect finish and complete all and singular the works specified required and set forth in the said specification plans drawings and regulations or to be implied therefrom or incidental thereto on or before the 1st day of September 1897 and in these respects time shall be deemed to be of the essence of the contract.

4. If the contractors shall from any cause whatever be prevented from or delayed in commencing the said works within the time specified in the last preceding paragraph this agreement shall be voidable at the option of the Municipality.

5. If the contractors shall not in all respects finish and complete all and singular the works specified required and set forth in the specification plans drawings and regulations or to be implied therefrom or incidental thereto on or before the said 1st day of September 1897 the contractors shall thenceforth pay to the Municipality the sum of Rs. 50 daily for every subsequent day until the said works shall be completely finished unless such default shall have happened owing to or in consequence of abnormal drought abnormal floods falling of trees landslips or other inevitable causes which the contractors shall not have it in their power to prevent or owing to the act neglect or default of the Municipality or any of their servants and agents.

6. For the purpose of estimating the value of materials in making the advance specified in paragraph 18 an engineer appointed by the Municipality shall be at liberty to value the same without prejudice to the liabilities of the contractors for the proper execution of the work.

7. If the Municipality shall think proper at any time or times during the course of construction to make any alterations or additions to or omissions in the works specified required and set forth in the said specification plans drawings and regulations the Municipality may give to the contractors written instructions for such alterations or omissions but the contractors shall not be considered to have authority for any alteration addition or omission or to make any claim for the value or otherwise in respect thereof without such written instructions.

8. Any such alteration addition or omission shall not invalidate this agreement but the value or cost thereof shall be determined by mutual agreement or in case of difference by arbitration as provided in paragraph 22 and the value thereof so ascertained shall be added to or deducted from the sum payable to the contractors by virtue of these presents and the addition in value (if any) shall be paid for in the same manner and at the same time as hereinafter is expressed for the payment of the ultimate balance under this agreement.

9. Any deviation made in the said works to be executed performed and completed by the contractors from the said specification plans drawings and regulations (except such deviation shall be so ordered as aforesaid) shall be only made if approved by the said engineer and shall be altered and corrected at the cost and expense of the contractors.

10. The Municipality will provide the land and way leave necessary for the works to be executed performed and completed by the contractors under this agreement and will afford all reasonable facilities to the contractors for carrying out and completing the works including the clearing of jungle and cutting trees when necessary at its own expense.

11. The contractors will on the 1st day of September 1897 or sooner as hereinafter provided commence the working of the installation or system of lighting by means of the plant machinery and works erected executed and completed by them pursuant to this agreement and will thereafter continue and be responsible for the proper and efficient working and repair of the said installation or system for the full period of five years from the said 1st day of September 1897 or sooner as hereinafter provided, the contractors hereby agreeing to supply the labour and other things necessary for the proper and efficient working of the said installation or system for that period. During such period of five years the contractors shall only be responsible for such injury or loss to the public or to property as may be caused by or be due to the negligence or wilful default of the contractors or those employed under them or under their orders. Subject to the last preceding sentence the Municipality shall as between them and the contractors be responsible for all injury or loss to the public or to property.

12. The contractors will by means of the plant machinery and works executed and completed by them furnish a regular and efficient supply of electricity for the purpose of giving light throughout the installation or system worked and maintained by them daily throughout the said period of five years from the hour of 5 in the evening of each day to the hour of 7 in the morning in the succeeding day.

13. In addition to the regular and efficient supply of electricity to be furnished under the last preceding paragraph the contractors will at the expense according to Schedule B hereto annexed and to the satisfaction of the Municipality at all times during the said period of five years when required by the Municipality so to do well and sufficiently and properly and according to the specification hereto annexed provide and lay down the wire posts and all requisite plant and do all the work necessary for the proper working of the same and make the necessary connections to the distributing points of the system worked by the contractors with all or any house or houses within the boundaries of the Municipality and furnish a regular efficient supply of electricity for the purpose of properly lighting such house or houses during the hours provided for in paragraph 12 and with the number of lights which the Municipality may sanction. Provided always that the contractors shall not be bound to supply such electricity to any house or houses after the total amount supplied under this contract for all purposes shall have reached the producing limits of the plant provided for in the specification hereto annexed. Provided also that the Municipality shall be at liberty to provide and lay down the said wire posts and plant and do all the required work and make the required connections either itself or through any other contractor without any interference objection or claim on the part of the contractors.

14. In the event of any temporary failure or interruption in the continuous supply of electricity for the purposes aforesaid during the period and hours mentioned in the two last preceding paragraphs the contractors will at their own expense rectify or remove the cause of the temporary failure or interruption with utmost despatch. If such temporary failure or interruption shall continue for any time in excess of 24 hours from the time such failure or interruption shall occur the contractors will pay to the Municipality the sum of Rs. 50 for every 24 hours or part thereof during which the failure or interruption shall continue. In the event of the non-payment on demand of any sum payable by the contractors under this paragraph, the amount thereof may be deducted by the Municipality from the ultimate balance to be paid to the contractors as hereinafter provided in respect of work to be executed performed and completed by them under this agreement if such balance shall not at the time of such default have been paid to the contractors; if at such time the said ultimate balance shall have been paid to the contractors then the amount in respect of which such default shall have been made shall be deducted from the monthly payment hereinafter agreed to be paid to the contractors for working expenses or otherwise recovered from the contractors who shall be personally reponsible therefor and the same shall also be a charge upon all their property situated in or near Darjeeling and in any way used in or connected with the subject of this contract.

15. Should temporary failure or interruption be of frequent occurrence or should any temporary failure or interruption become continuous such failure or interruption shall in either case be deemed to amount to permanent failure. The conditions constituting a permanent failure shall be determined by a committee constituted and appointed as hereinafter mentioned.

16. In the event of a permanent failure in the supply of electricity for the purposes aforesaid during the period and hours aforesaid the contractors will refund to the Municipality all sums which at the time of such permanent failure being so determined shall have been paid to them by the Municipality (other than monthly payments made to the contractors on account of working expenses as hereinafter provided), together with interests thereon at 4½ per cent. per annum from the date on which the failure shall have occurred minus the net profit realised by the Municipality during the period from the date of the commencement of the working of the installation or system by the contractors to the date on which the permanent failure shall be so determined, such profit consisting of the sums actually received by the Municipality from the supply of electricity to houses and the value of electricity supplied to or used in additional street lighting.

17. Provided always that the contractors shall not be liable to any payment deduction or refund in terms of the preceding clauses hereof in respect of any temporary failure or interruption or permanent failure of electricity if such failure or interruption or permanent failure shall have been occasioned by abnormal drought abnormal floods falling trees landslips or other inevitable causes which the contractors shall not have it in their power by proper diligence and supervision to prevent.

18. The Municipality will pay to the contractors the sums of money in this paragraph mentioned at the times and in the manner following that in to say—

SCHEDULE HEREINBEFORE REFERRED TO.

(Plans showing the position of all works to accompany this specification.)

Turbine-house.—To be a stone building with galvanised iron roof; the floor area to be 20 feet × 20 feet.

Turbines.—To be two of the Girard type, 25 wheels, each capable of developing 100 Brake horse-power at about 550 revolutions per minute, under an effective head of 275 feet; the bed-plate of each turbine to be connected to the bed-plate of an alternator, and the shaft of each turbine to the shaft of an alternator. Each turbine to be fitted with suitable governors and stop-valves.

Pipes.—Each turbine to have a steel supply-pipe sufficient in length and diameter to provide an effective head of 275 feet from the pentrough when the turbine is developing 100 Brake horse-power. The pipes to be flange jointed and fitted with suitable anchor bolts, and to be supplied with water through a stop-valve and galvanized grating in the pentrough.

Reservoir.—To be pucka built, capable of storing 40,000 cubic feet of water and of supplying the same to the turbine pipes through the pentrough.

Drains.—Galvanised iron drains, No. 20B.W.G., are to be laid from the Hospital Jhora and the Kotwali Jhora to the reservoir. These drains are to be so proportioned as to carry efficiently the water required from each jhora, and are to be laid on roads or carried on iron brackets.

Alternators.—To be two Crompton Brunton alternators, each capable of an output of 65 Kilowatts at a speed of about 550 revolutions, and giving a pressure of some 2,200 volts, each provided with a direct coupled exciter, and each coupled direct to a turbine.

Switches and instruments.—For each alternator as follows:- One double pole main switch and double pole main cut-out, one volt meter, and one ampere meter.

Transformers.—To be three in number, placed as shown in the plan, and having sufficient aggregate capacity for 200 16-c. p. and 12,008-c. p. lamps; the secondary pressure to be 230 volts. Each transformer in a water-proof case to be fitted with switches and cut-outs.

Mains.—High pressure mains to be run as shown in the plan, to be carried on patent oil insulators fixed to tubular poles of the Telegraph Department pattern, are to conduct the electricity from the alternators to the transformers. The mains are to be suited to the output of one alternator. Where these mains cross over public thoroughfares, they are to be carried in strict accordance with the Board of Trade Regulations for the safety of the public, except in so far as these Regulations are modified by the following provision:—The high-tension wires are to be carried on 23 feet and the low-pressure on 15 feet 8 inch poles. Mains are to be run in 200 feet spans as far as possible, and may cross the roads at any angle; discretion may be used as to their proximity to houses. Such arrangement, it is understood, must be approved of by a competent Engineer nominated by the Municipality.

Distributing Mains—These of bare copper carried on glazed stoneware insulators, fixed to tubular galvanized iron poles of the Telegraph Department pattern, are to distribute the electricity at a pressure of not less than 210 vaults to the lamps: they are to be run in accordance with the Board of Trade Regulations as modified by the Government of India for the safety of the public modified as aforesaid, and subject to the same approval.

Lamps.—To be 200 16-c.p. 220-volt lamps, each fitted with a water-proof fitting and clear glass globe, and affixed to one of the poles carrying the mains; they are to be supplied and erected in the thoroughfares of Darjeeling within the area now lighted.

Spares.—A suitable set of spare parts to be supplied by the contractors.

No. 1000G.

Advertisement of Sale of Government Estates.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Noakhali, will be put up to sale at the Noakhali Collectorate on the 9th November 1897, corresponding with the 24th Kartic 1304 B.S.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietors of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity. A deduction of 25 per cent. from the existing rents will be granted to the purchasers for collection expenses.

2nd.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid at once.

4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

7. Each tender must be accompanied by Government Promissory Notes, Calcutta Municipal Debentures, Currency Notes or Cheques for not less than 3 per cent. of the amount tendered.

8. When a tender is accepted, the deposit, when made in currency notes or cheques, will be held as a payment in part of the amount tendered, and will bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum from the date of acceptance of the tender, provided that the whole amount tendered is paid up in the manner hereinafter prescribed; but no debenture will issue for the sum so deposited so long as the entire amount of the tender is not paid.

9. The deposits on tenders, which may not be accepted, will be returned on application, and no interest will be payable on such deposits. If an allotment after being made is not taken up, and the full amount allotted is not paid as hereinafter prescribed, the deposit will be forefeited.

10. The rate at which a tender is made must be specified in rupees, or rupees and annas; a tender in which the rate is not so specified will be rejected as null and void.

11. The rates stated in a tender must not contain any fraction of an anna. If a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out, and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna.

12. The balance of the accepted tenders must be paid into the Bank of Bengal in the following instalments:—

One-fourth by the 22nd November 1897.	One-fourth by the 15th January 1898.
Ditto by the 15th December 1897.	Ditto by the 31st January 1898.

Parties whose tenders are accepted will have the option of paying all or any of the instalments before the dates specified above, and will receive interest from the date of such payment.

13. Anticipation interest will be paid on all instalments from the respective dates on which such instalments are paid into the Bank of Bengal to the 31st January 1898.

14. In the case of two or more tenders at the same rate a pro rata allotment will be made (if the tenders are accepted), but no allotment will be issued if the amount distributable on any tender is less than Rs. 500.

15. A minimum having been previously fixed, tenders will be opened by the Loan Committee of the Commissioners at 2-30 P.M. on Monday, the 8th November 1897, at the Municipal Office.

W. R. MACDONALD, Secretary to the Corporation.

Municipal Office, Calcutta, 22nd October 1897.

FORM OF APPLICATION FOR DEBENTURES.

I hereby tender for Rs. of the Municipal four (4) per cent. Debenture Loan for 1897-98, and agree to pay for the same subject to the conditions notified at the rate of rupees annas for every Hundred Rupees allotted to me.

I enclose Government Promissory Notes, Calcutta Municipal Debentures, Currency Notes, or a Cheque for Rs.

(Signed)

ACT No. IV OF 1897.

An Act to regulate the commutation of predial conditions or services in parts of Chota Nagpur.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law relating to the voluntary commutation of conditions or services appurtenant to the occupation of land other than the rent, in certain districts in the Chota Nagpur Division, and to provide for the compulsory record, with or without commutation, of such conditions or services as aforesaid, in the said districts;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Chota Nagpur Commutation Act, 1897;

(2) It extends to the districts of Hazaribagh, Lohardaga, Palamau and Singhbhum, in the Chota Nagpur Division; and

(3) It shall come into force in any such district or in any part thereof on such day as the Local Government may appoint in that behalf by notification in the Calcutta Gazette.

Repeal.

2. Sections 25 and 26 of the Chota Nagpur Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act, 1879, are hereby repealed. Ben. I of 1879.

Definitions.

3. (1) In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "Revenue-officer" means any officer whom the Local Government may from time to time appoint, by name or by virtue of his office, to discharge any of the functions of a Revenue-officer under this Act;

(b) "predial conditions or services" mean conditions or services appurtenant to the occupation of land other than the rent;

(c) "conditions" include rakumats and abwabs which, by custom, are payable by raiyats to their landlords, and

(d) "agricultural year" means the year prevailing in a local area for agricultural purposes.

(2) If it appears to the Local Government to be doubtful what year prevails in any particular area for agricultural purposes, the Local Government may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, declare upon what dates such year shall be deemed to commence and terminate respectively.

(Chota Nagpur Commutation Act.— Chapter II:— Commutation and Record of Predial Conditions or Services.—Sections 4-6.)

CHAPTER II.

COMMUTATION AND RECORD OF PREDIAL CONDITIONS OR SERVICES.

Voluntary commutation of predial conditions or services.

4. (1) When any land is held subject to any predial conditions or services, the tenant of such land, or the person who has the right to the benefit of such conditions or services, may apply in writing to the Revenue-officer for commutation of such conditions or services.

(2) The Revenue-officer shall thereupon cause a notice to be served on each of the other persons who, under sub-section (1), would have a right to make such application, and shall fix a day for considering the application; and on such day, or on any day thereafter to which the hearing may be adjourned, shall proceed to enquire into the matter and to determine the amount which, in his judgment, is fairly and equitably payable in commutation of such conditions or services.

(3) In calculating the said amount, the Revenue-officer shall have regard to the conditions or services to which the tenant is liable in accordance with ancient custom, and the money value of such conditions or services at the time of making such calculation:

Provided that, in the case of conditions or services other than rakumats, the amount payable in commutation shall not exceed one-fourth of the annual rent payable by the tenant.

Power to order record of predial conditions or services, with or without commutation.

5. (1) The Local Government may, in any case in which it is, in its opinion, expedient so to do, make an order directing either—

(a) that a record of all predial conditions or services to which the lands within any local area or any estate, tenure or part thereof are subject shall be prepared, and a commutation of such conditions or services made, by a Revenue-officer; or

(b) that a record as aforesaid be made by a Revenue-officer without commutation of such conditions or services as aforesaid.

(2) A notification in the Calcutta Gazette of an order under this section shall be conclusive evidence that the order has been duly made.

(3) The record of conditions or services shall be prepared in accordance with rules made under section 13.

Preparation of record.

6. (1) Whenever an order is made under section 5, the Revenue-officer shall thereupon proceed to prepare a record containing the following particulars, namely:—

(a) the name of each tenant;

(b) the name of his landlord;

(c) the rent payable for the lands held by him at the time the record is being prepared;

(d) the predial conditions or services to which all or any of such lands are subject;

(e) the amount which, in the judgment of the Revenue-officer, may fairly be deemed payable in commutation of such conditions or services, and

(f) such other particulars as may from time to time be prescribed by the Board of Revenue.

(2) In calculating the amount payable in commutation of such conditions or services, the Revenue-officer shall be guided by the provisions of section 4, sub-section (3).

Publication of record.

7. (1) When the Revenue-officer has prepared a record under section 6, he shall cause a draft of the same to be locally published in the manner and for the period prescribed in the rules made under section 13, and shall receive and consider any objections which may be made to any entry therein or to any omission therefrom during the period of publication.

(2) When objections have been considered and disposed of in accordance with the rules made under section 13, the record shall be finally framed and published in the manner prescribed by those rules.

(3) Separate drafts or records may be published under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) for different local areas, estates, tenures or parts thereof.

Appeals from orders of Revenue-officers.

8. (1) An appeal from any order of a Revenue-officer under this Chapter shall lie to the Deputy Commissioner, or, if the Revenue-officer is himself the Deputy Commissioner, then to the Commissioner of the Division.

(2) When an appeal has been disposed of by the Deputy Commissioner under sub-section (1), an appeal from his order shall lie to the Commissioner.

(3) The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to appeals shall, as nearly as may be, apply to all appeals under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2).

(4) Where the Commissioner concurs with the Deputy Commissioner the order shall be final, but in other cases an appeal shall lie to the Board of Revenue from the order of the Commissioner.

(5) Every appeal under sub-section (1) must be presented within three months, and every appeal under sub-section (2) or sub-section (4) must be presented within one month, from the date of the order appealed against.

Revision by Commissioner or Board.

9. The Commissioner or the Board of Revenue may direct the revision of any record prepared under this Chapter, or any portion of such record, at any time within two years from the date of the final publication of the record, but not so as to affect any decision from which an appeal has been preferred under section 8:

Provided that no such direction shall be made until reasonable notice has been given to the parties concerned to appear and be heard in the matter.

(Chota Nagpur Commutation Act.—Chapter II.—Commutation and Record of Predial Conditions or Services.—Chapter III.—Rules.—Sections 10-13.)

Commencement and effect of commutation.

10. (1) When the commutation of any predial conditions or services is settled under this Chapter for any local area or estate, tenure or part thereof, the settlement shall take effect from the beginning of the agricultural year next after the final publication of the record; and from that time the imposition of any predial conditions or services on any tenants of the local area or estate, tenure or part thereof shall be illegal, and all stipulations and reservations for rendering or requiring such conditions or services within the local area or estate, tenure or part thereof shall be void.

(2) The amount determined by a Revenue-officer under this Chapter to be payable by a tenant in commutation of predial conditions or services shall be deemed to be part of the rent payable by the tenant, and shall be recoverable accordingly.

Expenses of voluntary commutation

11. (1) The Revenue-officer may require any person applying for commutation under section 4 to deposit in advance the whole or any part of the estimated amount of the expenses to be incurred thereunder.

(2) When in any case the proceedings under section 4 have been completed, the Revenue-officer shall apportion the total expenses thereof between the landlord and tenant in such proportion as, having regard to all the circumstances, he may deem fit, and the amounts so apportioned shall be recoverable as an arrear of land-revenue.

(3) If the amount deposited by any person in pursuance of sub-section (1) exceeds the sum apportioned to him under sub-section (2), the excess shall, when the proceedings have been completed, be refunded to him.

Expenses of record and compulsory commutation.

12. (1) The expenses incurred by the Government in carrying out in any local area or any estate, tenure or part thereof any order made under section 5, or such part of those expenses as the Local Government may direct, shall be defrayed by the landlords and tenants of land in that local area, estate, tenure or part, in such proportions as the Local Government, having regard to all the circumstances, may determine.

(2) The portion of the aforesaid expenses which any person is liable to pay shall be recoverable by the Government as if it were an arrear of land-revenue due in respect of the said local area, estate, tenure or part.

Explanation.—The word "tenure" in this section includes all revenue-free and rent-free tenures and holdings within a local area, estate or tenure.

CHAPTER III.

RULES.

Power to make rules

13. The Local Government may from time to time, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, make rules—

(1) to regulate the procedure to be followed by Revenue-officers in the discharge of any duty imposed upon them by or under

(Chota Nagpur Commutation Act.—Chapter III.—Rules.—Section 14.)

this Act, and may by such rules confer upon any Revenue-officer—

(a) any power exercised by a Civil Court in the trial of suits;

(b) power to enter upon any land, and to survey, demarcate and make a map of the same, and

(c) any power exercisable by any officer under the Bengal Survey Act, 1875; Ben. V of 1875.

(2) to prescribe the mode of service of notices under section 4;

(3) to prescribe the manner of preparing records under Chapter II;

(4) to prescribe the manner in which and the period for which draft records shall be published under section 7, and the manner in which objections to a draft record shall be disposed of;

(5) to prescribe the manner in which records shall be finally published under section 7, and

(6) generally, for the guidance of Revenue-officers in carrying out the provisions of Chapter II.

Procedure for making and publishing rules.

14. (1) The Local Government shall, before making rules under section 13, publish a draft of the proposed rules for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

(2) The publication shall be made in such manner as may, in the opinion of the Local Government, be sufficient for giving information to persons interested:

Provided that every such draft shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

(3) There shall be published with the draft a notice specifying a day, not earlier than one month after the date of publication, on or after which the draft will be taken into consideration.

CHINA—HONGKONG.

Amendment to Chart No. 1466.

NOTICE to Mariners No. 567 of 1897 issued by the British Admiralty is republished for general information :—

On certain copies of Chart No. 1466, a rock of 3 fathoms situated 3 cables N. by E. (N. 11° E.) from the eastern extreme of Stonecutters island, Hongkong harbour, has been omitted.

The existence of this rock was made known by Notice to Mariners No. 530 of 1894, and it is also mentioned in Hydrographic Notice No. 1 of 1897, relating to China Sea Directory, vol. III, 1894.

An earthquake at Kudat, and a new island thrown up from the sea opposite Labuan.

THE following Notice to Mariners (No. 699 of 1897), issued by the Government of the Straits Settlements, is republished for general information :—

Advices from British North Borneo state that an earthquake was felt at Kudat on the 21st September.

About the same time, a new island was thrown up from the sea between Mempakul and Lambeidan, fifty yards from the mainland, opposite Labuan. The island is of clay and rocks, and measures 200 yards long by 150 yards broad, and 60 feet high. The island appears to be increasing in size.

Shoals northward of Claremont light vessel.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 550 of 1897) of the existence of the undermentioned shoals:—

1. A coral patch, with a depth of 5 fathoms on it, situated in a position with Ellis island beacon (as shown on Chart No. 2921) bearing N. 12° W., distant about 3 $\frac{6}{10}$ miles; and cape Sidmouth northern extreme N. 84° W.

   Approximate position, lat. 13° 25′ 50″ S., long. 143° 41′ 20″ E.

2. A coral patch, with a depth of 4¾ fathoms on it, is situated N. 29° W., distant 2 cables; and another patch, with a depth of 5 fathoms on it, N. 15° E., distant 2 cables respectively, from patch (1).

NOTE.—The vicinity of these shoals, around which depths of 7 to 11 fathoms were found, with uneven bottom, has not been closely examined, and there may be less water than that given. Mariners are therefore cautioned to adhere to the course recommended on the chart in this locality.

2. The receipts during the year amounted to Rs. 1,69,174, showing an increase of Rs. 5,016 over the receipts of the previous year. The increase is due to an increase in the income from miscellaneous items. The receipts from tolls on Railway traffic were Rs. 1,33,811 against Rs. 1,35,364 in 1895-96 and Rs. 1,14,468 in 1894-95.

3. The total expenditure amounted to Rs. 1,57,994, showing an excess of Rs. 21,412 over that of the year before. The wearing surface of the roadway of the bridge, as well as the superstructure, were repaired, and the whole of the longitudinal girders and the bridge pontoons were examined, cleaned and painted; the sheathings of the pontoons and the fenders were renewed and repaired, and other works necessary to keep the bridge in thorough order carried out.

4. As in the previous year, in addition to the ordinary receipts, the following sum which may be classed as extraordinary, was received:—

	Rs.
Interest on Government securities of Pontoon Renewal Fund ...	1,750

The corresponding expenditure under the same head was:—

Sinking fund on loan	3,644

5. The cost of lighting the bridge with electricity was Rs. 10,395 against Rs. 12,719 in 1895-96. In submitting the report for 1895-96, the Commissioners expressed a hope that the removal of the engines from the Armenian Ghat to the Commissioners' workshops on the other side of the river would result in some reduction of expenditure. A reduction of Rs. 2,324 has been shown during 1896-97.

6. The bridge was opened for the passage of vessels on 149 occasions, 104 of which were on the ordinary fixed days of the week and 45 on Sundays on special application. The number and description of vessels which passed through the bridge on these occasions are given in the table below:—

ADMINISTRATION OF WARD'S AND ATTACHED ESTATES FOR 1896-97.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

Darjeeling, the 22nd October 1897.

READ—

Report of the Board of Revenue on Wards and Attached Estates in the Lower Provinces for the year 1896-97.

Read also—

Government Resolution No. 896T R., dated the 9th October 1896, on the Board's Report on the Administration of Wards and Attached Estates for the year 1895-96.

THE Board's Report reached Government on the 3rd September 1897, that is, three days after it was due.

In the concluding portion of paragraph 4 of the Government Resolution on the Report for 1895-96, Sir Alexander Mackenzie directed that the manager of every estate in which the arrear amounted to more than 25 per cent. of the current demand should be called upon during 1896-97 to prepare a statement classifying the arrears into—

(a) those barred by limitation;

(b) those for which the tenants denied liability, which are to be sub-divided into two sub-classes, according as the tenant's objections were held to be (1) valid or (2) invalid;

(c) amounts admitted and legally recoverable, and which the tenants are at the same time able to pay and ought to be made to pay.

In accordance with these instructions, the Board have added a new Appendix III to the present report giving the information required, and also showing amounts which are legally recoverable, but which cannot be realized immediately on account of the poverty of the tenants, or for other adequate reasons. The statement applies to those estates in which the balance at the close of the year under report exceeded 25 per cent. of the current demand.

There were 73 Wards' Estates and 73 Attached and Encumbered Estates under the management of the Board during the year 1896-97, against 74 and 66 respectively in the previous year. Out of the total number of estates, 12 Wards' and 21 Attached and Encumbered Estates were under management for part of the year only, having been taken in charge or relinquished during the year.
